COMMEMORATIVES—A NEW FEATURE

Prices continue to Edge Lower Across Roll Market

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Beginning with this first issue of 1969, the Newsletter will add another feature—COMMEMORATIVES. In recent months there has been a noticeable increase in number of transactions in this area of the market and price changes will now be reported every other week—alternating with Mr. Haylings' column on Page Two. Actually, during the last several years, this most beautiful and interesting series of U.S. coins has basically been overlooked as an investment area. Yet most, if not all, of these low mintage coins have exceptional investment potential. In the affluent America of the next decade, commemoratives will be more and more popular with the true collector.

There are several advantages in collecting commemoratives. Each coin is different and a true work of art; a large percentage of the original mintage is still available in choice BU condition; and, at this point, a "type set" of commemoratives costs less than a BU set of any series of coins except the issues.

A "buyers market" exists across all charts as is pointed up by the number of "minus signs" posted this week. Only an occasional gain is noted as a roll here and there has not been included on the many selling lists which compete for the buyer's attention. Only proof sets and silver dollars remain relatively unchanged—yet, in neither of these areas is buying really a problem (except for those elusive dates in the Morgan series). The light and scattered sales which are registered fall into no category except for obviously filling in dates needed for store stock or roll sets.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transactions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A LONG LOOK AT THE JEFFERSONS

1951-P (28,689,500)

Only three Philly issues have lower mintages (50-P, 55-P and 58-P)—and of these the latter two were saved from circulation in far larger quantities. As early as 1956, the 51-P was worth triple face and by 1960 it was tagged at $25. In 1961-62 the price dropped back with the majority of the market—settling at a very attractive $15. Transactions in 1964 were recorded at $60. Today's price is again at the $25 level—a moderately interesting buy. Not often available in lots of more than a few rolls, this issue would move to $40 or so with a little concentrated bidding. As with most "P" mint issues after 1945, the investor should check for nice strikes and a bright color before buying.

1951-D (20,460,000)

A very impressive advance from $12 to $65 was registered in 1960—but the price quickly settled back to the $35 level by the end of 1961. The 1964 high was $85. In recent weeks this roll has been the subject of at least two "investment recommendations"—and at today's price of $30 per roll the investor should consider putting away a few choice rolls. Even mild demand seems to "dry up" the supply and, like the 51-P, it is unusual to see more than a few rolls offered at a time. The price tag should be in the $50 area within a year or so. Another moderately good buy.

1951-S (7,776,000)

This low mintage issue had already advanced to $12.50 per roll by mid-1954—and before the first "big push" (1960) it was priced at $50. Sales were then recorded at $115 in 1960 and the drop in 1961-62 was a moderate one—leveling at $90. The record high in 1964 was an impressive $330! Today's bid is $105 and dealers are complaining of receiving mostly inferior rolls at this price. Well struck rolls are particularly difficult to locate and "AU" coins very often end up in "average UNC" rolls. The investor will find it virtually impossible to find choice "full steps" rolls—but strictly BU rolls are available. Be especially careful with this one. Actually, the many poor quality rolls which abound subtract from the investment possibilities of this issue in spite of the low mintage figure. A nice roll for a BU roll set is recommended at today's price—but there are numerous better buys when it comes to five or ten roll lots.

1952-P (64,069,980)

Early in 1968 this roll was available for around $7—and at the price was attracting very little attention. As soon as a little bidding started, the relative scarcity became apparent and sales were suddenly registered in the $17.50 area. A bit of profit taking has reduced the ask level to $15 or so—right about where it should be. Only nominal gains are to be expected in the next year or so. The 1964 high, it might be added, was only $20.

1952-D (30,638,000)

There we have a roll which is surprisingly scarce in relation to a rather substantial mintage. In 1958 this scarcity wasn't recognized and the price was $7. Apparently it was in 1959 that there was a rush to buy this one—for sales reached $50 by the end of that year (the same as 51-S). By 1960 this roll was slightly ahead of the 51-S (at $120) but the 1961-62 slump brought the level back to $75. The 1964 high was still an impressive $185. Throughout 1968 this roll has slowly settled to its current $65 level—with bidders again interested at this price.

Actually, there are quite a number of rolls around, but these are mostly held by just a few investors. When this is the case, there is always the possibility of a bag or two suddenly appearing on the market. There are better buys—although again, picking up a choice roll for a BU roll set wouldn't be a bad buy at the current $65.

This one, along with the 52-P, has recently enjoyed a substantial price jump—from around $15 to at least $30, as a matter of fact. The current $26.50 price is also a result of profit-taking. The price history includes $30 in 1960; $25 in 1961-62 and a high of $50 in 1964. Today's price is adequate, however, and here too only normal gains are to be expected for the next year or so. Poorly struck rolls are often available at "bargain prices"—so again, be a "fussy customer"!

1953-P (46,772,800)

In 1960 this roll brought $12 and in 1964 sales were recorded at $18.50. At today's price of around $5.50 this is one of the best buys in the series. Actually, the mintage is considerably lower than the 52-P and indications are that about the same amount was saved from circulation. All 1953-P coins, by the way, seem to be relatively scarce—and the price tag for this nickel roll should be in the $12.50-$15.00 range. Buy now while they last. A little concentrated bidding would see the price move over the $10 line in a very short time. Highly recommended!

1953-D (59,878,600)

Here is another roll which falls into the same category as the 53-P although the mintage is somewhat higher. A recent "buy recommendation" by a leading investment publication has already moved the price from $4.50 to $6.00 (1964 high, $17)—but again a price tag of $12.50 or so would be more in line with scarcity. Both the 53-P and D are occasionally offered in small lots—but the dealers who are willing to sell these two rolls at today's prices are becoming few and far between. Now is the time to act on this one also. Also highly recommended!

1953-S (19,210,900)

At $18, this is perhaps the best buy of all the "S" mint Jeffersons. In 1959, rolls were bringing $8 and by mid-1960 transactions were recorded at $21. The peak 1964 market saw sales as high as $50. This roll could easily follow in the footsteps of the 52-S with a price tag close to $30 within a year. Another roll to be seriously considered at this time.

1954-P (47,917,350)

Another excellent buy at today's price of only $5 per roll. The mintage is almost identical to that of the 53-P and chances are that it is really not much more plentiful. In 1960 rolls were bringing $11 and sales were noted at $14 as early as 1963. Putting away a quantity of these rolls is highly recommended. When buying interest again centers on Jeffersons, these overlooked late dates are going to command a lot of attention. And if the rumored design change occurs (after the new Philadelphia mint is in full swing) these rolls could easily triple in value!

1954-D (117,183,060)

In 1960 this large mintage issue was selling for $11—and by late 1963 the price had moved to $14. Today's price is very attractive at $4 or so. In spite of the mintage figure, it is doubtful if this roll was saved in much greater quantities than other rolls in the 1952-55 span. A doubling of the price would only be reasonable—buy this one now.

1954-S (29,384,000)

This roll was bringing around $22.50 in 1964 and today's ask level is $8.75. Although the mintage figure is in its favor, both the 54-P and 54-D are better buys at approximately half the price. However, it is interesting to note that this issue may be the scarcest of the series in sharp strike "full steps" condition. Even "choice" rolls lack considerable detail. A really well struck roll would be an excellent investment—but finding one is the problem.

ROLL MARKET SLUGGISH Prices Mixed; Scattered Bidding Recorded

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

This week's price changes are almost evenly divided between gains and losses—and, in most cases, these changes have been small. Still, much of the material recently offered is still on the market. Sellers, however, seem in no hurry to lower ask levels except in scattered cases. On the other hand, a number of dates across the charts have not appeared on selling lists and the fact that buyers have edged their bids higher hasn't brought these particular rolls out of hiding.

As has been true for several weeks now, buyer interest seems to fit no discernable pattern. Two or three issues in each series seem to be in demand and then, the following week, two or three different dates appear on the various "want lists". This week interest is high for the 1957 and 1960 proof sets at the current $6 level; both 1940-S quarters and halves are receiving numerous bids; sales have been noticeable for both 1955-P and 1955-S dimes (but the 1955-D is generally ignored). Bidding is also on the increase for a number of the later Jefferson rolls (1953-P & D, 1954-P & D, etc.)—and the "not quite so common" Morgan rolls in the $60-$75 range are receiving quite a lot of attention.

Single coins—both "type" and the scarce dates in recent series—are being traded more and more frequently. In particular demand are Mercury dimes in choice BU condition and by the half roll or roll in circulated condition. Buyers are also unable to find very many gem full head S. L. quarters and W. L. halves in choice condition seldom remain available for long. Circulated W. L. 's (1916-PDS, 1917-D&S (obv) and the 1921's) are always in demand and "want lists" are getting longer for these elusive dates. It seems that the number of available 1909-SVDB's has increased considerably—and sales at substantially lower prices have resulted (around $100-$110 for XF's and $140 or so for BU's). Also in this "available" category are 1924-D and 1931-S Lincolns—with bargain basement prices prevailing.

market.

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

In the coming years the coin world is going to once again become acquainted with SPECULATORS!! As sure as I am sitting here writing this . . . they will arrive on the scene . . . DEFINITELY. There is nothing we can do to stop them from becoming a part of the hobby and investment AS SOON AS THEY SMELL OUT AN APPROACHING COIN BOOM! There is no doubt that a coin boom is on its way. Slowly, advertising pages in the coin publications are increasing in number. Subscriptions are climbing . . . in fact the advance in ad pages and subscriptions is truly amazing . . . right at this particular time. We are re-tracing the steps we took on the downward path . . . the climb back is steady. I have just completed a two-issue investment article for the magazine "Coinage." The article deals with recent realized prices at coin auctions. Comparing the latest figures . . . the advance over prices realized in 1965, 1966 and 1967 . . . is overwhelming!! Read the magazine and find out EXACTLY how much the hobby has recovered . . . MENTALLY . . . if not price-wise. The fact that coin buyers will now go to an auction and buy coins at higher BID prices . . . is a REAL indication that the hobby has made an amazing recovery. True . . . retail prices have not returned to the previous 1964 highs . . . we have a long way to go yet . . . but bidders are now willing to pay a greater percentage of the current retail price . . . for each coin on auction. During the past three years we found that auction bidders were inclined to bid and pay only approximately 70% to 75% of current retail. In good times they will pay over 90% of current retail! So . . . the auction . . . in bad times . . . suffers TWO WAYS. The retail market price drops . . . which is bad enough . . . but then the auction buyer decides to pay a smaller percentage of this declining retail price . . . so here is a SECOND drop! I am not going to reveal here how much of an advance has been made in prices-realized (percentage current retail) over what has been received at auctions during the past slump . . . but it is an interesting advance. If you want to know exactly how much and where to see a lot of charts that PROVE that there has been a MOST IMPORTANT CHANGE in coin buying sentiment . . . get the Coinage Magazine when it comes out . . . it will run for two months . . . two issues. Or . . . subscribe to my Communique . . . the Coin Investing Communique (CIC) which I personally edit and publish each month.

Getting back to the subject . . . SPECULATORS . . . with the boom will come the speculators! The real boom is still some time off . . . but it is coming. If we are going to have to deal with speculators we must try to get along with them . . . and to control their operations to some extent. Remember . . . speculators do perform a vital economic function. It is they alone who signal to a society that it is engaging in pursuits whose strategic consequences are dangerous. A certain amount of speculation is necessary. Many investment counselors believe that they bridge the gap between the investor and the market. This is particularly true in the coin investment. It is the speculator who is willing to take the risks that the long term investor is not willing to take. It is the buying and selling of the speculator that creates the buyers market that the investor needs if he is going to finally sell his holdings. Unless there is a market in which coins are being sold . . . and bought . . . constantly . . . the investment becomes stagnant . . . and it becomes extremely difficult to sell coins at the time and price you pick. The reason why the stock market is so attractive to the average investor is because of its liquidity. Here we have INSTANT sales. This has always amazed me. Within ten minutes or so a stock broker can locate someone who is willing to buy a stock . . . and this is possible even during down markets. Why is this possible . . . why would anyone want to buy a stock that is going down in value? It is because of the SPECULATORS in the stock market . . . that we find so much ACTIVITY. Perhaps it is abnormal activity but nevertheless it keeps the stock market MOVING constantly . . . and far from stagnant. It is what makes for constant turn-over . . . and unless we have constant buying and selling in an investment market . . . we are not going to see any action . . . we are not going to be able to find a steady stream of buyers for our stocks or our coins! Yes, speculators are a necessary evil . . . if kept within reasonable bounds.

Sometime in January I will try to report the feelings of the hobby and investment for the coming year . . . 1969. What sort of year is it going to be? In the meantime let me wish all of you a Happy New Year . . . may it bring about the actual realization of many of the things you wish for.

1969-S PROOF SETS HIT THE MARKET

Proof Sets in General show Increased Strength

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

1969-S proof sets have already made their appearance on the teletype circuits. The average bid price is currently around $12-$12.50—with ask levels ranging from $15 all the way up to $30. Scattered sales have been recorded at the $15 level. In the wake of this newest addition to the proof set lineup, the 1968-S set has shown considerably more strength. Not only have transactions been at a higher level (around $14.00) but bidding has been more frequent and for larger quantities (up to 1000 sets in some instances).

It is the opinion of some dealers and investors that the first wave of profit-taking in the 68-S sets is over—and that there will now be a substantial upward swing in price. It will, of course, remain for time to tell if this view is the correct one. In the meantime, it is also apparent that the proof set market in general is again becoming an area of interest to investors. Several minor advances were registered during the week and "buy orders" for such dates as 1957 and 1960 remain largely unfilled.

Since it probably won't be long before the 1969-S proof coins are being traded by the roll, here is the latest rundown on the ask prices for the 1968-S versions:

Cents	$ 40	Quarters	$125
Nickels	$ 40	Halves	$115
Dimes	$290

Trading is currently rather light in these rolls—with the dimes and quarters still sparking the most interest. If proof sets continue to be produced in San Francisco even after the new Philly mint is in full operation, a series of several years of "S" mint proof coins may well become of interest to a wide range of collectors. There have been rumors in both directions, as usual, as to which minting facility will take over the production of proof coinage. However, at $5 per set it would seem logical that the mint which could turn out the most sets would be chosen. But then, who said logic has anything to do with it!

This Week's Market

CENTS: Very little change; 1955-S rolls have received quantity bids at $13.50 and the small date Philly roll has traded at $155.

NICKELS: An almost complete list of Jeffersons has been offered (many dates at slightly lower levels); transactions remain scattered.

1937S - Available now at $160
1939S - Bid moves up to $330; none offered
1942P(t2) - Sales at a lower $200
1947S - Offered at an attractive $21.50

DIMES: Only minor fluctuations recorded; trading is still light.

1949P - Up another $5; bid now at $290
1950S - Offered this week at $315
1955D - Available in quantity at $40

QUARTERS: Again a few "minus signs" have been registered; selling lists appear to be somewhat shorter.

1940S - A roll or two is available at $195
1948D & S - Both of these edge lower 1955D - Further sales at around $130

HALVES: Prices are mixed for both the Walking Liberties and the Franklins; sales seem bit more frequent than in recent weeks.

1946D - Sales noted at a higher $170
1949D - Bid moves up slightly—now $295
1949S - Sales at a lower $325
1951D - Also up slightly; now bid at $305
1951S - Choice rolls are offered at $160

DOLLARS: Changes are about evenly divided between gains and losses; the later New Orleans rolls are offered in some quantity.

1880P - Not easily located; bid up to $67.50
1887S - Bid at a higher $260
1891P - Sales noted at $150
1891O & 92O - Both move $10 higher
1889P - Again available at $405

PROOF SETS: A little more strength is being shown—several dates have edged forward.

1950 - Transactions at a higher $117.50
1955 - Bid moves up to $27
1960 - Hard to locate at $6.25 bid
1968S - Bid moves up to $14
1969S - First sets appear; sales at $15

GOLD: The following prices are for common date uncirculated gold pieces. Better dates and gem specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A LONG LOOK AT THE JEFFERSONS

(Conclusion)

1955-P (8,266,200)

As early as one year after issue this low mintage roll was bringing $9—and by late 1960 sales were registered at $47.50. The peak 1963-64 market saw transactions as high as $125. Today's price of $42 is not an unattractive one—yet there are very few buyers. Although rolls were saved from circulation in rather large quantities, the "magic '55" popularity could easily carry this roll back into the $60-$75 range when investors again get around to Jeffersons in earnest. Be very careful when buying—there are many dark and weakly struck rolls on the market.

1955-D (74,464,100)

Here is one of the three or four best buys in the entire series. Today's price of $5 or so is at the lowest level since 1959 (sales were noted at $22.50 in 1963)—yet very few rolls are offered. Even the currently offered Jeffersons lists seldom include more than a roll or two and this is often the first date to find a buyer. Several investors have recently expressed the opinion that raising the bid would only create more buyer interest and would still leave them without any more rolls. However, quietly accumulating a quantity of these rolls at the current price has also proven to be a problem. A highly recommended investment.

1956-P (35,885,384)

In 1960 this roll made its first jump—to $8; in 1963-64 sales were recorded at $11.50. Chances are that this issue was saved in about the same quantity as the much more publicized 1955-P—yet the current selling price is $4.50. At the present time there is little difficulty in finding rolls—but the record shows that when serious bidding starts the supply dries up almost immediately. Another highly recommended issue—likely to triple your investment when the Jeffersons again have their turn at bat.

1956-D (67,222,940)

In price history, this roll has always been just behind the 1956-P (the 1963-64 record high was $9). Actually, the mintage figure is somewhat lower than the 55-D—yet in the current market place rolls are relatively easy to buy. Still, a less than double face the investor can't go wrong. These very low priced rolls in the 1953-60 range are going to come to the forefront when the Jeffersons again reach the center of investment interest. It may take the long rumored design change to bring this about. It was the "silver flurry" that caused such frantic buying recently in the Roosevelt dimes which were previously available at somewhat less than double face. With collectors, Jeffersons are more popular than Roosevelts—and it will be the wise investor who has a bag or two of these late Jeffersons before the buying begins.

1957-P (39,655,952)

Sales for this one were recorded at $13.50 in 1964; today's price is an attractive $4.50. This is another of those rolls which can be found rather easily in the current market—but which suddenly disappears when the bidding starts. This is not a really large mintage in terms of what came along soon after and the number of bags saved from circulation is probably about the same as the 1956-P or 1955-P. Picking up a lot or two of this one will also prove to be a smart move—recommended.

1957-D (136,828,900)

In 1963-64 sales were registered at $7—today's price is only $2.60. At this level, the downside is obviously not a very important factor. However, indications are that this roll was saved in large quantities and that buyers for the next few years at least will always find all they need. Still, at $2.60 you may want to take a flyer—look at what recently happened to the 1957-D dime (with a similar mintage).

1958-P (17,963,652)

Sales reached $35 in 1964 and as early as 1960 rolls were bringing $13.50—more than the current selling level of $10-$11. Although the relatively low mintage figure has insured a definite popularity, this issue was saved in rather substantial quantities. Still, when "the buying" begins it is almost certain that this one would again move into at least the $20 range. Another moderately attractive buy at current levels.

1958-D (168,249,120)

A top price of only $4 was reached in 1963-64—and, as with the 1957-D, bags are rather common. When taking that "flyer", the 57-D would be a better choice.

1959-P (28,397,291)

Here is another excellent buy. Transactions reached $12.50 in 1964 and the current price tag is only $4.50. Indications are that there are at least as many BU rolls of 1958-P as 1959-P—perhaps more. Buy this one now—but again, be a "fussy customer" as many rolls are very dark and are difficult to resell.

1959-D (160,738,240)

About the same story here as with the 57-D and 58-D—plenty of rolls available. Only time will tell if there is a "sleeper" or two in these late Denver rolls. One thing to be considered is that many late BU bags were dumped into circulation during the depressed market of 1965-66. Chances are that the Denver bags were the victims in most cases.

1960-P (57,107,602)

Sales reached $6 in 1963—yet rolls are now available at $2.60 or so. Recently a leading investment advisory service has noted that this issue has a much better than average potential and that again the downside risk is almost nil. A bag (available at $240-$250) would be an excellent speculative investment.

1960-D thru 1964-P & D

As has been stated, most if not all of these rolls in the early 60's were saved in substantial quantities. Which ones were returned to circulation in quantities sufficient to cause a relative scarcity in the coming years in anybody's guess. All are currently available at just a little over face. Although playing around with a few bags may prove to be unprofitable, current prices preclude any real loss. Some more adventuresome investors might want to pick a date or two and see what happens. The 1961-P and 1962-P rolls look a bit better than the others.

BU ROLL TRADING VERY LIGHT 1968-S & 1969-S Proof Sets Remain Strong

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

In general, trading has remained extremely light in the roll market throughout the week. Potential buyers do not seem to be impressed with the lowered ask levels which have been registered by all series—and, in most cases, their bids have been lowered accordingly. Of course, there are still those scattered dates in each series which are in some demand—but even in those cases the bids are not making much of an advance. As has been the pattern for several weeks now, the light sales which are recorded seem to be for miscellaneous rolls needed for store stock or for filling in the blank spots in roll sets. Quantities of any particular issue are not of much interest to most investors at this point.

Numerous early dates in the Lincoln series have appeared by the BU roll—1909-VDB, 1925-P, 1928-P, 1929-S, 1930 P & S, 1932-P, 1933-P & D and 1934-D. These are mostly described as choice rolls and are priced rather attractively. The problem seems to be the fact that few coin shops need fifty of any of these issues for store stock. Chances are that in ten piece lots these rolls would soon find new (if scattered) homes. On the subject of early Lincolns, a few buyers are now apparently convinced that the bottom has been reached for the scarce "S" and "D" mint rolls. Bids for up to ten rolls of most of these issues are appearing regularly. True, in most cases, the bids are rather low—but interest in circulated rolls of 1910-S thru 1916-S, the early "D"s and even the rolls in the 1920's is an encouraging sign for those investors who have witnessed very little activity in the last few years.

The 1969-S proof set is suddenly receiving bids of $16.00—with only sporadic offerings at around $18.00. Bags of cents from all three mints are already trading—with the Philly and Denver issues being offered at $60-$65 and the San Francisco version at $100 or so. Even the 1969-D half dollar is already on the market—with rolls available at $12.50. The BU roll chart on page three is in the process of being revised to include 1969 coins and to make room for the addition of the 1970 issues a year from now. This revision should be ready for inclusion in a week or two.

reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

A sign of the times . . . and one of the reasons for our expanding INFLATION is the use of credit cards this past year. Users of the BankAmericard and Master Plan card can conveniently charge up to $1000 on each card. On top of this they can quit using their gasoline credit cards and instead change over to BankAmericard or Master-Plan . . . or some other similar card . . . and charge their gasoline. In this manner they can delay payment on current gasoline bills for a year or more. Buying gasoline on regular gasoline credit cards makes it necessary to come up with the money within a month after purchase . . . not so with these new kind of credit cards. A driver using $700 worth of gasoline yearly can now defer payment on this sizeable expenditure until a year or more has gone by . . . if he is willing to pay the interest charges each month.

What I am trying to put over here is that the average man is now able to boost his spending rate to the extent of $1000 to $2700 is he uses all of the many credit systems now available. He is able to spend this much more per year because he is deferring payment on ordinary things . . . small items . . . that would usually be paid for in cash . . . out of his weekly income . . . as he went along. But . . . not so anymore!

To think that inflation can be cured easily under such conditions . . . and these are just a few of the inflation "spurs" . . . is to think unwisely. Already President Johnson is reported to be readying a tremendous spending program that he will attempt to put through just prior to Mr. Nixon's entrance to the White House. His reasoning, I suppose, is that the new President will not have the time to study the new budget or to try to cancel out some of the programs . . . and so we would still find ourselves overspending during a great part of 1969. While Nixon is expected to act promptly on the inflation problem he is not superman and I believe that it will be well toward the end of 1969 before inflation is slowed down to a rate of 3% or so. It is now well above that and climbing.

If we can control inflation the coin investment will have a healthier climate in which to operate. As it is the business world expects a better business climate now that there is a Nixon victory. Most business leaders expect that steps will be taken to dampen inflation, that there will be tax incentives to spur growth and to help the cities with their problems. Many believe that there will now be less federal regulation . . . and we in the coin world can certainly go along with that hope. Still . . . some business people believe that inflation may now be out of control.

If the inflationary boom continues and is not controlled there are some who predict a recession for late 1970. If President Nixon does make a serious attempt to bring the price spiral under control there is some chance that he will bring about a slight recession. Therefore . . . it seems to be a choice between a serious recession and a slight recession. I am for the controlled inflation and controlled recession. If we have to slow down the economy a bit in order to save us from a complete collapse . . . I am for that 100%.

I do not believe the slowdown will be serious. It seems that there has been a need for a complete change of philosophy in Washington . . . at least the voters expressed this desire recently. Business does best when it operates in a climate of confidence and the coin business is certainly no different from any other business on down the main street. It too reacts in the same way. Business has to know the ground rules and it needs incentives to grow . . . it needs incentives to cause it to invest more and more in the economy of the nation . . . for the good of the nation . . . as a whole!

The Eisenhower-Nixon administration concluded the war in Korea, and gave this nation eight years of peace, controlled social progress, and economic prosperity . . . for the nation . . . and we shouldn't forget . . . for the coin industry too! True . . . things were not completely perfect . . . they never are. The record was not unblemished by any means, but nonetheless compare this record with the last eight years! And . . . as a coin collector or coin investor . . . compare this same eight year period with the Republican eight years . . . insofar as the coin hobby and investment is concerned! Particularly the last four years when the biggest coin bust occurred. Quite a different . . . wasn't there!

The recent Administration has brought about years that have seen an increasingly bloody war, declining U.S. prestige abroad, anarchy in our cities and schools and great leaps in the crime rate. I have already gone over the experiences that we in the coin industry have undergone during the past four years. The record of events that are jammed into this depressed period is PRETTY bad . . . putting it mildly! Yes, I believe that future happenings will clearly tell us that our nation . . . at election time . . . was in great need of a change in leadership.

"BARGAIN OFFERINGS" PREVAIL; SALES ARE LIGHT

Washingtons record losses Across Entire Series

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

This week was apparently "sock it to 'em time" for the Washingtons. Thirty-five different dates (mostly pre-'55) have been offered at lower prices—most of them in at least ten roll lots and most of them by the same dealer. Unfortunately, lot quantities of these rolls in the $50-$100 range seldom encourage sales—most dealers and investors feeling that still lower ask levels are yet to come. This major offering, as a matter of fact, virtually constitutes ten BU roll sets, 1941 to date—lacking mainly the lower priced rolls after 1955. The pre-1941 rolls were offered in smaller quantities—yet sales in this area were also few and far between. The Washingtons "peaked" several weeks ago—in the current cycle—and a large roll offering at this point will more than likely remain on the market for some time.

On the subject of "peaks", the fact is that along with the Washingtons, both the Roosevelts and Franklins obviously reached their "highs", for this cycle, sometime back. The questions, of course, is which area of the market will register major gains next. Dealers, investors and advisory publications all have their own opinions—and they rarely agree. However, from these opinions it is possible to see a trend—and this trend seems to point toward proof sets and Jefferson nickels. Silver dollars are also favored by some. It is clear that there are still "bargain offerings" in these areas at present. Perhaps the smart investor who favors this material is quietly putting away proof sets and selected nickel rolls. Many of the current prices are certainly attractive and a little "bargaining" still often produces results. When a major advance comes along, it is amazing how quickly the one hundred set lots of such proof sets as 1954, 1956, 1958, etc. disappear!

This Week's Market

CENTS: Pretty much the usual picture—several prices edge lower; very few sales recorded. The 1960-P small date roll was traded at $155.

NICKELS: Gains outnumber losses this week; volume remains low.

1938S - Offered now at $162.50
1939S - Up another $5: bid at $335
1942P (t2) - Also up—with bids at $200

DIMES: A few Roosevelts slip lower; very little bidding recorded.

1946S - Offered in quantity at $42
1953S & 1955S - Both edge lower 1957D - Available now at only $14
1958P Offered in quantity at $21

QUARTERS: Virtually the entire Washington series moves lower in the wake of quantity offerings of most dates.

1935P & 1936P - Both are offered at $190
1940S - Also available at a lower $190
1946S - Offered now at $127.50
1947S - Offered now at $97.50
1948D & 1952S - Both are available at $72.50
1955P - Offered now at $37.50
1955D - Offered now at $127.50

HALVES: Prices are mixed—with a few of the later dates showing minor gains.

1942D & 1943D - Difficult to locate with bids $15 higher 1948P - Available this week at $160
1953S & 1954S - Both edge lower again

1959P & 1960P - These two move slightly higher

DOLLARS: Only slight adjustments noted: very light traded recorded. Common date BU bags are still offered at around $2375.

1888O - Available now at $70
1925S - Bid moves up to $265

PROOF SETS: It's lower ask prices all the way this week—with most sets after '55 offered in 100 to 500 set lots.

1942 (6 pc.) - Bid moves up to $115
1964 - Sales noted in quantity at $8
1968S - Lots of 100 sets traded at $14
1969S - Sales in the $15-$16 range

GOLD: The following prices are for common date uncirculated gold pieces. Better dates and gem specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A THOROUGH LOOK AT THE EARLY WASHINGTONS—1932-1940

Editors Note: With this issue we are beginning an up-to-date and thorough analysis of the early Washingtons quarters. This study will examine the investment possibilities of both BU and circulated coins. In the past few months there has been a definite increase in buying interest for many dates in the 1932-1940 group—both choice BU specimens and selected circulated rolls are sharing in this demand.

1932-P (5,404,000)

The first year or two of any new issue is usually saved in considerable quantity—and the 32-P quarter is no exception. As a matter of fact, this coin was intended as a commemorative issue—marking the two-hundredth anniversary of Washington's birth—and there was considerable public interest in the new design. Since less than half a million pieces were produced at each branch mint, most of the new quarters which were saved in jewelry boxes and bureau drawers were from the Philadelphia mint. If it is true that fairly large quantities of first issues are saved in quantity, it is also true that most of them are poorly preserved—and many are put back into circulation years later when the "new design" is no longer a novelty. This accounts for the relatively large number of "uncs with cabinet friction" and high grade circulated 1932-P's. Strictly choice BU specimens, on the other hand, are not so easily located. In recent years, the offering of an original BU roll has become extremely infrequent and a lot of five or ten pieces is now considered a lucky find.

The current teletype bid is $10 per coin—with the ask price usually around $11-$11.50. "Bargain offerings" on lots of several pieces do not occur. The 1969 Guidebook listing is $13.50 (this is one of the few Washingtons that currently brings full Guidebook price)—and retail ads list choice BU's in the $13-$15 range. Actually, it is only from the most reliable dealers than one can expect a strictly choice BU coin when ordering 1932-P quarters. Otherwise, the chances are excellent that the mail order customer will receive one of those specimens which spent a few years kicking around before being placed in a collection or in store stock.

The upside potential for the '32 Philly is bright—with a price tag in the $25 area likely within the next few years. This is one of those issues, by the way, which sells very easily.

Another investment to be considered is the circulated roll of 1932-P's. Today's teletype price is around $25; a more realistic price would be in the $40 area—or at least one dollar per coin. Except for those coins which were saved in the early years in XF-AU condition, the vast majority of the remaining pieces were circulated for a long time and ended up very well worn. Most of the circulated rolls offered are in "average circ" condition—which translated into plain English means Fair to About Good. These rolls contain, of course, the coins which will be of least interest to collectors and dealers in future years. The 1932-P will never be scarce enough to excite much buyer interest in AG condition. It is the middle grade circulated coins, as a matter of fact, which seem to be the most elusive—and are the most sought after by collectors who are assembling circulated sets. Circulated rolls of 1932-P—full rim VG and better—will show considerable appreciation within the next few years and the eventual quick sale of such desirable rolls is assured.

This is one of the most sought after of all twentieth-century coins. It is in extremely strong demand in all grades from choice BU to the well-worn AG specimens. Obtaining a BU roll is virtually out of the question and circulated rolls are almost never offered. Recently a roll described as "averaging AG" brought $875 on one teletype circuit—and this is the only recorded sale of a full roll of 1932-D's in over a year.

The 1969 Guidebook listing for uncirculated copies is $225—just about what a choice piece brings in today's retail marketplace. However, finding a choice 1932-D is not an easy matter. An occasional single is offered on the tapes in the $200 area—but most of those which are described as "strictly BU" turn out to have that undesirable "cabinet friction" mentioned in connection with all 1932 quarters. An investor and/or collector who is paying $200 or so for a single coin must be certain that his investment is a wise one—less than choice 1932-D's should be avoided in favor of the more easily salable lower grades. The upside potential, however, for a gem 1932-D could easily be in the $500 area within a few more years. The true scarcity of choice pieces together with the increasing number of affluent collectors to whom price is secondary to quality assure this scarce coin a very bright future.

Just as strong an investment are the circulated 1932-D's—especially in the VG-VF range. True, there is always a market for an AG-G coin of this date, but most collectors want a specimen with full rims and more detail. Even to a greater extent than the Philly issue, the Denver coins which were not taken from circulation early remained for a long time—and there is a predominance of AG-G pieces. Today's price for a FINE coin is about $40—not really very much more than the $30-$32 asked for the well-worn pieces. At the current level, the FINE coins are much better buys, will appreciate faster, and will sell more easily at a later date. "Bargains", by the way, in 1932-D's are just not found—there are always more buyers than sellers and the present ratio can do nothing but increase in favor of the investor who has a position in this key issue.

Whereas a great percentage of the 32-P's and 32-D's remained in circulation for many years, a relatively large number of the 32-S's were pulled out early. Thus on today's market there are as many F-AU specimens as there are AG-VG pieces—with many "rubbed uncs" also available. This is not to say that 1932-S quarters are common—just that they are somewhat more easily located than the Denver issue in almost any grade (except, perhaps, AG-G). A buying "promotion" a couple of years back brought many circulated rolls on to the market—most of them FINE and better. These rolls, for the most part, did not change hands during this "promotion" and hence probably still remain in vaults and dealer stock. Most retail ads show the 32-S is nearly all grades—with far fewer 32-D's listed. Prices, however, are almost identical for grades up to FINE. Although demand for the San Francisco issue will always be strong, buying circulated 32-D's in FINE seems to be a better investment.

Regarding strictly choice BU prices, the 1932-S is far from plentiful. Today's price of $95 or so is attractive if gems can be located. The upside potential for really nice specimens is $150-$200—but be very careful not to end up with a coin which, when offered for sale in the future, must be described as "rubbed" or as having "cabinet friction". As has been mentioned, there are a great many 32-S's on the market which are somewhat less than choice. The ratio is perhaps twenty inferior specimens to each every choice one.

ROLL TRADING REMAINS LIGHT Gold Prices Register Sharp Gains Late in the Week

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Dealers seem to have grown weary of lowering proof set ask levels in order to encourage sales—many of the recent long selling lists have just stopped appearing. Whereas in the past few weeks numerous offerings had included one hundred, two hundred (or occasionally five hundred) each of several dates, this week's tapes showed only a "normal" number of proof sets scattered among the various other offerings. It could be that it finally became clear that a super-abundance of sets gives the investor the impression (often a correct one) that lower prices are yet to come. Another possibility, of course, is that many of these sets were traded among dealers by telephone. Prices were—and still are—very attractive for virtually all proof sets.

While on the subject of expecting lower prices when there is a large quantity of material being offered—last week's over-abundance of Washington rolls remains, for the most part, on the market. And, yes, prices have been edged lower again this week for "ten roll lots" of most dates in the 1941-1955 group. For those who will take the time to examine these selling lists there are a number of excellent buys in rolls which are quite elusive under other circumstances.

All five of the 1969 Denver rolls are already trading—and, for the most part, at only a nominal premium over face. The cent bags record sales at $60; the nickels are bid at around $250 per bag; and the dimes are offered at $5.75 per roll. Bids are noted in the $11-$11.50 range for the quarters and the halves are available in quantity at $11.50. The San Francisco cents (1969) are bid in the $85-$87.50 range with sales noted at $95. The action surrounding the 1969-S proof set is, thus far, very mild. This is probably due to the fact that delivery of this new set has been widely scattered and no dealer has stock enough to really get going. (An interesting note: an unconfirmed report has been received that at least one dealer has received several checks back from the mint with a notice that duplicate orders are not being accepted!)

This Week's Market

CENTS: Trading remains sluggish at best; numerous BU bags in the 40's and 50's are subject to "reasonable offers".

- 1948S - Offered in at least a 75 roll quantity at $13
- 1950S - As with the above, offered in quantity at $12.50
- 1955S - Traded in ten roll lots at $13; plenty available

NICKELS: Changes are at a minimum level—with a number of the later dates experiencing mild investor interest. BU sets have traded at $105.

- 1939S - Still none offered to bidders at $335
- 1945P - Up slightly—with bids now at $83
- 1950D - "Original bank wrapped rolls" are available at $425

DIMES: A few minor losses are scattered across the chart; most issues remain firm in spite of very light sales.

- 1949P - Still very elusive at $290 bid
- 1952S - Relatively scarce roll now available at $82.50
- 1955S - Offered at $24 in lots of ten or more rolls

QUARTERS: Most of last week's "bargain offerings" are still on the market—many at slightly lower levels. These rolls were all listed for sale in "ten roll lots".

- 1943S - Available now at $140

- 1946D - Often very difficult to locate; ask is now only $80
- 1949D - Another relatively scarce issue; offered now at $132.50
- 1951S - Bucking the trend with bids at a higher $180
- 1955D - Steady this week at $127.50 ask

HALVES: Several Walking Liberty rolls register gains (with few offered); Franklins are lightly mixed with little trading recorded. BU Franklin sets have traded this week at $165.

- 1935P & 1936P - Both receive $10 boosts—with bids of $110
- 1939S - A very scarce roll—offered at $440
- 1942D & 1943D - Both are up again; none are offered to anxious bidders
- 1946D - A few "choice" rolls are available at $170
- 1953S - Available in 5 roll lots at $66.50

DOLLARS: Though price changes have been few, more and more dates are appearing on "want lists".

- 1879O - Up slightly—with bids noted at $90
- 1885S - Finally appearing on the market—at $250
- 1891O - Recently quite elusive; offered now at $225
- 1926P - "Choice original rolls" have been traded at $145

PROOF SETS: Far fewer sets have appeared on "selling lists" this week; apparently dealers have tired of lowering the ask levels.

- 1960 - Sales recorded as high as $6.25
- 1964 - Sales of 100 sets again registered at $800
- 1968S - Quantity sales again recorded at $14
- 1969S - Surprisingly little activity so far; the bid is steady at $15

GOLD: The following prices are for common date uncirculated gold pieces. Better dates and gem specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

BID columns show the highest price

ASK columns show the lowest price

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

As I am typing this article I am watching and listening to the inaugural proceedings. I have the feeling that the country and Richard Nixon are off to a good start. His choice of cabinet members is an indication of his ability as a leader who will undoubtedly solve the problems of this great nation.

The problems of the country . . . as a whole . . . come first . . . but it is natural for those of us who are a part of the coin world to hope for a betterment in our own little segment of society . . . the coin collecting hobby. As the nation becomes more affluent . . . as we gain more and more hours of leisure time . . . so shall the nation's hobbies become more important. We of the coin hobby hope to share in this increased interest. We have come through troubled times during the past four years of a Democrat Administration. The coin hobby and coin investment have enjoyed happier days under previous Republican Administrations. We can only believe that these good times are now to be resumed again!

A faint glimmer of what is to come is shown in the latest "money in circulation" figures released for this week. For the first time in months there has been a decrease in the paper money being "printed" and released. Money in circulation declined this week from $50,472,000,000 in the previous week to $50,023,000,000. This compares with $46,673,000,000 in the same week last year. Up until this particular week "new" money was being shoveled out into the economy as if there was a deadline to place two bills for every bill now in circulation . . . and this, my friends, is what we call INFLATION!

There is talk about a "credit crunch" and a stock market "crash" in 1969. It is my belief that we will have neither . . . to any serious extent in this year. The income tax surcharge will be retained. The first half of the year will show a healthy softening of the economy. The stock market will go through a period of some decline. All of this will be followed by a pickup in the second half of the year. There will be an increase in the gross national product over the 1968 total but it will be small. Business profits will remain the same as those enjoyed in 1968. If a definite end to the Vietnam war comes in 1969 we can expect the inflation rate to temporarily drop to 2%. If the war continues on-the new Administration will still be able to curb inflation to perhaps a rate of 3% a year. However, look for this rate to jump to 4-1/2% during 1970, 1971 and 1972. This period will be a booming period.

What is to happen in the coin world in 1969? There are some expectations. Many believe that there will be a clad silverless half dollar issued and some think that we might even have a clad dollar. I would say that there is a very good chance that either of these changes could happen in 1969 or 1970. I wouldn't be surprised to see a 3¢ piece issued in the coming decade. Because of this constant inflation the one cent piece is gradually losing its usefulness.

In 1968 coin values on the whole increased by about 11% over 1967 prices . . . and this includes the speculative rolls. We have some distance to go before we get back to the 1964 highs but we seem to be slowly on our way. Coin auctions of late have indicated strongly that the state of MIND in the hobby has almost returned to the 1964 enthusiasm . . . only the prices now have to catch up!

MARKET GENERALLY STRONGER

Washingtons Reverse Downward Trend; Numerous Gains Registered

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Reports of proof set orders being returned to senders by the San Francisco Assay Office have been snow-balling. Apparently the program of returning duplicate orders is getting underway in earnest. In view of the large number of orders already sent back, it would seem almost certain that ordering will be re-opened within a month or two. The announced capacity of the Assay Office is approximately three million sets per year. With the famous "five day cut-off" of last November, it seems doubtful that many over three million sets were ordered in the first five days. Chances are that orders for up to one million sets will be returned—leaving approximately that many sets available for re-ordering. It is possible, of course, that four million sets were ordered and that duplicates are being returned only in sufficient quantities to reduce the number to the three million capacity. This is not likely however. We wonder, if new orders are to be accepted, if the Assay Office will attempt to match up the additional orders with previous ones in order to weed out those duplicates!

The Washington quarter situation has improved considerably in the last week. Apparently the many "ten roll lots" which were on the market have already been absorbed. Bid levels have increased for many of the very dates which were offered recently and now many "buy orders" are going unfilled. As a matter of fact, there are eighteen "plus signs" this week instead of the rash of lower ask levels witnessed during the last two weeks. Walking Liberty halves, by the way, are also getting into the act. Bids are on the upswing for most rolls and the few available dates are sporting higher and higher price tags.

Gold prices remain basically steady after last week's substantial gains. Buying is still quite active and many dealers have moved their "ask" levels still higher. This week's adjustments are minor and the five-dollar Indian piece still leads the way with bids in the $61 area.

This Week's Market

CENTS: A few minor changes—most dates remain rather easily located in substantial quantities.

1969P & D - Mint-sewn bags trade in the $58-$60 range

1969S - Further sales this week at around $95-$100

NICKELS: Adjustments are about evenly divided between gains and losses. Investor interest is still evident for the bargain-priced rolls.

1938D & S (circ) - Both are in considerable demand with sales at $42.50 and $70

1943D - Several rolls have been offered at a slightly lower $140

1952D - A ten roll lot is available at $600

DIMES: Several of the lower-priced issues are available in quantity—several at "bargain levels" is 25 to 100 roll "lot deals".

1945D - A relatively scarce Mercury roll; bid now $45

1953D - Forty rolls are offered at $450

1955P - Listed now at $54 per in five roll lots

QUARTERS: A welcome reversal in the recent downward trend—with numerous "plus signs" peppering the chart.

1941D - Bid reaches $140 (up $15)—few offered

1942S - Choice singles are bid at $12.50; rolls are tough at $500

1951S - Bid now at $187.50; offered at $195

1955D - Sales in the vicinity of $128; half a bag is available to "interested parties"

HALVES: Walking Liberties record many substantial gains—with "ask" levels advancing just as rapidly as the "bid".

1940S - Bid moves up to $170

1942D - Still quite elusive—with bids as high as $250

1943D - Just as difficult: bid now at $180

1946D - Sales noted at $170; very few offered

DOLLARS: A few small changes: bidding is only moderate and transactions are scattered.

1878CC - Bid moves up $10: now $250

1899P - One or two rolls have traded at $385

1903O - Also an occasional sale—at around $610

PROOF SETS: Prices begin to inch forward in the absence of those long selling lists.

1955 Bid for in quantity at $27

1968S - Offered in 200 set lots at $13.75

1969S - Offered in 200 set lots at $14.00

GOLD: The following prices are for common date uncirculated gold pieces. Better dates and gem specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A THOROUGH LOOK AT THE EARLY WASHINGTONS—1932-1940

1934-P (31,912,052)

Original BU rolls are still available on occasion—the latest recorded teletype offering was listed at $300 (or $7.50 per coin). The 1969 Guidebook price is a bit high at $12—current retail ads offer choice pieces in the $8-$9 range. Of the scattered BU rolls offerings in recent years, virtually all have been the "type two" variety. The "type one" (or "light motto" variety) appears to be considerably more scarce and seldom if ever is available in roll quantities. It was not until 1966 that the Guidebook began to include both varieties and it is surprising to note how many collectors and investors (not to mention dealers) are still unaware of the difference. On the scarce "type one" variety (often referred to as the "type of '32") the "In God We Trust" motto is in very shallow relief—as on all three of the 1932 issues. It became obvious to mint officials early in 1934 that the motto was wearing away on the 1932 coins far too quickly and a new die was prepared with a much stronger motto. Thus we have the "type two" quarter. Apparently this change was accomplished quite early in 1934—no Denver coins were involved and from the percentage of coins now available it can be assumed that a rather small number of "light motto" Phillies were issued.

The "type one" variety currently lists at $17.50 in the Guidebook—and the future of this issue depends almost entirely upon collector acceptance in the coming years and whether coin albums will include an opening for it. Actually, it is surprising that this major variety (the only one in the Washington series) hasn't already become a normal part of the set. At the present time, the astute investor can still pick up choice "type one" specimens at or near the $8-$9 asked for the "type two". Some dealers still do not price the two coins differently. There is an excellent chance that demand will increase for the "light motto" coin in the next few years. If it does, the investor will find that choice pieces are worth $25 or more. If it does not, he will still have choice 1934-P quarters—worth $10 or $12 anyway. The "type one" is definitely a recommended issue.

There is certainly no scarcity of circulated 1934-P's in any grade from "average circ" to "slidder uncs". However, if one were to look through a number of circulated rolls he would find only a few "type ones". These circs in higher grades may also prove to be a wise investment—and today's price is only a little above face value.

Here is a coin which is currently in demand in all grades. Choice BU specimens currently bring around $42.50-$45 on the tapes (still considerably below the 1969 Guidebook listing of $65). Retail ads offer BU pieces for $50 or so. These coins in choice condition are still priced at reasonable levels—they should easily reach $75-$85 within a couple of years. Although "slidders" are far from plentiful, it is still a good practice to examine all purchases carefully for "cabinet friction".

BU rolls, of course, are a thing of the past. This was a relatively low mintage issue and, by 1934, the new Washington design was no longer a novelty. In fact, very few 1934-D's were pulled out of circulation until later years and the supply of better than "average circ" rolls is very limited. Fine and better specimens are particularly elusive and are seldom encountered in any quantity. Bidding even for average rolls has been very heavy in recent weeks and the price has moved up close to the $30 level. Investment potential here is excellent. Rolls that are at least a bit better than "average" should be of particular interest. A year or two from now will find a nice circ roll of 34-D's bringing more than either the 38-S, 39-S or 40-D rolls—all three of which are considerably more plentiful (especially in VG-VF condition). Definitely recommended in full rim VG or better condition.

BU rolls are still offered on the tapes at slightly under $200—or about $5 per coin. The 1969 Guidebook listing is $8.50 and retail ads list BU pieces in the $7-$8 range. Only moderate gains can be expected from this issue. The mintage was large and the supply will be adequate for several years to come. Circulated rolls, too, are quite plentiful—with many "average circs" still being pulled out of "common silver" bags. Only VF and better circs will experience any demand in the future and these also seem to be around in ample quantities.

1935-D (5,780,000)

Scarcity here closely parallels that of the 1934-D—the major exception being that "average circ" rolls are easy to locate. The choice BU specimen, if anything, is slightly more scarce than the 34-D although the current Guidebook listing is considerably lower at $47.50. BU singles also bring $42.50-$45 on the teletype and retail ads offer them at just about the $47.50 figure. Indications are that price advances will at least keep up with the 34-D—that is, $75-$85 within the next couple of years. Fine and better rolls are also quite scarce (but somewhat easier to find than the 34-D). Today's price tag for "average" rolls is $16—but the investor should attempt to purchase better grade rolls at a slightly higher price. Admittedly these "above average" circ rolls are few and far between—but the investor who manages to put away a few will be pleased with the "per single coin" price tag in the next few years for FINE to XF pieces. Recommended in choice BU condition and higher grade circulated conditions at today's prices.

A NOTE REGARDING COUNTERFEITS:

Counterfeiters have long been at work on 1932-D & S quarters and reports now add the 1936-D to the list. Most of these phonies are in grades from FINE to AU (although mintmarks are also added to BU 1932-P and 1936-P coins on occasion). It is a good idea for the investor to own a copy of Don Taxay's hardcover book "Counterfeit, Mis-struck and Unofficial U. S. Coins" (1963, $4.50). This book will aid greatly in spotting phonies and can pay for itself many times over in just a short while.

BUYING IS ON THE INCREASE Major Coin Conventions Spark Interest in Many Areas

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

In the wake of two major coin shows in the past two weeks, teletype buying (or attempts to buy) has definitely been on the increase. Reports from both the Long Beach and Los Angeles conventions indicate that nearly every series shared at least to some extent in the buying enthusiasm—and the available supply of much "hot" material was absorbed within the first day or so of each show.

Gold led the way at the Long Beach show—with the $5 Indian reaching $60 and nearly all other gold pieces showing rapid and substantial gains. Choice "type" material, as usual, accounted for quite a share of the trading—with prices for the "with arrows", "arrows and rays" and other "one or two year type issues" setting new records. Dealers and investors were also particularly anxious to locate quantities of 1932-D, 1932-S and 1934-D quarters. Silver dollars were foremost in sales for many dealers—and attempts to buy the really elusive Morgans were mostly in vain.

This week's teletype trading was largely an extension of the two shows. "Want lists" include much of the same material—with numerous BU and circ rolls thrown in for good measure. Also in evidence on the tapes is some of the better material that dealers managed to pick up at the shows—especially proof and choice BU Seated Liberty and Barber coins.

One of the most common complaints in recent months—at both shows and from teletype dealers—is that they cannot buy. That is, the material that they need just isn't available—at least at price levels which are reasonable. Some major dealers, as a matter of fact, did not have tables at the conventions—they were there only to buy from the other dealers!

This Week's Market

CENTS: A few small gains in continued light trading.

- 1939S - Bid moves up to $23.00; very few offered
- 1943PDS - All three edge forward after recent slump
- 1955S - Available at $1200 per bag—in five bag lots!
- 1960P (sm) - Scattered sales again this week at $155
- 1960D (sm) - Offered in bag quantities at $450

NICKELS: "Common" buffalo rolls move up to $82.50 bid; Jeffersons mostly steady—with an occasional increase.

- 1939S - Bid moves up to $345; still rather elusive
- 1950D - Bid again at $420; "original rolls" are now offered at around $435
- 1953D - Bid now at $6.00 still quite difficult to locate
- 1955D - Also in demand bid now $5

DIMES: Mercuries are unchanged—with a few of the earlier rolls (1935-1940) now on the market; Roosevelts are mixed and lightly traded.

- 1949D - Hard to locate at the higher bid of $90
- 1950P & 1951P - Both are offered at slightly lower levels
- BU sets (1946 to date) - Still available at $55

QUARTERS: The rebound continues—with numerous advances recorded.

- 1942D - Now bid at $80—and a scarce roll!
- 1945D - Bid moves back up to $75
- 1947S - None offered to bidders at $95

1954S - Sharp increase—and suddenly quite scarce at $34 bid

1955D - An occasional sale is noted in the $127.50 area
BU sets (1941 to date) - Transactions as high as $108

HALVES: Many Walking Liberty rolls remain in demand although bids have leveled at last week's quotes; Franklins register only mild trading within current ranges.

- 1940S - None offered to bidders at $170
- 1949D - Up $5—with bids at $300
- 1955P - Sales noted in the $140 area
- BU sets (1948-63) - Transactions at $165

DOLLARS: More "buying" than "selling" lists continue to appear; again a few prices edge forward.

- 1885S - Bid back to $240; offered at $260
- 1890O - Bid moves up to $100; none available at this price
- 1891O - Offered at a lower $200
- 1899P - Transaction registered at $380
- 1925S - A scarce roll; bid $265—none offered
- 1935P - Bid now at a higher $220

PROOF SETS: Trading in the '68 and 169 sets dominates this area of the market; a few slight gains are noted for earlier sets.

- 1968S - Lots of 100 or more sets offered at $13.75 per
- 1969S - As with the above, available in large lots at $13.50 per

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

The year 1969 is to see a continued gradual recovery in the coin industry. Practically all collectors will turn to the profit making aspects of coins. There have been hold-outs up until now . . . but this resistance is disappearing. The majority now have an eye on the value their collection has . . . and will have 5, 10 and 15 years from now.

Foreign coins are attracting more interest in this new year . . . as they have during the past three years. There will come a time, I am sure, when foreign coins will prove to be as popular as domestic coins . . . to the coin investor in the U.S.A. I shudder at this prospect. I can see the coin investment becoming increasingly complex . . . if this happens . . . and the chance to pick the wrong coin . . . investment-wise . . . will be multiplied many times. There are a lot of coins in this world! And a lot of foreign counterfeits and alteration . . . in every country!

Paper money is becoming more popular. This has always been a field of interest to a special breed of collector. Investors have not gone into this part of the hobby to any great extent. If this section of the hobby also becomes an active part of the coin investment . . . it will further complicate the coin investment scene. We appear to be heading toward a type of investment as complicated as the stock market!

Coin fakes are still the concern of most dealers and collectors as the hobby starts out into the new year. There is a clamor developing for some sort of authentication board. This is something that we should have as we can ALL use it . . . collector and investor alike. More counterfeit and altered coins are making their appearance monthly. 1969 will see a larger total of these than we had in 1968. 1968 showed an increase over 1967. Perhaps every investor should own a powerful magnifier in order to spot the fakes, alterations and flaws. At the very least . . . all coin shops should have one of these on the counter for the use of the coin buyer. Coin clubs should own one of these strong magnifiers . . . jointly . . . for the use of all members. Such glasses could be used as a part of educational classes conducted by the coin club. To be used to illustrate points in the lectures. The use of identifying marks . . . invisible . . . either natural imperfections in the coin itself (showing up under magnification) or APPLIED markings (using colored dyes, etc. that show up under ultra-violet lamps) could be used. We must start such a program of markings immediately for all coins having a value of $50 or more.

Cents and nickels will receive more attention during 1969 in my opinion and many dealers believe this too. Commemoratives and proof sets may show some activity before the year is out. There is a phenomenal growth in the token and medal field. If we have to add these additional specialized items to the already crowded coin investment area . . . we are going to have to develop brokers and analysts for each particular market. As we have Stock markets, over-the-counter markets, bond markets, mutual funds markets and foreign securities markets . . . so will we have coin markets, paper money markets, token markets, medal markets, foreign coin markets . . . and so on. Life in all its aspects is becoming more involved and complicated by the day!

The hobby is going to have a higher degree of honesty between dealer and customer. This unpleasant atmosphere has been with us for several years. Strangely enough . . . other parts of our economy are now slowly becoming corrupted in much the same manner. There seems to be a distinct let-down in many of the nation's services and industries. Perhaps a change of administration and pace will bring about an improvement in the nation's morals.

There are some that predict a tremendous upturn in investor interest during the coming four years . . . 1969, 1970, 1971 and 1972 . . . not particularly because of the Administration change (this is going to help, of course) but because the cycle is due for this change.

Watch the Jefferson nickels in 1969. If attention is directed away from the silver coins . . . it will go to the Jefferson nickels.

Getting back to dealer-customer relationships, many coin people are solving their problems by dealing only with members of the PNG and RCDA. Let's not forget members of the ANA . . . either. Of course there are exceptional shops and dealers who do not belong to any of these associations. Nevertheless, particularly for the beginner (unless he knows his dealer mighty well), it would be wise to consider such "member" dealers as the best bet.

Grading problems are still with us and the quicker we all observe some standard rules for the entire coin industry . . . the better it will be for all concerned.

Authentication services are of great interest to the hobby at this time. This is going to take money and I would suggest that anyone interested in sending contributions for such a service, do so immediately by directly your remittances to a fund that is being set up by a Mr. Virgil Hancock, 4901 Bellaire Blvd., Bellaire, Texas 77401. Or . . . you can write first for more information if you have a particularly large donation that you want to offer. I believe this fund has the backing of the RCDA.

MARKET REMAINS GENERALLY STRONG MANY ROLLS PROVE ELUSIVE TO ANXIOUS BIDDERS

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Most proof sets are firm—and several have registered small advances as quantity bidding continues for numerous issues. The 1969-S sets, on the other hand, has edged lower each day. In fact, it has been rather difficult to establish a definite bid and ask level for the week. In the same afternoon sales will be recorded at $11.75 for a lot of fifty or one hundred sets and immediately after a lot of ten or twenty sets will be passed at an ask level of $11.50. Some dealers have bid as low as $700 for one hundred sets—either in anticipation or hope that the price will slip this low. Chances are, of course, that the 1969-S set will hold up much better than that. But it is apparent that two factors are currently affecting price. First, the possibility that the mint will reopen ordering. Second, the rumor that San Francisco will produce dimes and quarters (with an "S" mintmark, of course) for general circulation. If they do, the 1968-S dimes and quarters in proof will be in more demand—and the 1969-S proof versions in less.

Most dealers and investors seem to feel that the 1969-S set has yet to make its first real move. Remember that in mid-March of last year the 1968-S set was still in very short supply and was selling for $8 on the tape. There certainly has been a definite attempt by the San Francisco mint to flood the market with the 1969-S set. Does this mean an increased production capacity? Or just that production is flowing smoothly after more than a year of full operation?

A "common date, high grade" circulated bag of silver dollars traded this week at $2000 plus freight—a new record price for telephone trading. The "normal" bid for circulated bags is $1925 with the bidder usually willing to pay freight. Single circ rolls have been regularly traded at around $39. An "original BU bag" of 1880-O dollars was offered this week at $3200—or only $64 per roll (single BU rolls were traded at $67.50). The 88-O's were among the last dollars to be released by the Treasury (in January, 1964) and they are not yet well dispersed. Still, this is a very good roll and should be considered by the investor at today's level.

A "choice" 1889-CC dollar was traded at $875 this week—with the recorded bid level moving to $825. This is another instance in which establishing an accurate bid and ask level is difficult. Very few 89-CC's are available (often weeks between offerings) and usually each offered coin is accompanied by "qualifying remarks" which take it out of the uncirculated category. Either it is a "choice gemmy gem" or a "passable unc"—with prices ranging from $650 to $950!

This Week's Market

CENTS: Several minor losses were recorded during the week—with only scattered transactions noted.

NICKELS: Buffalo rolls are unchanged; again Jeffersons are mixed in light trading.

1942D - One of the most elusive rolls; bid moves up to $240
1943D - Sales noted as low as $134
1954S - Available in a fifty roll lot at $8 per

DIMES: The late "S" mint Mercuries edge forward; Roosevelts register numerous adjustments.

1946S & 1948S - Both are available in ten roll lots at $42
1951D - Bid moves up to $28—with none offered 1951S - Several "choice original rolls" are for sale at $250
1955D - Plentiful at the ask of $38; few sales

QUARTERS: Prices are mixed—with several earlier dates still recording strong demand.

1941D & S; 1942D & S - These four are difficult to locate

1949P - A real "toughie"; bid moves up to $240
1955D - Easily found at the ask level of $127.50

HALVES: The 1941-47 W. L. rolls remain on "want lists"—with few available; the Franklins register only an occasional small change.

1950D - A sale or two at around $145
1952S - Bid moves up to $167.50

DOLLARS: "Want lists" are rarely filled—only the more common dates are easy to find

1885S - Several rolls are offered at $240
1899P - A ten roll lot is available at $3750
1904O - A ten roll lot was traded at $650

PROOF SETS: The 1950-55 group edges forward; most of the later dates are relatively firm (with the exception of the 69-S set).

1955 - Quantity bidding reaches $27
1968S - Continued sales in the $13.50-$14 range
1969S - Ask level bounces around each day in the $11-$12 range.

GOLD: The following prices are for common date uncirculated gold pieces. Better dates and gem specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A THOROUGH LOOK AT THE EARLY WASHINGTONS—1932-1940

(PART THREE)

1935-S (5,660,000)

This is the first branch mint issue which was saved from circulation in a rather substantial quantity. At this point in time, of course, BU rolls are far from plentiful—but not too many years ago "original rolls" were still being broken up. On widely scattered occasions a roll will still be offered through one of the teletype circuits. The 1969 Guidebook listing is too high at $37.50—choice pieces are available on the tapes at around $21.50 and retail ads offer "gems" in the $27.50 area. Not only are BU specimens relatively easy to locate, but "AU" and "slidder uncs" are even more plentiful. Whereas higher grade Denver coins of 1935 are quite scarce, the buyer of the San Francisco issue should be doubly careful not to end up with a "slightly rubbed" 1935-S. Only average gains are to be expected from the 1935-S in the next two or three years.

As with the 1935-D, circulated rolls are quite plentiful. But, unlike the 35-D, Fine and better rolls are also easily found—and lots of ten or twenty pieces in XF and better condition are often offered at auction. There are far superior investments in circulated Washington quarters.

This coin is offered relatively often by the roll at just about the price of the 1935-P roll—both have recently been offered at $185. The Guidebook price is $7.50 and retail ads list choice pieces at or near this level. As with the 35-P, the mintage was very large and the supply of BU specimens will be ample for some years to come. Only moderate gains can be expected. Circulated rolls are, of course, quite common and "average circ" rolls rarely bring much of a premium over the going price for any roll of "silver quarters". Perhaps VF and better pieces will experience some demand in the next few years from those collectors who are assembling circ sets, but even these higher grades are easy to locate.

1936-D (5,374,000)

Here is one of the "mysteries" of the Washington quarter series. Why were so few 36-D's saved from circulation? The mintage, as far as branch mint issues is concerned, is at least average (the 1936-S boasts a far lower mintage figure). Whatever the reason, strictly choice BU 1936-D quarters are really very scarce. Stories circulate about "the dealer who has ten original BU rolls"—but, at $200 per coin, it is strange that he doesn't break up a roll or two. This is not to say that no original rolls haven't been broken up in recent years—but the number of rolls can be counted on one hand. And, just as important, the majority of coins from these rolls have certainly been less than choice—uncirculated, yes—but choice, no! A year or so ago there were lots of five or more pieces available in the Los Angeles area—all from the same roll and all weakly struck coins with a rather granular surface. Reselling of these pieces was not easily accomplished and most dealers were not willing to pay the high price tag which was attached. Gem 1936-D's, on the other hand, are in constant demand on the teletype circuits—with bids averaging around $195. Those "BU" pieces offered in various retail ads in the $175 range can be ignored—ordering them will only result in having to pay return postage and insurance (or worse, in the novice keeping a slider coin!). The collector can expect to pay at least $200 (more likely $225 or so) for a choice specimen—the 1969 Guidebook listing is $250. The investor, however, can put his $200 to work on better investments in the series. Chances are that price advances in the next few years will only be nominal.

Circulated 1936-D quarters are quite common in the AG-G range and the Guidebook listing of 85¢ for a GOOD specimen is based solely on the scarcity of higher grade pieces. In the low grades, the 36-S is far scarcer. However, beginning with Fine pieces, 36-D's start to become elusive and VF-XF pieces are few and far between. Not only are the better grade circ coins scarce, but demand is strong. The $200-plus price tag for a BU coin causes most collectors to seek an XF and a truly Extra Fine piece will bring full Guidebook of $45. Investing in strictly Fine to Very Fine pieces should prove to be a much better than average investment. Watch out for the tendency of dealers to overgrade circulated 1936-D's.

1936-S (3,828,000)

The mintage figure of this issue is considerably lower than that of the 1936-D, yet circumstances seem to have resulted in far more rolls being saved from circulation. Still, indications are that, at $21.50 or so per coin, this is a far better investment. The 1935-S is much easier to locate in lots of five or ten pieces, yet the current Guidebook lists the 36-S at $30; the 35-S lists at $37.50. Retail ads presently offer both coins in the same $25-$27.50 range. Circulated 1936-S rolls are currently priced at around $19—not a bad price if the roll isn't all Fair to AG. Full rim G-VG rolls should advance nicely in the next couple of years—with a $40 price tag entirely possible. The mintage, by the way, of the 36-S is only slightly higher than that of the 34-D—and indications are that a larger percentage of the 34-D—and indications are that a larger percentage of the 34-D's reached circulation.

1937-P (19,701,542)

As far as Philly coins go, this issue has a fairly small mintage. Accordingly, BU rolls seem to be offered less often. The recent large offerings of early Washington rolls, for instance, did not include any 1937-P rolls. The mostly recently recorded ask level was $200 (or $5 per coin). The 1969 Guidebook listing is $7—slightly under the listing of both the 35-P or 36-P. Current retail ads list choice specimens at around the Guidebook figure. Actually, there is no reason to believe that investing in the 1937-P roll will result in much more than average gains. It was merely pointed out that this roll is more scarce than either the 35-P or 36-P—both of which should have lower Guidebook prices than the 37-P.

Obviously circulated rolls of 37-P's fall into the same category as the other early "P" mints (excluding, of course, the 32-P). All are plentiful and only the higher grades will command any attention in coming years.

1937-D (7,189,000)

Here is one of the best buys in the entire series. For some reason, the occasional roll which is offered seems to keep the price at its present attractive level—$350 per roll (or $8.75 per coin). The 1969 Guidebook listing is a low $10. If only a few rolls were taken off the market by an interested investor, the price would easily double within a matter of weeks. There have been many times when investors have complained of not being able to locate even one roll. At present, however, there is a roll or two available on the tapes. A more realistic price of $15-$20 or so per coin can be expected within a year or so—and those scattered opportunities to pick up a roll should be seized.

Another thing to consider is the great number of circulated 37-D's which are around—mostly in AG condition. "Average circ" rolls don't bring much of a premium and the better grade rolls are far more scarce than the earlier "S" mint issues—35-S and 36-S. As a matter of fact, all of the Denver rolls—1934 through 1940—are considerably more difficult to find in VG-VF rolls than are the San Francisco coins. Investing in a higher grade roll or two of 37-D's at present low prices will prove to be a much better than average move.

BIDDING SLOWS; SALES ARE LIGHT SCARCE DATES LEAD STRONG DOLLAR MARKET

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Word has it that "thousands" of questionnaires have been sent to coin collectors in the United States—asking their opinions about including openings for the "proof only" issues of 1968 (and future years) in the Whitman coin albums. A precedence has been set, of course—better albums already include opening for the "proof only" issues of 1873, 1877, etc. The feeling is that the 1968-S dimes, quarters and halves will be included (no one is yet certain which coins will be "proof only" in 1969). If this happens, the future for the 1968-S set will be bright indeed—and today's $13-$14 will prove to be rock bottom. When the announcement regarding the new albums will be made is not certain.

The 1969-S set continues to be buffeted from all sides. Most sales near the end of the week were registered around $10.50—yet bids as low as $8 were still being monitored (with some ask prices remaining in the $12 range). Actually, it seems that no one wants to "set the market" as yet for these sets. Delivery from the San Francisco Assay Office continues at a rapid pace.

Rolls of 1968-S proof coins still are traded—though less often than in recent months. However, there is an obvious reluctance by dealers to break up the 1969-S sets. Certainly there are enough sets on the market—so it isn't lack of availability. Perhaps dealers still have too many rolls of 1968-S proof cents and nickels. Anyway, a "wait and see" attitude has developed regarding this new set. If the mint produces dimes, say, for circulation—proof dime rolls will experience very little demand. This goes, of course, for quarters too. The "rumor" didn't include halves for general circulation from San Francisco.

Trading in the silver series, dimes thru halves, has been rather light—with only a few dates in definite demand (some earlier quarters and halves). Ask levels have edged lower for numerous issues in these series and the "popular" dates in each series seem to be in particularly plentiful supply. The 1955 half dollar is somewhat of an exception—with higher bids noted and fewer rolls offered.

This Week's Market

- 1898O - Sales registered at a slightly higher $70

reports the national coin market as

it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

transactions. As an investor, you

BID columns show the highest price

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

One of the richest men in the world today believes that if you invest in something that costs $1,000 it should be something that will appreciate to $10,000 or even $100,000. Too many investors pick a thousand dollar investment that generally turns out to be $1200 or $1500 . . . if they are lucky. It is just as easy to pick something with a vast potential than it is to pick an investment that will only yield bank interest or double bank interest . . . at the most.

Naturally we cannot go out into the investment world and pick a certainty. There are no investments that guarantee tremendous, abnormal gains. And if they do promise such sensational yields you can be sure that the risk is also sensational! However, the careful, searching investor can investigate the POTENTIAL of various investments. He can research into the HISTORY of the investment and occasionally he will find that the price history indicates that the investment has great POTENTIAL. The degree of yearly rise will tell the investor what to expect for the coming years. At least there is that chance that the past gains will continue . . . will be duplicated . . . particularly if the history of such gains has been a long one. Then too . . . there are issues that have reached former HIGHS and then have retreated back to lows. The investor can weigh the chances of the investment returning to these former peaks. Either way . . . it is POTENTIAL. And usually very attractive potential. These are the investments that the investor should keep an eye out for! And where else can one find so many investments today with VAST potentials than in the coin industry??

Check the stock market, check the real estate market, check the bond market, check the antique market, check the painting market, check the stamp market, check the diamond market . . . none can offer the potential (based on a price history or former peaks) that the numismatic investment presents at this time!!

There are now 26,400,000 people investing in the stock market. This is an increase of 2,500,000 for the last year alone! The total amounts to about 13% of the population! Hard to believe! At the moment of this writing I find that the market has been going down considerably. If this continues we are going to eventually have some disgruntled stock market investors. Some of the stock market analysts are now advising extreme caution and predict that this stock market slump could last for the next six months. If it does bump along the way it is now traveling for the next six months we are going to find a fair segment of our investment population to be quite "sick."

In previous stock market slumps we have been the gainers . . . here in the coin world. There have been market investors who have come over to the coin investment. Not enough of them . . . but it has helped the coin investment at the time. If we could only bring in a fraction of the 26 million . . . say just a million people who would invest in coins . . . the coin market would be the strongest investment in the entire world! Even if we could turn some of the 2.5 million, that go into the stock market yearly . . . toward the coin investment . . . the result would be fantastic!

In these times of high inflation and high taxes the NON-INVESTOR is going to find himself in real trouble in the years ahead and particularly during his retirement years! Only the investor can look for happy times when he is ready to retire. Only the investor can receive vast amounts of investment gains yearly and STILL collect his social security payments. Investment gains do not count with the Social Security people. But try to go out and earn more than $1800 (latest) a year and your Social Security check is in trouble!

When an investment starts to grow there appears to be no stopping it! In 1965, for example, there were approximately 20,000,000 investors in the stock market. Today there are 26,400,000!! This is an awesome gain and does show the coin world what could happen to our investor total if and when the public decides to accept it! And some day they will!

SCARCE DOLLARS REMAIN ELUSIVE; BIDS ARE UP QUANTITY BIDDING IS RECORDED ACROSS ENTIRE MARKET

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

The sudden availability of numerous "common date" BU dollar bags hasn't really sparked much interest. The major share of silver dollar activity still centers around the scarce singles and rolls. Most of the bags in the current offerings are priced in the $2375-$2425 range—express collect. The dates are those you would expect: 80-S thru 82-S, 83-O thru 85-O and 85-P thru 87-P. There is, by the way, noticeable lack of bag quantities of the popular late new Orleans issues.

A fantastically increased bid for a single choice BU 1892-S dollar—now $1850—has still failed to produce the desired results. Consistent bidding in the $1000-$1250 range in recent weeks had gone unheeded and perhaps the frustration of slowly advancing the bid level has resulted in this impressive jump. It will be interesting to see if a few pieces come out of hiding at this point—and whether the bid remains at this level when the current "want lists" are filled. Circulated 92-S dollars, by the way, are still in considerable demand and several dealers have customers waiting for rolls of G-VG specimens. "Good" pieces have recently moved up from about $2.50 per coin to $3.50-$4.00—and indications are that this "common circ" date isn't so common after all.

Quantity bidding in several areas has been on the increase. Many of these attempts to buy are by dealers who are looking for bargains. In most cases, their "below bid" bids for ten or twenty rolls of this or that are unsuccessful. Buffalo rolls, early single BU Washingtons and Walking Liberties, proof sets and scarce silver dollars are in the forefront of this demand. Past charts have shown that this type of bidding often leads to advances in the areas covered—it would be wise to watch the trend. There is more than one segment of the market which is "overdue" for a big push!

This Week's Market

CENTS: A few more dates edge lower; only a few dealers are attempting to sell—most are concentrating in other areas.

NICKELS: Prices remain mixed; light trading continues. BU sets have traded this week at $105

1939S - Virtually none are available to bidders at $345

1942P (t2) & 1942S - These two slip lower; only mild interest noted for wartime rolls

1952S - Offered now at $21—down for the recent high of $30

DIMES: The Mercuries record many adjustments—with slightly increased sales noted; Roosevelts remain rather quiet.

1937D - Offered at $205—not an easy roll to locate

1945D - Edging lower now; offered at $44

1950P - Bid moves back up to $50

QUARTERS: BU rolls experience only mild demand; circulated rolls of low mintage issues are appearing more and more frequently on "want lists".

1937S (circ) - Bid moves up to $185; few available

1939S (circ) - An occasional sale is noted at $60 or so

1955D - Still plentiful in the $122.50-$125 range

HALVES: Walking Liberties record a few advances this week—most dates remain "off the market"; the Franklins are thoroughly mixed—though lightly traded.

1937P & 1939P - Both move up $5

1940S - Offered now at $167.50—rolls are usually very poorly struck

1948D - Transactions recorded at $78

1955P - Last week's "furry" is over—rolls are again available at $142.50

DOLLARS: Numerous "common date" bags make their appearance. scarce rolls and singles continue to dominate bidding.

1879S - Offered in quantity at $58.50

1891O - Sales noted at $185

1898O - Sales noted at $70

1902P - Bid up $15—now $120

PROOF SETS: Slight changes light trading; quantity bidding increases—but mostly at levels which do not encourage sales.

1968S - Steady—with sales averaging $13.50

1969S - Stronger this week—with sales as high as $11

GOLD: The following prices are for common date uncirculated gold pieces. Better dates and gem specimens bring proportionately more.

reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A THOROUGH LOOK AT THE EARLY WASHINGTONS—1932-1940

(PART FOUR)

1937-S (1,652,000)

This issue—with the third lowest mintage figure of the series—has long been on the list of "promotable" coins. As a matter of fact, the 1966 Guidebook listing was $75! The current listing is more reasonable at $52.50—most teletype sales are in the $40-$42 range. BU rolls, of course, are few and far between—it has been several months since there was a roll offering on the tapes. BU singles sell relatively well at today's prices, but in recent months demand has been only moderate and store stocks seem to be at least adequate in most instances. Unless a definite "buying promotion" comes along, advances in the next couple of years will fall into the "normal" category—up to $50-$55 for choice pieces over the teletype. However, there are dealers who have a "position" in this issue and, boosted by the low mintage figure, even a moderate buying effort would see prices advance much more rapidly. Actually, it is rather difficult to project prices for such a volatile issue. BU specimens are certainly a safe buy—and, under the right circumstances, could prove to be quite profitable.

The Circulated 1937-S—by the roll—is even more volatile than the BU single. Obviously BU rolls cannot be very plentiful in view of the rather low mintage figure; the teletype bid has recently moved up to $185 for "Good and better" rolls (this already is over the Guidebook listing of $3.75 for Good specimens). A little more buying pressure would see the circ roll price reach $250 within a matter of weeks. Circulated bags do exist—in the hands of strong investors—and indications are that these few investors already have a large share of the extant circ rolls. Increased bidding—even up to $250—will not cause a flood of rolls—and the advantages of bidding this high are obvious). So, we have both the BU 1937-S singles and the circulated 1937-S rolls falling into the speculative area—an area in which the investor who is on his toes might realize attractive profits within a relatively short time. The downside risk is small—particularly on the BU pieces—and the circ roll will probably stay above the $150 mark in any case.

1938-P (9,480,045)

This is the only really scarce Philadelphia issue (second only to the 1932-P in mintage). BU rolls are rarely offered—in fact, in the last couple of years an offering of ten BU pieces would be considered relatively unusual. The 1969 Guidebook price is $45—current teletype sales are at around $30-$32. Strangely enough, there has never been much investor interest in this issue (or any other early "P" mint, for that matter). Perhaps, in the case of the 1938-P the very scarcity has precluded roll buying and thus stymied interest. It is rather difficult, of course, to invest in rolls which are too elusive! Collector interest, on the other hand, should at least result in normal gains—up to $40 or so—within the next couple of years.

Circulated 38-P's are almost always of the AG variety; better grade rolls are quite scarce. A true XF specimen will bring full Guidebook of $10 on the retail market. Picking up a few "Fine and better" rolls (if and when available) will result in excellent long term gains. Again, the problem is finding such rolls for sale at reasonable prices. One would have to examine twenty to thirty circulated rolls in order to find forty nice coins.

Of the popular, low mintage San Francisco issues, this is the most plentiful. BU rolls are still available (at round $650) and lots of five or ten choice pieces are frequently seen on the tapes. The current Guidebook lists the BU 1938-S at $30—teletype sales are in the $18-$19 range. The year "1938" has always had something of a "magic touch"—and, of course, the low mintage figure is with it—but availability will slow any price advances in the next few years. Only an average investment.

Circulated rolls, too, are the easiest of the low mintage dates to locate—bags are not really uncommon. Many 38-S's were taken from circulation early—Fine to XF specimens are almost as plentiful as the AG-VG variety. Actually, however, it should be noted that the current market seems geared to a "promotion" of all low mintage quarters (particularly 37-S, 38-S, 39-S and 40-D). A few rolls of 1938-S—and the others—will almost certainly result in some attractive short term gains. Watch the market, however, and be ready to sell at the first signs of weakness. These rolls have been "hot" before—remember when the circ 39-S roll was selling for $120?

Of the larger mintage "P" mints, this is the best buy. Rolls are currently quoted at around $125—but chances are that just a few transactions would see the price advance nicely. While not really in the "scarce" category, this price tag of approximately $3 per coin is quite reasonable—the 1955-D sells for the same price! Choice specimens would still be in line at the full Guidebook listing of $6.50—or about $250 per roll. Rolls, while not offered regularly, can be located without too much of a problem—and this one should be considered an excellent medium to long term investment.

Circulated 39-P's present no important investment opportunity. As with the other high mintage Philly issues, only the higher grade circs stand any chance of even moderate gains.

1939-D (7,092,000)

Another excellent buy—in fact, this roll at the current ask level of $225 is probably one of the top two or three "buys" in the series. As with the 1937-D and 1939-P, there are sufficient rolls around to fill the investor's "want list"—with perhaps a little waiting—and yet these three are certainly scarce enough to warrant substantial gains even with only normal collector demand. A design change—or some other spotlight on the series—would see these underpriced issues really "take off". The 1969 Guidebook listing is $8.50 (or $340 per roll)—current retail ads already list choice specimens at or near this level.

Circulated 39-D's have been almost entirely overlooked—the mintage is fairly low and AG coins abound. It would be almost as difficult to locate "Fine and better" rolls of 1939-D as it would the 1937-D—and both present the same excellent investment opportunity—when available.

1939-S (2,628,000)

This issue has a mintage only slightly lower than that of the 38-S—yet far fewer rolls appear to have been saved from circulation. The current price for a choice single on the tape is about $22.50 (Guidebook is $32.50)—and the last roll offered (several months ago) was listed at $825. A somewhat better than average investment.

Circulated rolls, too, are somewhat more scarce than the 38-S—yet bags also are being held by investors. Again, as with the 38-S, higher grade circulated specimens are easy to locate. If the expected "push" in circ Washington quarters takes place, this one would again reach at least the $100 level (current bid is $65). Since the downside risk is about $25, this also should be considered a fairly speculative date.

BIDDING INCREASES IN SEVERAL AREAS

Much Material Remains Elusive; "Want Lists" Grow Longer

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Bidding has increased noticeably in several areas within the last week. One of the most obvious centers of interest is in the more elusive rolls in the silver denominations. Several dates in the Walking Liberty series just aren't offered—and bid level increases don't seem to effect availability at all. Even the 1946-47 rolls are apparently "off the market" (higher bids usually produce results for these dates). The "D" and "S" rolls in the 1940-43 group are also particularly difficult to locate—dealers are now offering to buy "a few singles" of the dates available by the roll.

Some of the Washingtons in the 1940-43 range are also getting in on this bidding—with much the same result. Only a few weeks ago there were lots of five and ten rolls of some of these issues offered at bargain levels. The astute investor who picked them up at the time has already realized a respectable profit! Although the Roosevelt series is generally quiet, there are several dates which are not offered. So far, in this area, bidding has remained at the current "bid level"—but if these "want lists" aren't filled soon it is almost certain that the bids will begin to edge upward. High on the "want list" are the 1948-P and 1949-D rolls. Both rolls are similarly priced in the $85-$95 range and neither are ever offered in quantity. Bidders currently are interested in five or ten rolls of each—very few have been located. Also quite elusive—as usual—are both the 1949-P and 1949-S rolls.

Others "areas of interest" include BU and circ 1932-D and 1932-S quarters (the "D" is now bid at $205); circulated and BU early Walking Liberty halves (very few are available in choice condition); choice BU early Mercury dimes and BU Standing Liberty quarters. In fact, numerous dates in most of the twentieth century series are in increasing demand—and most dealers are reluctant to part with the few they might have on hand. Most of this material is really scarce and difficult to keep in stock. Just a few serious collectors can manage to deplete a dealers stock—and keep it that way!

This Week's Market

CENTS: Virtually all dates remain easily available; sales have been slightly more frequent as current prices attract an occasional investor.

1960P (sm) - Scattered transactions at $155

NICKELS: Some of the later Buffalo rolls edge lower; Jeffersons again record mixed prices and light trading. Single BU wartime sets are offered at $23.50.

1939D - One or two "select" rolls are offered around $1150-$1175

1942S - Sales noted at a lower $115

1943D - A few transactions at $135

1944D - This one moves up; bid now $74

1951S - Bid moves back up to $95

DIMES: Both Mercuries and Roosevelt registers a few small increases; trading continues to be rather light.

1948P, 49P & D and 50P - These four appear frequently on "want lists"

1949S - Bid moves up to $550; none offered

1955P & D - Both edge slightly higher

1955S - Sales noted at $23

QUARTERS: More activity this week for the Washingtons; single BU sets are still trading in the $105-$110 range.

1937D - An attractive offering at $330

1941D - Bid advances $15; now $150

1941S - Up $10; bid reaches $175

1943S - Also up $10—with bids at $140

1955D - Still little interest; offered at $122.50

HALVES: Several Walking Liberty rolls prove elusive in spite of bid advances; a few Franklin's edge lower.

1942D - Orders remain unfilled—with bids at $250

1946D - Bid moves up to $175

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

For a couple of weeks the money in circulation had dropped. I had hoped that we were finally slowing down the money printing presses . . . that the battle against inflation had really begun! But . . . I am not so sure now. For the last two reports I find that once again we are putting more money into circulation. This week there is $49,307,000,000 against $49,061,000,000 the previous week . . . in circulation. Evidently the Federal Reserve got "chicken" again and decided that they were slowing down the economy too much. The only way we are going to bring inflation back down to a reasonable (?) level of 3% per year is to really get tough. And if they do there are going to be stock market investors who are going to get hurt . . . temporarily . . . and some people are going to be unemployed . . . temporarily. It is a rough world of economics and any change in going to shake some people up!

Those of us in the coin world have been hearing about a "meatless" sandwich made of copper-nickel laminate . . . to be formed in the shape of a silverless dollar. The Treasury has recommended to Congress that we turn out one of these "clad" silverless dollars. Of course these new dollars will lack the prestige of the honest silver cartwheels of yore. They will, however, fill a useful function for the gambling casinos . . . and the vending industry will now be able to proffer large price unit items in their machines. If inflation keeps up its present pace we may need a dollar coin to buy most anything! Of course the coin collectors will be joyful when this comes about (not the inflation . . . but the issuance of the coin). A new dollar coin . . . even without the silver . . . is simply bound to bring tremendous life and exuberance to the industry! Naturally the silver dollar series would be most affected . . . but the whole hobby and investment would probably benefit! If the silverless dollar is added to future proof sets you can imagine the price jumps that the proof set series would enjoy . . . not only the new type sets . . . but the old ones too!

A clad half dollar is probably also in the works and this too will bring about some interesting changes in the half dollar series.

As I mentioned in my last article . . . it is possible that we are to see an end . . . for the time being . . . of a lush, easy stock market, and easy speculative profits. In the parlance of the times, the name of the game will still be "performance." And if the investor can't get it in the stock market he will turn to other investments. I am continuing to give publicity to the coin investment in my monthly articles that go into the world's largest newsstand coin magazine . . . "Coinage." While this magazine reaches about 115,000 coin interested people we need other outlets of publicity. Information about the coin investment should reach out into the Wall Street Journal and some of the general magazines with huge circulations. If we can get into the Sunday newspapers of the nation we would be reaching millions of potential investors. If any of my readers can . . . through the right contacts . . . reach out into these areas and spread the good word about our investment . . . I wish they would do it. We need the publicity . . . at this particular time!

One of the reasons why so many people have gone into the stock market during the past 4 years is a fear of INFLATION! We have been told that the rate of inflation was around 4-1/2% last year. How this is determined has always been a mystery to me. We know that food increased 4%, that restaurant meals jumped 5.7, medical costs rose 7.3 percent and clothing costs upped 6.7 per cent. One of the major expenses in everyone's budget is that connected with owning and maintaining a home. These costs went up 6.1 per cent. Add all of these items together and we get an average of about six per cent. Now these are all separate official figures. As I have said . . . when we add them up we don't get the publicized 4-1/2% . . . but we get 6% instead! I would guess that if we took many hundreds of separate, individual items . . . that we all buy during the year . . . the overall average would stick pretty close to this 6% mark . . . maybe go over it! I believe the public is just beginning to realize that the government figures that are released yearly are only very rough averages that cover just a few basic items . . . and are far from complete!

All of this should prove to the would-be investor how important investment gains will be in the years ahead if they are going to have to battle with a 6% rise in living costs each year!

WALKING LIBERTY ROLLS LEAD BIDDING Other Areas of the Market Register Only Minor Adjustments

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

There has been surprisingly little mention on the tapes of 1969-S proof rolls. When the 68-S set was as plentiful as the 69-S now is, there was hardly a dealer who wasn't "getting into the act" and retail ads as well as the teletype circuits were filled with messages regarding rolls of the 68-S "proof only" issues. True, there is an occasional offering of a roll of proof 1969-S coins—but bids have been noticeably few and far between. Now that it is "official" that the 1969 coins will be the same as the 1968—with no dimes, quarters or halves from San Francisco—it will be interesting to see how many dealers start breaking up 1969-S sets.

The current prices, by the way, for 1968-S rolls are as follows:

Cents	$ 27.50	$ 32.50
Nickels	27.50	32.50
Dimes	210.00	235.00
Quarters	110.00	120.00
Halves	110.00	120.00

The ask levels for the few 1969-S rolls offered are $5 to $10 higher for each denomination—in spite of the fact that the 1969-S set sells for at least two dollars less than the 1968-S. Apparently breaking up the 68-S sets wasn't as profitable (except perhaps in the beginning) as first thought. Many dealers are now sitting with almost unsalable cent and nickel rolls and most of them do not plan to end up with a similar stock of the 69-S versions.

Walking Liberty halves continue to dominate the "plus signs" this week—with well over half of the dates in the 1941-47 group registering gains. Not many of the rolls are appearing on selling lists—and, when they do, the ask price manages to keep just ahead of the bid. BU single "short sets" look like a good buy at the current $162.50—if there aren't, of course, any "slidders" included.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Trading remains very slow—but scattered dates have edged forward as a few dealers continue to bid for "gem" rolls.

1960D (sm) - A bag or two is available at $375

1947D & 1948D - Both are now bid at $42

1955D - Offered in quantity at $36.

1957D - Remember this one? Ask is now $13

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A THOROUGH LOOK AT THE EARLY WASHINGTONS—1932-1940

(CONCLUSION)

1940-P (35,715,246)

In mid-1964 BU rolls were selling for $250—and were really quite difficult to locate. The price tag has edged lower more or less ever since—and the occasional roll now offered is priced around $165. The 1969 Guidebook listing is $8 per coin and retail ads are not far behind with their listing in the $.50-$.75 range. The current roll price figures out to just over $4 per single. Actually, in spite of the substantial mintage, 1940-P rolls seem to have been overlooked to a large degree at the time—perhaps in favor of the lowest mintage Denver issue since 1932. Today's price is at or very near "the bottom"—but in the present strong but selective market there isn't much chance of more than average gains. However, any sudden "flurry" of activity could see the price again at the $250 level. The 1940-P is, therefore, a safe long-term investment—with outside chances of substantial gains under the right circumstances. The most awaited "right circumstance" is, of course, a design change. For those who remember the activity in Franklin halves when the changeover was announced there is little need to explain.

Circulated 40-P's present reasonable potential only in the better grades—say from VF to AU. The lower grades are far too plentiful to be of much interest.

There was a single BU roll offering on the tapes this week at $1500—previous to this it had been several months since a full roll was available. Five and ten piece lots, however, are not really uncommon—with prices in the area of $32 per. Retail ads currently list the 40-D at $37.50 or so (the 1969 Guidebook price is $40). The present supply seems equal to demand and prices have remained static for some time now. Indications are that today's price will show only nominal gains in the next year or so unless, as mentioned, there is a definite "spotlight" on the series. Even a moderate buying surge, on the otherhand, would result in a $50 price tag for choice specimens. Rumors fly, from time to time, regarding this "design change" for the quarter. The new Philadelphia mint will soon be in full swing—and chances for a changeover will then be much brighter. Both the Jefferson nickel and Washington quarter have been around long enough to warrant a change with Congressional approval (as was necessary when the Kennedy half replaced the Franklin)—and the Roosevelt dime will be twenty-five years old in 1970.

Circulated 1940-D's are rather easily located in AG-G condition—but, unlike the 38-S and 39-S, Fine and better rolls are very few and far between. A true XF specimen will currently fetch full Guidebook of $11. "Average circ" rolls, as offered on the tapes at $42.50, usually consist of forty very well worn coins. These rolls will advance during the present "promotion" of low mintage dates but better grade rolls, when available, will advance in a strong steady manner—they are much more desirable in F-VF condition than either the 38-S or 39-S.

This is the only pre-1941 roll and has been the subject of a recent "promotion". Last year at this time rolls were available at around $140. Near the end of 1968 a leading investment publication pointed out the fact that the 40-S was "underpriced" in relation to other early dates—and the buying began. Within a few weeks sales were being recorded in the $200-$210 range.

This buying has subsided somewhat and rolls are now offered at $180. Apparently this roll was a bit underpriced—having held on to a good share of recent gains. Though there is little chance of the roll loosing much more ground—perhaps $10 or so—there is also not much chance of more than average gains in the next year or two.

Circulated 40-S's are plentiful in most grades from AG to AU. So far there is only scattered mention of this date on the tapes and the supply should easily fill demand for some time to come. When buying BU singles (and rolls, too) watch out for "slidders"—they are quite common and often find their way into BU rolls and single sets.

This is the conclusion of our five-part in depth study of early Washingtons. Obviously there are several excellent investment opportunities in the 1932-40 group—both in BU and circ condition. Demand is strong on the tapes and through retail outlets. The disappearance of the silver quarter has caused a substantial increase in the collecting of circ sets—until recently only the low mintage dates were of interest in circ condition. A year or two from now the picture will be entirely different. Shortages will appear which heretofore have not been considered. Choice BU specimens, too, have increased in popularity—with several dates also proving to be much more scarce than previously thought. Selective buying in the Washington quarter series is highly recommended.

SCARCE MORGANS REGISTER GAINS BOTH BU ROLLS AND SINGLES REMAIN VERY ELUSIVE

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Although the "common date" dollars remain easily available by the roll (and often, by the bag), bidding for the scarce rolls and singles has lacked noticeably in results throughout this past week. Many of the Carson City rolls and several of the even more elusive "O" and "S" Morgan rolls have registered increases of up to $50. Still very few are offered for sale. Obviously most of this material is really scarce and the few which dealers currently have in stock are almost literally "not for sale"—at least, not yet.

The "rare" singles in the Morgan series have registered even more impressive gains. The most spectacular jump was recorded by the 1895-O—which in "well struck, strictly BU condition is now bid at $500 (up from $275). The almost impossible 1892-S is also up another notch—with bids at $2000 for "please, even one" choice piece! Following along with somewhat more normal gains (but similar strong demand) are 84-S, 85-CC, 86-O, 93-CC, 93-O, 94-O, 95-S, 00-S and 01-S. None of these are easy to locate—although "slidders" seem plentiful enough. As always, in a "hot" market, it is wise to "double check" each coin you are buying. Virtually all dealers know the differences between "slidders", weak strikes and choice BU coins—it is usually the collector and often the investor who gets stuck!

For these elusive singles—in both the Morgan and Peace series—it is often difficult to establish weekly Newsletter bid and ask levels. In reaching their buy and sell prices, dealers have to consider each coin individually. Buy requests usually ask for "strictly BU"—"gem only"—"full breast feathers", etc. Sell lists often state that the coin is an "average unc"—"BU, but with bag marks"—"superb gemmy gem", etc. These qualifying remarks can affect the price by as much as $100. Or—in the case of such dates as 1892-S, 93-S, 95-O, etc.—by much more. Newsletter bid and ask levels are recorded for well struck, strictly BU coins—but not for "superb gems" and the like (which usually command stiff premiums).

This Week's Market

CENTS:

Some of the earlier issues are offered at still lower prices; most of the later dates remain unchanged—and virtually untraded.

1955S - A bag or two is bid at $1200

1960P (sm) - An occasional sale is noted in the $150-$155 range

NICKELS:

Only widely scattered adjustments have been registered; single BU Wartime sets are now available at $23.

1939S - A "gem" roll traded at $350

1942D - Difficult to locate at the current bid of $240

1950P - Still edging lower; offered now at $56.50

1959P - Increased interest at the bid level of $4

DIMES:

As with the other series, there are relatively few changes; BU single Roosevelt sets are easy to pick up at $52.50. Several of the pre'41 Mercury rolls are in mild demand at present levels.

QUARTERS:

BU single "short sets" edge higher—at $106 bid; most rolls are steady and lightly traded.

1950S - Offered now at $77.50

1951S - A "tough" one at times; bid now $195

1952S - Offered now at $72.50

1955D - Bids range from $115 to $120—with an occasional sale around $120

HALVES:

Walking Liberty rolls and singles continue to register dealer and investor demand—but bids, for the most part, are at last week's levels. The Franklin's are again lightly mixed.

1942S - Bid moves up to $190

1947D - Very difficult to find at $120 bid

1955P - Offered in quantity as low as $140

DOLLARS:

The scarce singles and rolls suddenly move ahead—with relatively little material offered to the many anxious bidders.

1882CC - Bid now at $490

1886O - Bid now at $300

1889S - Bid now at $555

1894O - Bid now at $1000

1901S - Bid now at $600

PROOF SETS:

Very little change—very little action.

1968S - Available in 100 set lots of $1275

1969S - Bid moves up to $11.10

GOLD: The following prices are for high grade common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

During the past ten years the inflation rate in this country has exceeded 25% . . . when we add up the total for the period. That's a big slice out of the purchasing dollars. There isn't much chance that our dollar won't suffer the same rate of erosion during the coming decade. In fact . . . we'll be lucky if the total for the next ten years isn't far greater than 25%!!

Measuring inflation in this manner shows us how much we can lose while we are struggling and sweating and trying to put aside a reserve for our retirement years. How sad it will be if this fund . . . in savings . . . turns out to have HALF the purchasing power that it might have today!

It is something to think about. You may end up with $10,000, $20,000 or $30,000 in the savings account and think you are sitting pretty . . . but you may only REALLY have $5,000, $10,000 or $15,000 in actual purchasing power! If you are hoping that by putting money away that the high bank interest rates will help to pile up the retirement fund . . . you are partially right. It can be done to the tune of about 5% yearly if you leave the interest in your account and don't spend it. But . . . the inflation rate of 2-1/2% or perhaps even 5% yearly can almost or completely wipe out the gain. Higher income taxes on the interest that is paid yearly on your bank account . . . will grab another fifth or a quarter of the interest gain . . . each year. So . . . you could end up with a very poor reserve for the retirement years.

The "saver" is going to have to turn into an "investor." No doubt about it . . . we are entering the AGE OF INVESTING. The wise investor will look for yields that are in EXCESS of the traditional 5% to 10%. He will NEED 15% to 25% yields to stay ahead!! Rare coins have a history of such yields. The history of price advances from 1935 to 1965 are unmatched in the history of all investments the world over! No other investment can boast of a 20% to 25% yield EVERY YEAR for each of the past 30 years (1935-1965). This includes all coin series and covers mostly the semi-key and key coins. Some of the common issues have also had price histories almost as good! After complete recovery has taken place this generous pattern could be restored!

Two things are shaping up for the latter part of this year that will affect the coin industry. I am not at liberty to reveal what one of the moves will be except to say that there are plans for large undertakings. If the plans go through we may see another roll shortage . . . with a large demand being generated for key BU rolls. Watch particularly the BU cent and nickel roll market.

The other event is quite dramatic and should shake up the coin world in the months ahead. It is all part of a project that my CIC service is creating. Look for announcements throughout the industry. You will be taking part in this research. The results could very well change much of the coin hobby and the coin investment!!

If you have long range plans for your children . . . and yourself . . . this could be the time to select some of the BU Jefferson nickel rolls that are now available at bargain prices. Any of the key silver rolls that are below market . . . still being sold at "bargain basement" prices (considering the mintage and silver shortage) this would be the time to snap them up! Try to make these investments long term investments of five years or so. The coming seventies are going to bring about boom times in the economy and boom times in the coin industry . . . and will start an era of Peace. Cycle experts say we are now entering a non-involvement cycle that will last for the next two decades!

ROLL TRADING MODERATE; PRICES ARE MIXED Scarce Walking Liberties and Morgans Lead Bidding

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

No area of the market has experienced exceptional demand this week—most rolls in all series can be located without too much effort. Somewhat of an exception are the Walking Liberty rolls (mostly 1941-47) and numerous dates in the Morgan dollar series—dates which are rarely traded by the roll anyway. Most of this week's changes have been minor—with more "downs" than "ups". Still, an occasional roll or two in each series has enjoyed a flurry of activity (even one or two dates in the Lincoln series has appeared on buyers' lists). Five and ten roll lots, however, of Jeffersons, Roosevelts, later Washington and Franklins, and common date silver dollars abound. Most Lincolns are available in substantially larger quantities. Proof sets, too, fall mostly into the "easily available" category.

In the face of this week's rather sluggish trading, the overall outlook for the coin market is bright. A third teletype system is now in operation—a fourth will soon be a reality—and, there is talk of a fifth! This obviously reflects optimism—setting up a teletype system is not a simple undertaking and is only begun with the "long range" in mind. With teletypes available to more and more dealers, many new areas of the country will be included—bringing more investors into closer contact with buying and selling sources. It is difficult to see how this can be other than beneficial to the coin market.

With the proliferation of teletype systems, there in all likelihood will be the usual rash of new "pricing sheets" and "advisory services"—these have never failed to appear during strong market periods. A few years back, as a matter of fact, there were four or five teletype systems and probably eight or ten publications of various sorts—all reporting on the same market!

This Week's Market

CENTS: Pretty much the usual story—several lower ask levels; very light trading. Only the 1947-S roll is bucking the trend with consistent bids at $14 on one teletype circuit.

NICKELS: Still a minimum of bidding—and, as a matter of fact, a minimum of sales.

1937S - A roll or two is available at $142.50

1938D (J) - Also available—at a lower $167.50

1943D - "Choice" rolls are offered at $135

1953P & D, 54P & D, 55-D, 56P & D and 57P - All are in demand at current levels

DIMES: Numerous minor adjustments—mostly on the "down" side. BU single sets can be purchased at $50 in lots of ten or more.

1946S & 1948S - Both are now offered at $40

1953S - Small lots are available at $21 per

1955P - A sale or two noted at $55

1955S - Five or ten rolls have traded at a higher $23.50

QUARTERS: Quite a number of rolls have experienced minor changes; as with the rest of the market, sales have been rather limited.

1943D & 1945D - These two register slight gains

1952S - A couple of rolls have traded at a lower $67.50

1955D - Ask is again $120—with plenty of rolls available

1958P - Increased interest at $41 bid; few offered

HALVES: Several more advances for the relatively elusive W. L.; the Franklins are virtually unchanged—with only an occasional transaction registered.

1912D - Bid moves up to $275; still very elusive

1943D - Also up sharply; bid now $220

1947P - None offered to bidders at $167.50

DOLLARS: The "common dates" edge a dollar or two lower; still very few of the more scarce issues are offered.

BU Peace bags are bid at $2235

BU Morgan bags are bid at $2300

Circ bags are bid at $1925—all delivered

PROOF SETS: The 68-S and 69-S sets are now neck and neck with sales mostly around $11.50; most other sets in the 1955-64 group edge lower (except: the 60 small date).

1955 - Offered in lots of 100 at $26 per

1956 - Also available in 100 set lots—at $11.50 per

1964 - Quantity bidding noted at $7.50

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

(PART ONE)

For those investors who are interested in intermediate to long term investments, the beautiful and popular Walking Liberty half dollar "short set" should be considered a prime candidate. This set of only twenty coins "has a lot going for it"—and, before examining each date and mintmark individually, several favorable factors will be discussed. This analysis of the investment potential of the "short set" will cover four CDN Investment Reports.

POPULARITY: The Walking Liberty half was the last coin of "classical" design to fall victim to trend toward "portrait" coins—with the Mercury dime passing into history two years earlier. It is considered among the most beautiful of all U. S. coins by many—certainly it is one of the treu works of art in the numismatic world. Even the simplest "type" collection is greatly enhanced by a choice BU specimen and a complete "short set" in uncirculated condition is something of a showpiece—one currently attainable even by collectors of only modest means. The current popularity of the Walking Liberty will continue to increase in the coming years as our coinage becomes more and more "utilitarian". The only other set of classically designed coins available to the average collector is the Mercury dime "short set" (1941-45). There is actually no challenge involved in putting these Mercuries together—and far less investment potential is involved. None of the Mercury rolls in this group are scarce and, in fact, lots of five, ten or twenty-five rolls can be located without too much effort. This is not true of the Walking Liberty rolls for the same years.

AVAILABILITY: Although each of the twenty coins in the W. L. "short set" is desirable as a single (there are no "junker" dates as in all later series) there are no prohibitively expensive dates or varieties. The most costly single is, of course, the 1941-S—and yet strictly BU specimens are available for under $30. Most of the Philly issues and even several of the mint-marked dates are currently priced around $5-$7.50. Choice complete "short sets" can be located on the tapes at or near the $165 level. And, all twenty of the rolls are available for those who wish to invest in a BU roll set. True, it might take a while to locate a choice roll of a few dates—but it can be done. Several of the rolls are currently underpriced and these will be pinpointed in the next three CDN Investment Reports.

RESALE: Probably the most important aspect of a coin investment is liquidity. Walking Liberty halves (particularly 1941-47) by the set, roll or single coin are definitely easy to resell. This is not always true of many other series. Earlier series are usually not collected by date and the expensive "D" and "S" coins are, at best, "slow sellers". This is particularly true of Barber and Seated Liberty coins. At present, both the early Walking Liberties and early Mercuries are in demand—but these two have had (and will have again) their "quiet periods". The interest in BU Buffalos, as an example, has waned considerably in the last year or two. The later series (Roosevelts, Franklins, etc.) have their definite "ups and downs"—and, when out of the spotlight, only real bargain prices seem to attract buyers. The W. L. "short set" does not seem to suffer to any degree from either of these problems. An excellent example is this: not over a year ago, three bags of BU 1941-P's entered the marketplace. This is a large offering in the W. L. series. Still, the price held up extremely well—with sales in the $75-$80 range. These coins were in demand for roll sets, single sets and as "type" coins. A comparable offering in, say, the Roosevelt series would have seen the price skid for the particular date involved. This holds true, as a matter of fact, for virtually all of the current series. The dealer or investor who wants to sell Walking Liberty halves, on the other hand, rarely has to lower his asking price to make a sale. "Bargain offerings" are seldom encountered in the "short set".

Beginning with the Newsletter of April 25th, we will examine the investment potential of each roll in the 1941-47 group. Several present outstanding long term values.

W.L. HALVES & MORGANS REMAIN STRONG "TAX TIME" BUYING SLOWS IN MOST OTHER AREAS

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

"Tax time" seems to have taken its toll among buyers. Want lists have been shorter in the past couple of weeks and the number of recorded transactions has dropped proportionately. This, of course, is not unusual at this time of year—collectors and investors (and dealers, too!) are paying their taxes rather than buying coins. "Bargain offerings", naturally, have increased—as those who were "caught short" attempt to accumulate some cash in a hurry. For those who were prepared for just this sort of thing, however, some beautiful opportunities to buy have come along this week.

The later date rolls in dimes, quarters and halves have been in particularly plentiful supply and—if the buyer is willing to "take the lot"—very attractive price tags have been attached. Nearly all proof sets, too, (after 1954) have been listed for sale in lots of one hundred or more sets—also at bargain levels—with very few takers. In a week or two the majority of these "steals" will disappear from the tapes and things will be back to normal. At least some of the material purchased during "tax time" will then reappear with more normal price tags.

The material which has recently been in the most demand (W.L. halves, silver dollars) has not generally appeared among these bargain listings. In fact, bid levels have advanced another notch for many dates in both series. The really elusive Morgan dollar singles sometimes advance by as much as $50 in one week (an occasionally by much more), yet hardly a specimen comes out of hiding. Three weeks ago the 1895-O was bid at $275—last week the bid was $500—and this week the bid is $550! The rare rolls in the Morgan series also fall into this category—none seem to be available no matter what level the bid has reached.

Common date dollar bags, by the way, are bid as follows:

Morgans - $2325 Circulated - $1925
Peace - $2200

Several late New Orleans bags (99-O, 00-O, 01-O) have been offered at $2775 and the more common dates (84-O, 85-O, 87-P, etc.) are available at around $2350.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Transactions are still at a minimum—with only an occasional bidder showing any interest at all.

1943S - Available in quantity at $23.50
1947S - Again up slightly—with bids at $14.50
1949S - Offered at an attractive $30
1960D sm - Bags can now be picked up for $350

NICKELS: Numerous "bargains" have appeared this week; BU single Jefferson sets are offered at $105.

1938D & S - Both are now available at $165
1942D - Bid moves up to $245; quite difficult to locate 1942S - Several rolls are offered at $117.50
1953D - Still edging higher; sales at $6.50

DIMES: Only scattered "plus" signs—mostly lower ask levels. The later date Roosevelts abound.

1947D & 1948D - Both are available at $43
1950D - This one is up—with bids at $52.50
1950S - Offered now at $310
1951S - Offered now at $220
1955P & D - Both edge lower again—with only an occasional sale noted QUARTERS: Prices are mixed for the Washingtons—sales remain limited; BU single "short sets" are up to $107.50 bid.

1946S - Five and ten roll lots are offered at $120 per

1947P & 1948S - Both edge higher with bids at $46
1953P - Often quite "tough": now available at $42
1955D - Still plentiful at $120 ask 1958P - Transactions at a slightly higher $42

HALVES: The strongest area of the market is still the Walking Liberties; the Franklins slip lower for the most part.

1944D & 1945D - Two underpriced rolls move slightly higher
1946D - Sales noted at $175
1946S - Sales noted at $117.50
1948P - Now available at a lower $157.50
1949D & S - Both slip $10 lower; little interest is registered 1950D - This one is up $5—with sales as high as $150
1953S - Sales noted at $58.50

DOLLARS: Those real "toughies" (both rolls and singles) in the Morgan series continue to gain ground; very few are offered for sale.

1879CC - Choice singles are bid at $200
1893P - The bid moves up to $900; none offered 1895O - Another "impossible" single; bid at $550!
1896O - Also up—to $800 bid; none offered
1901P - Singles are bid at $80; rolls at $1500

PROOF SETS: Not much action here—one hundred (and more) set lots of most dates remain easily available.

1968S - Offered in quantity at $11.25
1969S - Offered in quantity at $11.00

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

We know that Coin World subscription totals have been advancing. My CIC newsletter covers these advances this month and they have been most dramatic and promise much health and growth for the coin hobby when projections are made for the future!! This is not the only area that has been advancing subscription-wise. The largest coin magazine in the world (Coinage) has just informed me that their subscription total is no longer around the 100,000 printing mark but is instead now up to 150,000 monthly!! This is a startling advance . . . a 50% advance during the last year or so! Coinage, of course, reaches out to the non-collecting public. This magazine appears on just about every magazine stand in every supermarket in the country. It is everywhere. Shopping centers, cut-rate drug stores, corner stores, department stores, resorts, super markets. This newsstand circulation would be more apt to be among the NEW collectors or the would-be collectors . . . or just casually interested people. And that means new blood to the hobby. We have to remember too that each issue of this beautiful magazine is bound to be read by other members of the family, the next door neighbor and a group of friends. Additional readers . . . per copy . . . could be anywhere from 2 to 10.

I am told that Whitman readers in a survey voted against having 68-S proof coin spaces in the Blue folders. We ought to have more survey, polls and questionnaires in this numismatic world of ours. We need to know more about the hobby . . . much more. For this reason the CIC is conducting the first numismatic poll of its kind in the history of the coin industry! Many of my readers will be receiving this four page questionnaire. Others will probably see the questionnaires reproduced in Coin World and Coinage. I hope that many of you will take the time to fill out as much of this questionnaire as you can. Every "bit" . . . you "bit" . . . when put together . . . collectively . . . with thousands of other "bits" . . . can reveal TOTAL answers that we have never had before! It will be to your benefit to take the time to study this questionnaire. It is very complete and contains questions for the coin dealer, the coin collector and the coin investor. Every part of the hobby and the investment is being sifted . . . studied. Each question in this survey has a purpose . . . there is a special reason for asking it. Some of the answers . . . ALONE . . . when taken alone . . . will not reveal anything usable or startling . . . at first sight . . . but may be the KEY question that will be a partner to another question . . . elsewhere in the folder . . . BOTH answers will "lock-in" together and we will have something dramatic and REAL for the first time. We are using, of course, computer-like systems and scientific forms of analyzing. The job will be huge but we hope to find out what the source of supply is for the hobby and investment . . . and what the market is NOW-and in the coming future. We want to know how many dealers there are . . . how many investors . . . how many coin collectors. We want to know what spaces lie unfilled in the collector boards. We want to know what the inventory is . . . and this will include the rolls and singles being held today by the dealer, investor and coin collector. We want to know what huge supplies of certain issues are overhanging the market. We want to know what coins the collector needs most today . . . in the future. We want to know what series he will turn to in the years ahead. We want to know how high this collector will go . . . price-wise . . . for a valuable coin . . . now . . . or later on. We want to know if the inventory of certain rolls or singles being held today is too large for the coming collector market. And on and on. The information all of us should have . . . about this coin world . . . is endless. It is really frightening how little we do know about the hobby and the investment . . . particularly when we consider the millions and millions of dollars that are tied up in coin investments . . . and the millions more that represent the coin collections of the nation! When we can release this data to the coin industry, the hobby and the investment should certainly take on a new respect and interest to the many who are now looking at us and wondering. We gain respectability and prestige . . . and stability . . . if there are ANSWERS available. All other investments have this data on file. Statistics for most hobbies are fairly hazy and the coin collecting hobby is no exception. However . . . this hobby is different from all other hobbies because it is really an INVESTMENT! Each member of this particular hobby has a sizeable investment involved . . . a potential fortune in many instances . . . so it is nothing to fool around with. The collector, as well as the investor behind the hobby . . . must have a knowledge of his hobby . . . must have figures . . . facts . . . because he is involved in more than just a hobby!

Anyone who does not run across one of these questionnaires in the months ahead, please write me, care of the Newsletter, and I will see that you get one.

Circulated Roll Coverage Extended—See Page Five

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

In recent months more and more dates have been appearing on circulated roll "want lists". As a matter of fact, since nearly all silver coins have disappeared from pocket change, it has become necessary for dealers to stock even the common date dimes, quarters and halves in circulated condition. Even the cents and nickels have gotten into the act—only scattered dates in any denomination can still be picked out of circulation. To keep pace with changing situation, we have extended the circ roll chart to include virtually all dates currently traded—1934 to date. Naturally some of the dates we have added are still not regularly bought and sold—yet indications are that even these most common dates will soon take their place in regular trading.

Chances are that some scarcities will develop among the dates which are now considered almost too common to bother with. If, for instance, the rumored "Eisenhower quarter" becomes a reality, buyers might find that some circ quarters in the "short set" are tough to locate by the roll. One investment which might be worthy of consideration is the circ roll set of quarters, 1941-64. These are mentioned only infrequently on the tapes and most dates are still available for the "common silver" price. For those investors who still have access to bags of common silver quarters it might be wise to save a few dates from the eventual "melting pot". Also, it might be surprising to find out which dates are the least plentiful. As an example, the 1942-S circ roll is really common—they have been saved for years. Yet, a dealer who needs a circ roll of 1953-P's will have his "buy" request ignored for days at a time!

In general, bidding has been rather sluggish all week. "Tax time" bargains are still plentiful in all series except the Walking Liberty halves (in this series even the common date "P" mint rolls are strong at current levels). More and more of the "fifty dollar rolls" in the Morgan series are offered for sale—yet most silver dollar buyers are after the better dates. Even solid "prooflike" rolls of the easily located San Francisco and New Orleans issues are available at very reasonable prices.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Several more small losses; bidders remain few and far between.

NICKELS: Most of last week's "bargains" are still available—some at even lower levels. Interest in circ rolls becomes more apparent.

- 1943S - Now listed for sale at $115
- 1943D - A sale or two noted around $132.50
- 1950P - Small "lots" are available at $55 per

DIMES: Scattered early Mercury rolls (1935-40) appear—mostly at current levels; several Roosevelts again slip lower.

- 1948P - Offered in quantity at $85
- 1949P - Usually quite elusive; now offered at $285
- 1950D - This one is up—with bids at $57.50
- 1955D - Finally a little action; bid again at $34

QUARTERS: Bidders generally ignore the numerous lower ask levels registered this week. Single BU sets remain strong at $107.50.

- 1945D - Available now at $77.50
- 1954S - An occasional sale around $32
- 1955D - Still easily located; sales at $115

HALVES: The W.L. rolls are still "doing their thing"; Franklins remain rather quiet—with the "S" mint circ rolls offered at "bargain levels".

- 1939D - Up $5—with none offered to bidders at $160

- 1947P - Still difficult to corner; bid now $170
- 1948P - Available at a lower $155
- 1950D - On the "move" again—bid now $150

DOLLARS: very little change; the "common dates" are plentiful by the roll or bag and the "toughies" remain on "wanted" lists.

- 1891P - Bid moves up to $150
- 1901S - Up $50 this week—bids at $650
- 1904O - Available in small lots at $65 per

PROOF SETS: The early sets "adjust" with slightly lower ask levels; most later dates are unchanged—with only scattered transactions recorded.

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE WALKING LIBERTY "SHORT SET"

1941-47

An Investment Area to be Considered

(PART TWO)

1941-P (24,207,412)

As was previously mentioned in the introduction to this analysis, three bags of 41-P's came onto the market about a year ago. The price held up well—but when looking around for good investments, the idea is, of course, to pick a date which is as scarce as possible. Actually, none of the "P" mint Walking Liberty rolls except 1947 is scarce (although there is one with better potential which we will examine later). Today's price for the 1941-P is about $90—slightly higher than the $82.50 reached during the peak market of 1964. At this point, it is only an average buy and will appreciate only in proportion to the "short set" as a whole.

1941-D (11,248,400)

One of the best buys (if not THE best buy) in the "short set"—this roll is drastically under-rated. Finding the 1941-D is not much easier than locating a roll of 1941-S—and look at the price difference! There isn't a really appreciable difference in mintage, either. An occasional roll crosses the tapes—usually with a $190 price tag—yet when a dealer or investor decided to go after a roll or two it may take weeks to fill the order. Actually, even mild attempts at buying would see the price advance rapidly—and a concerted buying effort could easily level the price in the $300-$350 area. Buy this one now. The 1964 high was $230—$30 higher than the price reached by the 42-D roll (which is now selling for around $300!) Highly recommended at under $200—excellent potential and definitely a date which will remain on "want lists" for both singles and rolls.

1941-S (8,098,000)

This date has long been the "key" date in the "short set". Specimens are rarely well-struck—the head and hand of Liberty are almost always very weak. Really "fussy" collectors have been known to offer $50 for a sharply struck gem 1941-S, but most attempts to locate such a piece have been unsuccessful. On the other hand, nice "average strike" rolls are currently bringing top dollar at $500 or so per roll ($25 per coin). Quantities are known to exist in the mid-west—some say several bags. If this is so, the owners are handling it well—chances are the price will remain in the $500 area for some time to come. Certainly no large number of rolls are about to be "dumped" on the market. However, there are several better buys in the "short set" when investing in rolls. When buying single BU sets (an excellent idea, by the way, at $165 or so) make sure the 41-S isn't a "slider" and a "better than average strike" would, of course, be desirable.

1942-P (47,839,120)

There is not much to say here that doesn't apply to all "P" mint rolls from 1941 thru 1945. All have large mintages and all are basically priced in relation to the "type coin" price tag. Currently the least expensive W. L. type coin retails for around $5-$6 (rolls, on the tapes, bring around $85). The price for common date type coins will advance rather slowly—the

In contrast to the 42-D, the San Francisco issue is currently selling considerably below its 1964 high of $245 (today's price tag is generally in the $200 area). As with the 41-D, even moderate buying attempts would see the price advance to $300—and serious efforts to corner a supply of rolls could result in a considerably higher price. One prominent dealer in the Los Angeles area recently stated that he could buy rolls of 1941-S without much trouble—but that finding enough 42-S's to fill his customers' "want lists" is quite a task. This is another roll which is highly recommended at today's price—strikes are better than the 1941-S and for the same $500 the investor can pick up two and a half rolls rather than one.

BIDDING REMAINS SLOW; SALES ARE LIGHT

Walking Liberty Halves Buck Trend with Higher Prices

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

The long awaited "upswing" for proof sets has obviously yet to materialize—as a matter of fact, recent dealer and investor interest in proof sets has been at a virtual standstill. Prices for sets in 1950-1969 group have remained nearly unchanged for a couple of weeks now—however, this is mainly due to the reluctance of dealers to go any lower in their attempts to sell. To make their offerings more attractive, numerous sellers have listed one hundred set lots at "bid plus shipping". In most cases this results in the buyer paying "ask" anyway. All dates after (and including) 1955 are currently available by the hundred—or more. Sales have been very light. The scattered bids have been very low.

The proof set "cycle" has usually been spaced at about eighteen to twenty month intervals. In checking past Newsletters, we find that prices one year ago (issue of May 3rd, 1968) were somewhat higher than today's for all dates. Going back a little further (January 5, 1968) we find prices considerably higher. At that point, the 1964 set was bid at $12.25; the 1958 at $23; the 1955 at $31, the 1954 at $23.50, etc. However, the May 5th, 1967 issue (exactly two years ago) records prices almost identical with current levels! The last "push", therefore, came along about sixteen or seventeen months ago—in late 1967 and early 1968. Prices started from a level almost identical with today's prices—and forged ahead (with in a relatively short time) to rather impressive heights. It has taken at least a full year for these gains to be completely obliterated.

Today we see a definite reluctance of the part of dealers or investors to sell their sets for anything less than the current bid (virtually identical to the "current bid" registered two years ago on May 5th, 1967.) The Newsletter is not in the "predicting" business—these are facts which are being pointed out so that the proof set picture can be more thoroughly understood. Astute investors would do well to keep an eye on proof sets. There is little chance that prices will remain at current low levels indefinitely. Just when they will begin to advance—and how rapidly—cannot be pinpointed with a stopwatch. The "stage setting", however, looks familiar.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Early dates register a few adjustments; many late dates (1956-63) are offered by the bag at lower levels.

NICKELS: A minimum of changes this week—sluggish trading continues for the BU rolls. Interest in circ rolls is still evident—with several small gains noted.

1938S - Available now at a lower $162.50

1950D - Down $10; offered regularly at $425

DIMES: Most Mercury rolls remain on the market at current ask levels; several Roosevelts slip lower—with BU single sets now available at $50.

1946D - Lots of ten rolls are offered at $17 per

1947D - For sale again at $42

1952S - Several rolls are on the market at $80

1955PDS roll sets - Easily located at $115

QUARTERS: The earlier dates are mixed; numerous later issues are offered in five or ten roll lots at slightly lower prices.

1937D - A desirable roll; available at $325

1946D - Another tough date; offered at $81

1949P - Up $10; bids are generally ignored at $250

1949D - Often scarce—for sale now at $125

1955D - Still edging lower; available at $117.50

HALVES: Walking Liberty rolls continue their upward climb—with few rolls to be found; Franklins are very lightly mixed.

1939D - Sales at a considerably higher $178

1941D - Bid moves up to $185

1942S - Bid moves up to $200

1943D - Up another $5—with bids now at $225

1946D - Bid moves up to $175

1946S - Sales recorded at $117.50

1900O - A bag or two is available at $2600 ($52 per roll)

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

BID columns show the highest price

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

The war against inflation goes on but the amount of money in circulation . . . week to week . . . is not decreasing. In fact, it is increasing. The rate is less than it has been in the past and I suppose there is some encouragement in this change. Latest weekly figure shows a modest increase from $49,526,000,000 to $49,766,000,000. Still upward. Watch these figures in your Sunday paper and you can have a ring-side seat at the battle of the inflation.

If inflation continues at 4% a year the purchasing power of today's dollar will hit a low of 68¢ by 1978. If the worst happens and the yearly rise is about 6% we will find the purchasing power sinking to 56¢ per dollar. The investor is going to have to realize that the future is going to bring more inflation and higher taxes. One way or another taxes and inflation are going to gobble up about HALF of anything the investor makes. In other words the investing man is going to have to bring in a 10% yearly gain in order to hold on to 5% in REAL purchasing value.

Many concerned people have gone into the stock market . . . the mutual funds . . . and generally these folks have kept ahead of the rising living costs. Holders of bonds, however, have not done so well. Land investment has yielded 7% to 10% in some instances but not always and this area can be quite tricky. There are many examples of stocks . . . for one reason or another, slumping. Stocks are not always an inflation hedge and of course it is a known fact that if inflation becomes too serious and there is a profit squeeze we find the market reacting against inflation instead of riding along with it! At the moment the stock market is having some sizeable reverses and many stock investors are beginning to wonder if they are going to be winners or losers in the battle against inflation. You see . . . these investors are finding out that they can get hurt when an attempt is made to STOP inflation . . . and this is what is going on now and will go on all through the coming summer and fall!

One reason why your taxes will continue to go up and up is the need for more money for teachers, policemen, firemen and other public employees. It never ends. Of course President Nixon will attempt to trim the Federal spending in the fight against inflation but the States seem ready to jump right in and take up the tax slack. Many people are now finding that their local and state income taxes are actually equalling the amounts THEY USED TO PAY on their FEDERAL INCOME TAXES!! Yes, many people who never paid a State Income Tax . . . or at the most $30 or $50 . . . are now finding that they are having to pay several hundred dollars . . . many as much as $500! Social Security taxes for the self-employed . . . in California . . . is almost $500. Another $500 to add to the tax bill at the end of the year! And of course we have the sur-tax that is now jumping from last year's 7-1/2% to 10% for 1969!

The average man has to dig a "foxhole" in this war and protect himself. The only way seems to be in careful investing. The most important investments today appear to be stocks, bonds, real estate, art work and coins. If you like to diversify these are the areas to concentrate on. All of them . . . over the long term . . . will probably prove to be profitable. Each . . . in turn . . . will have its moment. There will be ups and downs . . . but over the long term . . . 5, 10, 15, 20 years . . . there WILL be inflation-proof GAINS! some will take longer than others but if you have patience . . . and your selections have been "blue-chip", there shouldn't be an inflation problem in your life!

Watch for the Nixon Administration to use more extreme measures during the next 6 months. The money supply will be squeezed several times, there will be further attempts to trim the budget. If that doesn't work we may even have some sort of wage and price controls brought before Congress. If the inflation boom is dampened and inflation finally slowed down to 3%, and eventually 2%, you can look for a slowing down of the economy sometime in 1970. A recession would in turn bring about a further slowing because the public would quickly develop price resistance if there was such a crisis. We've had these minor recessions before and no doubt they were the reason why we have been able to control inflation over the years while the rest of the world have had to put up with violent forms of inflation! The seventies, nevertheless, still look good . . . and could end up being the most PERFECT decade this country has ever enjoyed!! Ten years of non-involvement . . . ten years of peace . . . ten years of controlled inflation . . . ten years of undreamed-of advances in every field of endeavor!!

LATE DATE BU ROLLS ARE PLENTIFUL

Five Dollar Indian Leads New Gold Upswing

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Sluggish and uninspired trading in the silver market during recent weeks has resulted in a mild flood of late date BU rolls being offered for sale. This is particularly true for the late Roosevelts and Washingtons—but to some degree the Franklins have also been included. "Take the lot at bid plus shipping" often follows a list of BU dime and/or quarter rolls—usually beginning with 1956 and running thru 1964. Not too long ago these were THE rolls to buy—and price advances were recorded by the hour. The quantities currently offered wouldn't have been sufficient to cover one day's bidding. Now these very same rolls are going begging—and at considerably lower prices!

There are numerous good buys in this 1956-64 group (some dimes and quarters of 1953-54 are also included)—smart investors will buy now—not having bought six months ago at fifty to one-hundred percent more. The silver market, in all likelihood, will not remain at its current low level. In fact, rather substantial gains have been made in the past few days. Chances are, actually, that a day or two more of higher silver prices will result in most of these BU roll bargains being withdrawn from the tapes. Those investors who failed in recent weeks to buy dime rolls in the $7-$9 range and quarter rolls from $13-$16 will be paying considerably more—and having a tough time finding what they want. This, of course, is not an unusual occurrence—either in the coin market or in the stock market. Proof sets, by the way, currently fall into this same category—1958 sets, for instance, were a "hot item" at $22-$24 a year ago but are pretty well ignored at today's $13.50.

Gold—again led by the five-dollar Indian—is on the move. Advances, so far, have been nominal for most denominations—but the Indian five has advanced from $60 to $67.50 or so this week and the Indian ten has registered a sharp gain with bids now strong at $67.50.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Prices are "mixed" for a change—with several small gains noted. Sales, however, remain very scattered.

1941D & S - Both are available at $33

1947S - Bid moves up to $15; few offered

NICKELS: Several early dates (both Buffalos and Jefferson) slip lower; later issues register little change.

1937S - Often a popular date; now available at $135

1938S - Sales noted at the lower ask of $160

1942S - A few rolls are offered at $110

DIMES: Minus signs pepper the Roosevelt chart—nearly all dates are listed for a largely indifferent audience.

1946D - Quantities are for sale at $17

1949P - A few rolls are available now at $280

1954S - A transaction or two around $24

1955P - Ask now $55—with bids at $52.50

QUARTERS: Quiet prevails in the Washingtons; a few "tough dates" in the 40's are offered at lower levels.

1944S - Offered this week at $57.50

1945D - Sometimes hard to locate; ask now $75

1946S - A popular date; available at $117.50

HALVES: Walking Liberty rolls register further gains; Franklins are again mixed.

1939D - Levelling now at $176 bid

1940S - Bid moves back up to $165

1947P - Up $15—still very elusive at $185 bid

1948P - A sale or two in the $150 range

DOLLARS: The "$50 rolls" are all available at "bid plus shipping" (which is "ask"); a few scarce rolls show impressive gains.

1889S - Up $50—bid now at $600

1901S - Up $30—bid now at $740

1927P - Bid at $450—none offered

PROOF SETS: Little change—little interest in the many "bar-gains" offered.

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" (unless otherwise indicated) common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE WALKING LIBERTY "SHORT SET"

1941-47

An Investment Area to be Considered

(PART THREE)

1943-P (53,190,000)

There is not much to say about this roll—except that it boasts the largest mintage figure of the entire Walking Liberty series. As was previously mentioned, when a dealer asks for a "common date" W. L. roll, he usually ends up with a 42-P or 43-P (more often than not, a 43-P). The 1964 high was $80—today's bid is $83.50. The price will advance slowly—only in relation to the "type coin" price. There are numerous better buys in the "short set".

1943-D (11,346,000)

This one has been advancing right along with the 42-D in recent months. The January bid was $140—today's bid is $225. As with the 42-D, it is a little late to get in on this one. (The 1964 high, by the way, was only $145.) Although current bidders are not much more successful than were the January bidders, chances are that this roll, too, will level at around the $225-$250 mark while other dates "catch up". Again, a safe investment—but current potential is more attractive elsewhere.

1943-S (13,450,000)

For some reason this roll has been priced considerably ahead of the 42-S for some time now. This was not always the case. In 1964—during rather frantic bidding—the 43-S reached only $175 while the 42-S sold as high as $245. Today the figures are more or less reversed—leading to the conclusion that at current prices the 42-S is a far better buy. This is not to say that the 43-S is overpriced—only that advances in the next year or so will be less impressive than those of the 42-S. An average buy at today's price.

1944-P (28,206,000)

When investing in a "common date" roll or two this is probably the date to choose. This is not to imply that the 44-P is scarce—only that it seems to be offered less frequently than the other high mintage "P" mint rolls in the 1941-45 group. In other words, for the same $85-$87.50—given a choice—this roll may eventually prove to be a better investment than the other four dates.

1944-D (9,769,000)

This is by far the best buy of all the dates to be examined in this third section of the W. L. "short set" analysis. Bidders have, up to now, been keeping within the current price range when attempting to buy this one. And so far, nearly all "buy orders" have been ignored. The infrequent lists of W. L. rolls which appear for sale on the tapes almost invariably omit the 44-D—yet for some reason (probably oversight) the bid has remained at or near the current $92 for quite a while now. Even moderate attempts to buy would see a rapid advance to $125-$150. At least two dealers have mentioned their interest in this date—neither have been successful in securing any quantity. A price tag in the vicinity of $200 within a year or so wouldn't be surprising. One point to be remembered, however, is that "overlooked" rolls can remain relatively quiet for a long time even they are almost impossible to locate. Eventually, of course, the true scarcity is realized and the price advances (usually very rapidly) to a more realistic level. Timing is all important—and chances are that the time is running out for the current price on the 44-D. A few attempts at assembling BU roll sets could easily start the overdue price advance.

This roll is currently priced around $105-$110—the 1964 high was $95. While certainly not common, bidders haven't had too much of a problem lately in locating the occasional roll needed. Concentrated bidding would quickly advance the price to $125 or so—but above that figure advances probably would be rather slow. Perhaps a somewhat better than average buy—but there are better dates.

1945-P (31,502,000)

Again there is little to add regarding this "P" mint issue. Supplies are certainly adequate to meet present demand around $85. Another of the rolls which will be priced for some time to come on a "type coin" basis.

BUYING--SELLING Circulated Quarter rolls. Since 1963 I have bought and sold more Washington Quarter circulated rolls than any other dealer in the country—probably more than all dealers combined. Remember when the 1939-S qtr. was going begging at $30 per roll—just a few months ago. Now try to buy then at $75. I'll pay that price for a bag myself. MOST ROLLS ARE QUIET; W.L. HALVES MOVE UP Common Date Silver Bags are Extremely Volatile

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

The lifting of the ban on the melting of U. S. silver coins has resulted in a week of wild gyrations in the bid price for common silver bags. This one week has witnessed bids all the way from ten percent to twenty percent. So far the silver price on the commodity market has changed surprisingly little since the ban was lifted—and dealers seem uncertain from day to day about what to offer for the bags. The price in the box at the bottom of this page is recorded as of Friday afternoon—it would be anybody's guess as to whether this price will be in effect on Monday morning! By next week, calmer trading is expected and a more stable bid price should be recorded.

The BU roll market has, in general, been a reflection of the last several weeks. Walking Liberty halves continue their upward climb and the more elusive dates among silver dollars are enjoying the usual demand. Otherwise, interest is mild at best for most dates—cents thru halves—and trading is light. Chances are that the current bargain prices for the late date BU dimes, quarters and halves won't be in effect much longer—especially if the bid for common date silver bags levels at the higher end of the spectrum. In fact, the whole process of trading and melting will certainly see many changes in the roll market—both BU and, probably to an even greater extent, in circulated rolls.

As a matter of fact, bidding is already on the increase for circulated dimes and quarters. It is not the low mintage and popular "S" mint rolls which are the most difficult to locate. No bids are noted, for instance, for circ rolls of 1950-S dimes—but both the 50-P and 50-D rolls are on "want lists". It has been previously mentioned that the scarcities which develop in the Roosevelt series and the Washington "short set" will be among the higher mintage dates which will be nearly all melted. Halves do not really fall into the same category—it isn't likely that many will be melted and mintage figures will still more or less determine scarcity.

This Week's Market

CENTS:

Further small gains have been registered by several of the earlier issues; trading remains light and scattered. Sales were noted during the week at $150 for the 1960-P small date roll.

NICKELS:

Still a minimum of activity—bidding is sporadic at best and sales are few and far between. Several of the later dates (at double face or so) still hold the interest of some investors.

- 1943D - At least one five-roll lot was offered at $125 per
- 1948D - Also available in "lots" at $30 per
- 1959P - Difficult to locate at $4.50 bid

DIMES:

Mercuries and Roosevelts are both quiet although the 1955-PDS roll sets are bid at a higher $112.50 (the single rolls are still available at recent levels).

- 1947P - Offered again at $26
- 1953P - Still slipping—with rolls now available at $22.50

QUARTERS:

A few of the popular dates edge lower—the 55-D roll has perked up a bit with bids at $117.50.

- 1940S - Offered at a lower $170

1943S - Also lower; available at $142.50

1946S - Numerous rolls are now on the market at $115

HALVES:

Again the Walking Liberty rolls have virtually cornered the market on "plus signs"; the Franklins record a few more lower ask levels.

"Common date" P-mints are bid now at $85

1944D - Now offered to bidders at $95

1947P - Up another $5—with bids at $190

1949D - Offered now at a lower $305

1951D - This Franklin roll is up $5—with bids at $305

1951S - Several rolls are available at $147.50

DOLLARS:

More gains than losses—with several scarce issues in continued demand.

1878CC - Offered at a lower $235

1885S - Offered at a lower $225

1894S - A real "toughie"—bid now at $775

1901S - Singles are bid at $42.50 and rolls at $805—none seem to be for sale.

PROOF SETS:

Interest remains at a near standstill—several sets are offered in quantity at slightly lower prices.

1968S - Bid now $10—available at $10.50

1969S - Bid now $9—available at $9.50

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" (unless otherwise indicated) common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

Two months ago I mentioned the possibility that the coin world would have a new "unsilver" dollar to collect, hoard and invest-in. I also stated that it seemed likely we would also have a new clad, silverless half dollar. As I am writing this, bulletins have been issued by the Treasury Department to the effect that these two possibilities may actually become facts!

The announcement also included a lifting of the ban on the melting of silver coins!

1968 saw our first recovery year after a coin depression lasting from 1965 through 1967. Despite the encouraging recovery in 1968 there has been some slippage in the wholesale roll market during 1969. Retail trade has slipped a bit but not as much. The overall picture hasn't been too bad but it could have been better. I believe that the latest Treasury announcements will stimulate the hobby and investment greatly!! And that is putting it mildly!

Naturally the silver dollar series is going to react tremendously! A series is about to be resumed again after a lapse of 34 years!! In a way it will be a new series of clad "unsilver" dollars but nevertheless still an extension of the silver dollar series. It should stimulate the interest in silver dollars by both collector and investor alike! The public, of course, will also take part and we should have the usual amount of hoarding of these dollars even though they will have no silver value.

There will be a souvenir value here and the public will not be able to resist the urge to "tuck them away."

There will be a large amount of trading of the new dollar when it comes out but I believe that the whole dollar series will react. This event is bound to spur the hobby on to better times and may add an additional two or three million collectors and collector-investors to the hobby. We lost that many during the coin depression and the news today may mean that we will regain the loss!

Having a new "silverless" half dollar will stir some additional interest in the half dollar series. If we are to have a new proof set that will carry both of these new coins . . . the proof set market could soar to new heights!! I covered this possibility in the March issue of my monthly CIC Communique.

The lifting of the ban on melting of silver coins will be a boon to the locked-in holders of late issue and common bags of silver coins. Now these sacks can be cashed-in and the money invested in other areas of numismatics.

The lifting of the ban on the melting of silver coins should stimulate the price level of the late date silver coins and I suppose it will bring about many, many BUY ads for the meltable coins. It should be a great time for the buying dealers! The least we can say is that it will bring life back to the silver investment section of the hobby. There will be publicity and the public is going to have its interest in silver coins RENEWED . . . now that they know that the coins represent a REAL silver value . . . that the coins can be melted into silver bullion!

The market price for silver is down to about 1.79. If the price level had been closer to the $2.50 peak, the lifting of the ban would have really been something!! There is always the chance, nevertheless, that the price of silver can advance again!

Interesting times are with us again. The coin industry is going to respond to all of these coming changes . . . in a big way!

COMMON SILVER TRADING DOMINATES MARKET

Prices are Mixed for the Lightly Traded Roll Market

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Buying, selling and "discussing" bags of common silver has virtually monopolized teletype activity throughout the week. The "bid" has leveled, as expected, at the higher end of the 10-20% spectrum recorded immediately after the ban against melting was lifted. By the end of this week dealers were paying 16-17% and were busy making shipping arrangements and deciding who was going to pay shipping costs. There is about a one percent cost involved in shipping a thousand dollar bag of silver—most bidders will pay 16% plus shipping or 17% delivered. (An occasional dealer tops them all and offers 17% plus shipping.)

When not actually trading, dealers are busy discussing the "future" of common silver—whether it is better to take a profit now or better to "wait for a higher profit" next week or next month. At this point there seems to be a nearly equal number of people on either side of the fence. Some see a 25-30% premium in a month or so—and others see 10%. Others are discussing the possibility of the government "stepping in" in some manner—perhaps with a "time limit" on melting! All in all, "common silver" has dominated trading and—with the exception of a date here and there—rolls and proof sets have been more or less ignored. Reminds one of the "silver certificate days".

A number of rarely offered rolls appeared on the tapes this week (the sale of which might free more cash for increased participation in the common silver market). For the investor "who has everything" one or two of the following rolls might prove interesting: nickels - 1929-D & S, 1934-D, 1935-S; dimes - 1934-D, 1935-D, 1936-D, 1938-D & S, 1939-S; quarters - 1938-S, 1939-S, 1940-D, 1942-S (all BU, of course).

This Week's Market

CENTS: A few dates are showing more strength—but quiet still reigns over most of the series.

1947S - Still edging higher—with bids at $16

1955S - In demand by the bag at $14.25 per NICKELS: Here too an occasional roll is in demand—otherwise, prices are basically unchanged.

1943D - Lower again this week; bid now $122.50

1950P - Ten roll lots are in demand at $55 per

1950D - "Original bank-wrapped" rolls are now offered at $415

1959P - Still on "want lists" at $4.50

DIMES: Most Mercuries in the 40's are easily located; very few price changes—very light trading.

1948P - Often quite elusive; offered at $82.50

1954S - Available in small lots at $24 per

1957D - Offered now at an even lower $12

QUARTERS: Scattered small losses for the earlier issues; several late date rolls edge higher.

1946S - Ask is now $113.50—with numerous rolls remaining on the market

1948S - Also around in small quantities—at $43

1955D - An occasional sale in the $117.50-$120 range

HALVES: Walking Liberty roll quiet just a bit—with a few small gains recorded; the Franklins register a couple of losses.

1940S - Bid moves back up to $170

1947P - Still very strong; up $10 with bids at $200

1950P - Offered at a lower $245

1953P - Offered at a lower $170

1965P - Sales noted as high as $16.25

DOLLARS: Numerous minor adjustments have been registered for the more easily available issues; the scarce dates are still scarce.

PROOF SETS: Dealers and investors continue to ignore the numerous "bargain offerings"; several sets slip slightly lower.

1958 - This one is up a little—with sales at $13

1969S - Even lower this week; bid now $8.50

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" (unless otherwise indicated) common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE WALKING LIBERTY "SHORT SET" 1941-47

An Investment Area to be Considered

(CONCLUSION)

1945-D (9,966,800)

This is the most easily located Denver issue in the "short set". Recent bids of $90 have already topped the high of $88 registered during peak market trading in 1964. Actually, a price tag in the $95 area is still somewhat low. Considering that any Philly roll will now fetch $85, the 45-D would be more realistically priced at around $120. All indications are that bids will slowly advance to this level in the next several months. Perhaps a slightly better than average investment at today's price. In other words, the investor can, at this point, spend just a few dollars more and get this mintmarked roll.

1945-S (10,156,000)

As with the above issue, this is the most easily located "S" mint roll—being only slightly more elusive than the Denver coin. Since 1964, the 45-S has always managed to keep a few dollars ahead of the 45-D (with a peak bid of $95 in 1964)—and the current bid of $107.50 still reflects this small lead. The outlook for the next year or so is also much the same. The price will most likely level in the vicinity of $135—making this another slightly better than average buy.

1946-P (12,118,000)

At this point in the "short set" a twelve million mintage was rather low for a Philly issue. This fact, coupled with only scattered investor interest and a two-million mintage at Denver might have set the stage for a real "sleeper". During 1964, the bid reached $90 (only $10 more than the average "P" mint roll)—and today's bid is $96. These bids are not really impressive, yet when the scattered pockets of available rolls are exhausted the bid could easily reach $150 or more. At $96 or so, this is a safe investment—but price advances could be nominal for some time to come. On the other hand, for those investors who are interested in a speculative roll with a minimum downside risk, this is the perfect candidate.

1946-D (2,151,000)

According to virtually all investment advisory services, this low mintage roll is the "investors dream". A roll with this much popularity and publicity already has head start over other issues. At this point, however, there are seven rolls in the "short set" which are more scarce (at least, there are seven which boast higher bids). Our opinion is that the 46-D roll is around in at least the same supply as the 41-D, 44-D, 46-S and 47-D rolls (to name a few)—all of which could prove to be better long-term investments. The tendency to save quantities of low mintage issues, by the way, did not begin in 1955—the 46-S quarter is an excellent example. (Another "tendency" of some "analysts" seems to be to recommend the lowest mintages in each series and let it go at that.) True, popularity will always be on the side of the 46-D—but offer to pay "ask" for both the 44-D and 46-D rolls and see how many of each you get!

1946-S (3,724,000)

Recent attempts to buy this roll have pushed the bid up to $117.50—still below the 1964 high of $135. So far, most "want lists" have been filled—but this is a roll which should not be overlooked. In 1946 many investors had their hands full with low mintages and the new Roosevelt dime. An upside potential of $200 is reasonable for this "stepchild" to the 46-D—a better than average investment.

1947-P (4,094,000)

The 1964 peak market price for this roll was only $115—currently buyers are having a tough time with bids of $200. There is a good chance that many of the 47-P and 47-D rolls which were saved in the year of issue were dumped into circulation a year or so later in favor of the new (and also low mintage) Franklin halves. Indications are, however, that advances for the 1947-P will be slower in the coming months—and that investors might do well at this point to consider the 47-D instead.

1947-D (3,900,000)

As was just mentioned, here is a roll worthy of consideration. The 1964 high was $115 (the same as the 47-P) today's bid is $122.50. Many dealers are of the opinion that the 47-D is at least as scarce as the 47-P. The mintage is virtually the same and thru the years the price tags have been similar. The current spread between the two rolls is the largest ever—and it is now time for the 47-D to begin catching up. Definitely a recommended issue.

BU ROLL MARKET IS LIGHTLY TRADED Investment Opportunities Abound in Circ Dimes & Quarters

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

The BU roll and proof set market continues to take a backseat to the trading of "common silver". Although a roll here and there is experiencing some demand, dealers are still concentrating on buying and selling bags of meltable silver—the bid is strong in the 17 $\frac{1}{2}$ –18 $\frac{1}{2}$ range. More than one dealer has expressed his sadness this week at not having the time to look through the bags of dimes and quarters before they are sent off to the melting pot. As a matter of fact, as I was talking to one dealer about this, he literally picked several 49-S and 55-PDS dimes off the top of one (of the many) bags of dimes being machine counted. He had also pulled out several nice circulated quarters—including 37-S and 55-D.

True, the time involved in going through dozens of bags of silver coins probably isn't, in most cases, worth the coins to be found. However, current selling prices on many of the more common date dimes and quarters are definitely attractive. After the majority of currently held bags are melted, numerous scarcities will develop. With "common silver" going for 18 $\frac{1}{2}$, a \$12–\$13 price tag on such quarter rolls as 41-D & S, 42-D & S, 43-D & S, etc. is barely over the bullion value. With dimes, such dates as 47-D, 48-P & D, etc. are nearly all finding their way into silver bars. When the current "store stock" on this material is exhausted, dealers will slowly begin to bid for a roll or two of this and that—and very few extra rolls of some dates will be available.

All in all, today's prices for these unwanted circ rolls will look very attractive in years to come. It will be another case of "remembering the good ole days". Wise investors will consider putting away some of the material at today's 20% or so—after all, it is silver and the downside risk is almost nil.

Bidding is mild—at current levels—for bags of both BU and circ silver dollars. Today's bid level for these bags is not encouraging many sales. With the impending new "silverless dollar", many dealers and investors are waiting to see what the effect will be on "silver" silver dollars.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Bidding continues for bags of 1955-S at $1425; price changes are few and transactions remain extremely scattered.

NICKELS: An occasional "adjustment" is registered—otherwise, both the Buffalos and Jeffersons see little activity.

1935S - Not often available; now offered at $200

1937S - This popular issue is available at $135

1943D - Edging back up—with bids at $125

1950P - Bidding continues at last week's level of $55

1953D, 56P and 59P - These three continue to interest investors

DIMES: Very slight changes—very light trading again this week. Circulated roll sets of Roosevelts have traded at bid of $340.

1952S - Offered at a lower $77.50

1955P - Also lower; offered now at $53.50

QUARTERS: Sales have remained few and far between throughout the week. Circulated rolls in the 40's are receiving some attention (so far, all at current levels).

1948D - Available now at a lower $65

1955D - Scattered transactions—again in the $117.50–$120 range

HALVES: Interest in the W. L. is still quite evident (although the price upsurge has slackened); Franklins are quiet—with single BU sets now offered at $160

1944D - None offered to bidders at $98

1946D - Up $5; with bids noted at $180

1959D - Surprisingly elusive for a late date; now bid at $26

DOLLARS: Prices are lightly mixed—sales are minimal; bags (both BU and circ) see mild demand at current levels.

1986O - Now available at $250

1987O - Now available at $87.50

1988O - This popular date is offered at $68.50

1999P - Up another $5; now bid at $390

PROOF SETS: With the exception of the 1969-S set (which is again slightly lower), the entire lineup is unchanged and virtually "un-traded". Early sets (1936–42), described as "choice" are fairly easy to locate in the current "bid-ask" range.

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" (unless otherwise indicated) common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

	BID	ASK		BID	ASK
$1.00 (1) BU	50.00	52.50	$ 5.00 (L)	41.00	- 43.00

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

Silver prices in today's morning paper have advanced from the 1.75 area to 1.78 per troy ounce, New York. Now that it is legal to melt down our silver coins, holders of meltable coins should keep an eye on the "silver markets" column in their newspaper. This is the column that gives silver futures . . . or the prices for silver that the market is guessing will be the asking prices six months, a year or 18 months hence. Today they are guessing that silver will be selling for 1.85 six months from now, 1.93 a year from now and 2.00 some 18 months from now.

Compare these guesses with the buying price charts that dealers are now running in the numismatic publications and you may get an idea of how much more you could get if you held on to your meltable coins. Dealer charts are showing how much they will pay as the silver price climbs upward (assuming that it is going to climb higher). The charts are easy to read and "lay it on the line." You know exactly what you will get, depending on the daily price of silver.

Inflation continues to creep forward, although there does seem to be a slowing down of the nation's economic activity at this time. The stock market is continuing to worry the stock market investors. Many believe that it is not the year to start investing in this particular field. Many people who are deeply concerned with the problem of inflation are turning to other investments that seem to offer some protection against the continued erosion of the dollar. Rare coins, stamps, antiques and paintings are high on the list. Older coins are being looked over. Some numismatic minded investors are forming coin collections . . . not coin portfolios . . . with the idea in mind of enjoying the collection as it is being formed and held . . . but nevertheless viewing it strictly as an investment! And it is the same with antique collections, stamp collections and painting collections. These people are becoming "collectors" because of INFLATION. If inflation had not come along, if governments had not turned to "printing press money", these folks would probably never have known the enjoyment that comes with collecting "something." In the long run our hobby is going to add thousands and thousands of new collectors to the world of numismatics because of the uncertain times we are living in!

By this time perhaps some of my readers have received a copy of the CIC Questionnaire that is being mailed out to many collectors, investors and dealers. If you fail to receive this unusual questionnaire you will find it reproduced (all four pages) in an issue of Coin World . . . and also in the largest coin magazine in the world . . . "Coin-Age."

Filled-out questionnaires have been pouring in and it is just beginning to be apparent to your writer what a tremendous job he has undertaken. Computers will surely have to be used on some phases of the job. . . but it is not something where a computer is the only answer. Much of the material is going to have to be assembled and put together the hard way . . . by hand . . . and that means careful editing, tabulating, shifting, assembling, grouping, combining, comparing.

A preliminary look at the questionnaire answers indicates that we are eventually going to come up with some surprising answers. The quantity of coins being held, the dates being held, the BU rolls being held, the number of collectors, the number of investors, the coins being collected, the coins not being collected, the amounts being spent, the unfilled spaces in the collector boards, the coins that are rare, the coins that are not so rare . . . all of these answers . . . are more surprising than we had expected. Subscribers to the CIC, of course, are going to get first crack at all of this revealing data . . . when we eventually release it. Actually the whole undertaking is being carried on for my CIC subscribers. It is turning out to be a very expensive and time-consuming undertaking . . . but it should shake the coin industry to its foundations when completed figures are finally arrived at. For the first time in the history of coins a numismatic survey of this kind is being conducted. It should bring new assurance and insurance to the holder of coins! At the moment no one in the hobby or investment knows what the complete answers are to ANY of the problems we are facing in the coin world!

I do not believe that there is any other hobby or investment in the world today that has so much ignorance, darkness, & mystery connected with it . . . as we find in the coin hobby and coin investment!! To date vast amounts of money have been spent on collections and portfolios . . . perhaps running past the million dollar area and advancing into the billion dollar elevation! This is too much money to be risked without any questions being asked . . . and without knowing the answers!! For the first time we are attempting to dispel this darkness and bring light to the hobby and investment! Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

COMMON SILVER STILL DOMINATES MARKET BU Rolls, Proof Sets Lightly Traded; Changes Slight

The Market in Depth

ELDON M. YOUNG Guest Columnist

Numismatics at the moment seems to be out and coins for the "pot" in. If it's silver most dealers will buy all they can get. The price they pay, bobs with the silver spot. Dealers buying small amounts pay a lesser price allowing for the work involved in accumulating a bag and shipping. The big dealers, chieftains to it all, pay the equivalent of a few cents or so under the spot. After smelting, unless perhaps they resell to an investor, or an even bigger dealer, they net probably somewhere between fifteen and thirty dollars per bag. Not much, but the volume is there.

What, however, this holds for the investor is hard to say. The price of silver for the next six months to a year, barring an unlikely major international monetary crisis, is likely to range narrowly between $1.65 and $1.85 an ounce. At the lower level the price would be supported by users stocking up for the longer period at a "bargain price." At the upper level profit taking by speculators should meet the demand. An investor buying bulk silver coins for this short period, even buying near the bottom and selling near the top would probably, after the costs involved, only break slightly better than even.

For the longer term, three to four years, he might with perseverance fare better or even very well. Consumption of silver at the present is possibly more than optimum production. In time the huge over supply that now exist could be noticeably less. Then again speculation will probably come into play and a price of $3.00 or more an ounce may well be a reality. At that time, a thousand dollar bag costing around $1,200 today, would be worth roughly $2,000 net for silver content, not counting a possible numismatic increase. Deducting 10% a year for four years which an investor could fairly safely earn elsewhere, the additional profit would be approximately $225 or $74 a year. At $4.00 the bag would be worth roughly $2,800 net, more than doubling one's money. If venting a more speculative nature, one could borrow on "face" from a bank, which is still possible, and in four years at $3.00 an ounce an initial investment of $1,200 would gross in the neighborhood of $4,200 and net around $2,200 after deducting interest and storage. At $4 (here we go to the moon) the same $1,200 would net, not gross, a whopping $5,800 or so, more than four times one's original outlay.

What I'm trying to say is that for the short term bulk silver coins are probably a poor investment, but for the long term, providing silver moves up (it doesn't have to), they might well be a very good investment.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Transactions still as rare as ever; bid price now for a bag of 1955-S at $1400; a few rolls trade at $14.35.

NICKELS: A spark of interest for the 1951-S; transactions made at $100 and the bid is for more at the same price.

DIMES: As the week before very slight changes and very light trading.

1954S - Approximately ten rolls trade at $24

1955D - A lot of ten is offered at $33.50 per

QUARTERS: A few sales with light and scattered bidding.

1941D - A roll trades at $150

1946S - Small lots sell at $115 per

1947S - Sells as high as $95

HALVES: Trading now quiet in both W. L. and Franklins.

1959P - Five roll lots sell at $27

1960P - Also sells at $27

1965 - Several rolls trade at $16.50

DOLLARS: Some mild demand. A bag or two of BU Morgans (no 1921's) is bid at $2375 plus shipping. A few rolls of 1904-O's trade at $65.

PROOF SETS: Again most dates remain untraded. A noticeable exception is a gem 1937 which sold at $350. The 1969-S is now bid in quantity at $7.25 with offerings ranging from $7.50 to $8.00. Small quantities of 1968-S are offered at $9.50 to $9.75.

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" (unless otherwise indicated) common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE RING OF CANADIAN SILVER

(PART ONE)

By Maurice M. Gould

Two years have elapsed since we last discussed Canadian numismatics and investment and we would like to review and update facts and figures about this country's coins.

As I stated previously, the trend toward "type" collecting has increased tremendously and will continue to increase in the future. While there will always be collectors of complete date sets, this method of collecting is quite costly and many pieces in choice condition are becoming unobtainable. Many of the "type" pieces have increased considerably in value, one example being the Canadian commemorative silver dollars. The following silver dollars, all "type" pieces, dated 1935, 1939, 1949, 1958 and 1964, still have room for further increases, as the popularity of "type" collecting continues.

Items such as the 1858 twenty-cent piece of Canada, a one-year coin, have no direction to go but up and it is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain choice specimens. The same applies to the Victoria "type" and other early pieces.

Canadian silver dollars were always popular with collectors. Today, even more so because of the silver factor. Actually, it is a short series, having started in 1935, with none struck during the war years of 1940 through 1944, then being struck all years from 1945 to date. Some of the pieces are quite scarce and the mintages on the whole are fairly low.

In 1938, approximately 90 thousand were struck; 1945 about 38 thousand; 1946 - 93 thousand; 1947 - blunt and pointed 7 - 65,000; 1947 maple leaf - 21 thousand; and 1948 - the "key" coin - 18,780.

In 1950 there is a type called the "Arnprior" which received its name from the following story:

A firm in Arnprior, Ontario received an order of 2,000 silver dollars, which they had ordered from the Royal Canadian Mint in December of 1955. This issue was produced after the regular issues of these coins had officially been completed for the year 1955 and when they were checked it was found that they only had 1-1/2 or less of the water lines in front of the canoe instead of the usual three lines. A very small quantity of the Arnprior dollars in prooflike condition were found in the sets of coins purchased from the mint very late in the year.

There is also an early issue of 1857 which shows one water line in front of the canoe and also in 1952, the dollars come with water lines and without. It is said that the no water lines were due to work in finishing the dies—that the lines were accidentally deleted by polishing.

The 1935 silver dollar was struck to commemorate the 25th year of the reign of King George V and the 1939 commemorates the visit of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. The reverse of the latter shows the Parliament buildings in Ottawa.

The 1947 dollar is scarcer, with the pointed 7 being the most difficult to obtain and the maple leaf almost as scarce. The blunt 7 is the most common, but even this is difficult to obtain in choice condition.

1953 has the wire edge and flat border shoulder strap varieties, both having the same value. In 1958 the totem pole commemorative was issued for British Columbia and in 1964 the Charlottetown-Quebec commemorative was issued. In 1967, one of the most popular Canadian coins ever produced was issued—The Confederation Goose Commemorative. In spite of the fact that more than 6-1/2 million were made, this piece disappeared rapidly and has been steadily rising in value.

PLEASE REMEMBER! CANADIAN SILVER DOLLARS ARE NO DIFFERENT THAN THOSE OF THE U.S. THEY ARE APT TO HAVE THE USUAL BAG NICKS AND SCRATCHES, EDGE DENTS, ETC. AND CHOICE PIECES BEFORE 1955 ARE RATHER DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN AND GEMS WILL BRING A GOOD PREMIUM.

I HIGHLY RECOMMEND PAYING A REASONABLE PREMIUM WHEN NECESSARY TO OBTAIN A CHOICE PIECE!

At the height of the speculative period in 1965, there was a great deal of activity and investing in Canadian silver dollars. The comparison of prices below will outline what has happened since that time.

SILVER DROPS; BULK BAGS SLIP Behind the Limelight Opportunities Abound

The Market in Depth

ELDON M. YOUNG

Guest Columnist

Silver not only made a season low this week, it dropped some five cents more to our anticipated low of $1.65. With the prime rate, however, having moved up 1/2% more than was expected, from 7-1/2 to 8-1/2%, the likelihood of silver holding at this lower level is somewhat jeopardized. Prime users, whose holding cost will now amount to over 10-1/2% a year because of the rate increase, may find it feasible to wait a little longer before stocking up. The investor wanting to buy bulk silver bags, naturally may now buy them for less, but likewise his holding cost, directly or indirectly will also be more.

For the investor who is more numismatically inclined and who feels slighted because his interests have taken a backseat to all this silver business, times probably are not as bad as they seem. It must be remembered that the big profit in BU rolls, proof sets, etc. is made in buying before the big move, not somewhere in the heetie middle. Now, and probably for the next few months (summer is normally slow), there is the opportunity to search for and find the items which aren't so readily available. One doesn't have to settle for some other date because at the moment the dealer doesn't have the one he wants. You may also casually pass over coins which are not choice, coins which are weak strikes, and coins which are sliders. Nor, need one face the dilemma of having to return spotted proof sets that are up in price since ordered, or keep them with the risk of having later to sell them at a discount.

No, times are not as bad as they might seem. The weakness in the market is rather one of slowness than one of falling prices. Generally speaking, sellers aren't about to let loose of their wares at much lower figures. The upward pressure is greater than the downward. Buyers, with this thought in mind, should be able to rest assured that the risk of disaster isn't impending. In fact, there are several BU silver rolls that may be bought at only some 25% to 50% above face, or some 9% to 30% more than silver value. What could be a better hedge? It's almost like being able to eat your cake and have it too.

A few such BU rolls offered in bag lots this week, were as follows, all prices plus freight:

Halves ($1000 face)	1963-D at $1325
Quarters (1000 face)	1959-D at $1375	1961-D at $1350
	1962-D at $1275	1963-P at $1300
Dimes ($500 face)	1959-D at $725	1959-D at $750 and $775
	1960-D at $675	1962-P at $725
	1963-D at $625	1963-P at $650 and $700
	1964-P at $650

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

Many business analysts believe that the stock market is to lose some of its zip toward the end of 1969 and early in 1970. The stock market is to reflect the slowing down of the economy as the battle against inflation is fought to a standstill . . . more or less. Many believe that it will be late 1970 before the next boom commences . . . then we will be off into the roaring seventies.

Investors will probably be looking elsewhere for the next year if the stock market does experience the expected slow-down. As more publicity is given to the new silverless half dollar and the new silverless dollar the coin investment should take on an attraction for these people. No doubt about it . . . a new silverless dollar (the first one in 35 years) could trigger off the coming coin boom. The suggested Eisenhower design for this silverless dollar makes the event even more spectacular. And there has been talk of an Eisenhower Quarter. We must remember that when the new silverless half dollar and the new silverless dollar make their appearance we will have two new coins to add to the proof sets. Such a drastic change in the proof set make-up can be the start of a proof set boom too!!

The cost of living index, computed recently, was running at a 7.6 per cent annual rate. However, it is expected to be slowed to around 5% for all of 1969 . . . by the time the end of the year figures are in. Nevertheless, this is still historically excessive. Wages are still advancing at a 6% annual pace so there is bound to be a profit squeeze taking place as the end of 1969 approaches. Inflation is bound to be taking a toll of the profits of most corporations. This will be one of the reasons why the stock market will be edgy, according to some of the leading investment advisory services.

Inflation is serious enough to cause a surprisingly large proportion of the citizenry, and of businessmen and bankers, to express sympathy for wage-price controls even though the end-result of a blossoming of a large bureaucracy to administer the controls is almost as bad as the inflation disease that is to be cured!

Inflation appears to be deeply imbedded. Any cooling off toward the end of the year will be slight and we will still carry on with a 5% increase in prices, possibly even 6%. More than ever before is it necessary for the average man to become an investor . . . to hedge against a deteriorating of his dollar in the years to come. He must hedge with rare coins, rare metals, antiques, paintings, rare stamps, real estate. Some will turn to the stock market and Mutual Funds. And these people should win the battle in the long run if they have the patience to hold on for the long term . . . not a three year or five year holding period . . . but at least a ten year holding span!

There is good news for all of us who are concerned with counterfeiting of our rare coins. Harmer, Rooke & Company, Inc., has announced plans to open a unique laboratory in New York City for the purpose of authenticating coins and stamps! Some $75,000 is to be spent on this amazing laboratory which will include the latest available scientific equipment. Probably the first time so much equipment has been assembled in one privately operated laboratory. Equipment is ultra-modern and includes such units as a full range X-ray fluorescence machine, a diffractometer, a radiographic test machine, an electronic scale and specific gravity units. High-powered microscope cameras will be in this laboratory and will be able to take coin picture enlargements up to 75 times normal size.

There are plans to issue special laboratory certificates and eventually it is the hope of this Laboratory to accompany these certificates with a policy that will insure the genuineness of each bonafide coin issue. An extensive data file will be built up and this will contain the records that will show the diagnostic physical and chemical characteristics of your numismatic rarities and all other coin rarities!

Collectors and coin investors will at last be able to build up their collections and portfolios with the assurance that all of their material will be authenticated to be absolutely genuine!! Imagine the peace of mind that could come to the hobby and the investment when all of this comes about!

As I have mentioned many times before . . . pedigrees and papers have gone along with the dog . . . and similar certificates have gone along with famous paintings . . . why not rare coins? And now it seems that it is about to come to pass. Add the Harmer, Rooke service to the service already being performed at the New ANA headquarters . . . and there is some hope that we can eradicate counterfeiting and altering for all time.

It is only through the betterment of the hobby by such fine services can we expect millions of new coin-interested people to turn to the coin collecting field. The next step will be a similar laboratory on a less complicated scale for the purpose of GRADING coins and the issuance of grading certificates that also can be passed along with the coin.

Incidentally the Harmer, Rooke people are opening up a new coin gallery, the first of its kind in the nation! Here the finest coin material in the world will be displayed!

SILVER, BULK BAGS HARD HIT Gold, Many Single Coins in Demand

The Market in Depth

ELDON M. YOUNG Guest Columnist

To simply say that silver dropped again would be a gross understatement. In the $1.55 to $1.60 range, it is now more than a dollar an ounce under its high a year ago, about twenty cents an ounce lower than the start of this month, and from five to ten cents below the level this writer had first reckoned. Long holders, if still long, God bless them, are probably wondering how a commodity so scarce could possibly be dumped by the tons. 8,826 contracts of 10,000 ounces each were traded Tuesday on the New York exchange, closing down roughly seven cents or $700 per contract.

Bulk bag holders didn't seem to fare quite so bad. The bid price is down to approximately 11% delivered or $1,100 per bag, which incidentally is at a premium a few dollars or so more than its melt value after expenses. It must be nice to know, forgetting inflation, etc., that in the most dire conditions, any future fall could only amount to a hundred dollars more.

And, yes, silver will have its rebound, but those lofty heights once seeming so near are now somewhat hazed. The five dollar an ounce and up prognosticators might just as well give the weary a rest and go into hibernation. To go from the mass to the microscopic, if we may cross that bridge, the investor with the magnifier is not doing so bad.

Gold coins of most denominations are in constant demand. Though prices are slightly mixed, since the first of the year most have risen noticeably. The $5.00 Indian bid in January at $35.00 for BU is now bid at $62.00 for XF or better. The type 2 $1.00 BU offered in January at $260.00 is now bid at $400.00. Not shown in the chart, but non-the-less sought after in BU condition are: the $2-1/2 Liberty bid at $44.00 with sales being made at $45.00; the $2-1/2 Indian bid at $32.00; the $10.00 Liberty bid at $44.00; the $10.00 Indian bid at $68.00; and the $20.00 (either type) bid at $70.00 and offered from $70.50 to $71.50. In the XF or better category the $1.00 is bid at $43.00, and the $3.00 wanted in quantity at $190.00.

Among the single coins in demand are many of the early Washington BU quarters. Among the dates traded were the 1932-D, 1932-S, 1934-D, and 1936-D. The demand for choice material in the early part of this series (1932 thru 1940) is strong and the supply is limited. Don't be surprised to see price rises here. Especially liked by this writer is the 1934-D which could very easily move more towards the price of the 1932-S and even the 1936-D.

This Week's Market

CENTS:

Very little activity.

NICKELS:

Demand fails to meet small, slightly lower offerings. Choice BU rolls of 1950-D's can now be had for $410.

DIMES:

Light offerings, lighter bidding, and no price changes to report.

QUARTERS:

Action is similar to the dimes. A notable exception, however, the 1947-S bid at $95 can't find a seller.

HALVES:

Similar to the nickels, small offerings at slightly lower prices meet no demand. Particularly standing out is the 1951-D, a choice roll offered at $300.

DOLLARS:

Overall mild demand continues with prices mixed.

- 1880S-81S - Sales made at $50
- 1898O - Offered now at $65
- 1903P - Bid up to $95
- 1921P - A few pieces sell as high as $35 each
- 1925S - Offering price now lower
- 1934D - A fifteen piece lot sell at $24 each

PROOF SETS:

Several dates a little lower; the 1968-S and 1969-S both up a little.

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" (unless otherwise indicated) common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE RING OF CANADIAN SILVER

(PART TWO)

By Maurice M. Gould

(Refer to Chart in Part One - June 6th issue)

At a quick glance at the chart, one can see the substantial rise in the prices. This is the more astounding when one considers that the prooflike sets of Canada are far below their "highs" of 1965 and many other coins have dropped as well in value. I believe the low mintages of the silver dollars has much to do with making these coins attractive to the investor. The fact that they are silver, many of them are "type" coins, and their comparative unavailability, makes them highly desirable. No one can have hoards of 1948 Canadian silver dollars and at the time they were released, I remember there was very little interest in them and they were not too popular.

The 1938 dollar has had a sizeable increase in value and of course the scarce 1945 has followed suit. Many others have doubled in value or soared even higher.

THE TYPE AND COMMEMORATIVE SILVER DOLLARS STILL HAVE ROOM FOR INCREASE AND I RECOMMEND THEM. THEY ARE NEEDED IN CROWN SETS OF THE WORLD, AS WELL AS IN THE REGULAR CANADIAN COLLECTING.

The variety coins, in most cases, are quite high and are usually needed if one wants to make up a complete set.

REMEMBER—Many of the coins which have seen circulation are badly nicked and scratched and of course I recommend getting them with as few nicks and abrasions as possible.

Most dealers seldom have the scarce 1948 in stock and many that I have seen are rather rough and heavy with abrasions, so a number did get out into circulation in spite of the small number minted, making a "choice" coin of this date a fine investment.

With the tremendous hoarding of silver taking place all over the world, the small silver as well as the large, the Canadian dollars, such as 1965 and 1966, can still be obtained at very reasonable prices and for those who like to put material away which has a strong base face value, I can suggest coins of this type at today's market prices.

There has been a great deal of activity in bulk Canadian silver coins in the United States. A comparable situation existed in Canada when tons of U.S. silver coins were melted, as it is not illegal to melt U.S. or other foreign coins there. A great deal of it was left by the millions of visitors to Expo' 67 and this found its way into the melting pot.

Tons of Canadian silver coins found their way into the U.S. and it was not illegal to have the coins turned into bullion here. In recent times the border is a little closer guarded and watch is kept for large shipments of silver to leave Canada. A number of shipments were apprehended and this has no doubt helped somewhat in slowing down the traffic in silver.

Ads are constantly seen in the coin papers for the purchase of bulk Canadian silver and in most cases they have been paying about the same rate as for the U.S., although the Canadian silver coinage does not have as much silver content as ours did. Because of this wholesale smelting, we may some day wake up to the fact that some dates that were thought to be quite common may prove to be difficult to obtain. Naturally it is most of the common dates which go into the melting pot, while the others are kept.

The price of silver coins has risen throughout the world, partly because of the rise in bullion prices and partly because of the public as well as the collectors interested in this metal. There has been both hoarding and melting of silver coins in most parts of the world and silver has practically disappeared as a metal for coinage. Most countries have already converted to the use of other metals and in many cases, the difference in appearance of silver against other metals, puts the silver in a favorable light and in collector demand.

Canadian mintages are very small when compared to that of the United States. The population is much less and they did not have the need for tremendous amounts of coinage as we did, one example being the 1948 dime, with less than one-half million issued; the 1937 dime had approximately 2-1/2 million issued and even the Canadian 25¢ piece of 1954 has a little over two million 300 thousand produced, one can see why these coins will become scarce and desirable.

There has been tremendous activity the past couple of years in the coins and prooflike sets of the years 1967 and 1968 and at the present time there is also a new surge in the coins of 1969. In this field, there have been many "buy" ads, as well as those to sell, and this was due partly to the fact that it was thought there would be very low mintages of coins produced in 1968.

Recently, the 1968 production figures were released and the following is a comparison with the mintages of 1967:

	Minted in 1968	Minted in 1967
1¢	$329,600,000	$345,100,000	minus	$15,500,000
5¢	99,200,000	58,800,000	plus	40,400,000
10¢	107,000,000	63,000,000	plus	44,000,000
25¢	88,600,000	48,800,000	plus	39,800,000
50¢	3,900,000	4,200,000	minus	300,000 pcs
$1	5,900,000	6,900,000	minus	1,000,000 pcs
Prooflike sets				500,000
Prooflike dollars				875,000

The following information was also released:

1968 dated .500 fine silver 25¢ coins..... 71,500,000

1968 dated .500 fine silver 10¢ coins..... 70,500,000

Approximately 30 million Canadian 10¢ minted in Philadelphia were delivered up to December 31, 1968, and are included in the above 107 million.

All during the year it was thought that the 1968 half-dollar would have a very low mintage and the government figures surprised both dealers and collectors.

Rolls of 1968 BU coins are bringing approximately the following figures: 1¢ - 90; 5¢ - $3; 10¢ - .500 fine silver $7; 10¢ - pure nickel $6.50; 25¢ - pure nickel, $12.50; 50¢ - pure nickel $16.50; $1 - pure nickel $25.

A new variety in the prooflike sets of 1968, recently discovered, has received a great deal of publicity and advertising. The "Without Island" type sells for approximately $10 and "With Island" at $5. If you look on the right hand lower part of the canoe, there is a little area beside the canoe which is called "The Island." The one without this is the scarcer variety, and evidently were coins from the last run at the mint in 1968.

There have been numerous large investors in 1968 half dollars and dealer ads reflect the interest to purchase as well as sell them.

The 1967 Canadian Centennial coins are a one-year type and have been in much demand since they were minted. The 1967 prooflike sets have moved up steadily in value—the set in the Presentation Case, without the gold, now bringing $22.50.

BULK BAGS REBOUND TO PREMIUM OVER SILVER

Rest of Market Generally Quiet, Except for Gold

The Market in Depth

ELDON M. YOUNG

Guest Columnist

The days of common bulk bags selling for less than its silver value seem over for now. Figuring that there are approximately 720 ounces to a bag and that the spot price is around $1.58 an ounce, a bag's intrinsic worth is about $1,135, or 13-1/2% over face. Figuring smelting costs, etc., you can knock off another couple or so percentage points. Dealers paying 15% to 16%, as they are now doing on tape and over the phone, can't make a profit melting. Apparently it's the investor who's the ultimate buyer. He pays a premium, confident that silver will rise again.

Once the government silver sales are out of the way, the bulls can see little to stop silver from rising to new highs. Industry, then, will have to get its supplies from private sources. As the bulls have it, production will remain far short of demand and the public in general isn't likely to part with its silver coins until the price at least doubles. Bears, on the other hand, see silver prices going even lower or at best staying in the doldrums. They find the giant hoards now existing, the high interest and carrying charges, the loans due and margin calls all too depressing.

As mentioned before buyers of bulk bags have a guaranteed bottom, an insurance against any large loss. At 15% to 20% over face these bags are definitely a good buy. But being a good investment is a different story. What must be considered is whether the bags will go up appreciably above the carrying cost. This writer has his doubts and has yet to rush in.

Highlighting an otherwise generally dull market, the bid for XF or better $2-1/2 Indian gold pieces moves up with demand strong. The bid moving up each day from $30.00 is at present $34.00 with sales being made as high as $35.00. Other golds moving up are the $2-1/2 Liberty in XF to a bid of $42.00 and the $10.00 Indian in BU to a bid of $70.00. As you can see from the chart, golds can also move down. A person wanting to make an initial investment might start with the $20.00 pieces. Here possibly the price will be more stable than some of the other denominations.

Gold buyers, however, must be particularly mindful that large supplies of counterfeits exists in all denominations. The gold used is still gold weighing the same and telling the phony from the real can be very difficult. Pieces that are cast can be recognized by the lack of sharpness that the original has. Pieces that are struck, however, from an expertly engraved die can be, as mentioned, difficult to detect. If a piece is offered to you under the going price be especially wary of it. Remember that counterfeits are illegal and if confiscated by the treasury you have nothing. Also keep in mind that many dealers are unable to tell the difference. My advice is that when buying gold buy from a reliable dealer or person who will stand behind the purchase by guaranteeing it.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

It is becoming clearly apparent what the adverse consequences of prolonged inflation is to be. The adjustment will be slightly discomforting. Some experts who have studied previous "credit-crunches" and bouts with inflation believe now that we can expect present measures to take effect by the end of the year with the unemployment rate up somewhat by March of 1970. When this comes about the war against the present inflation attack will have been won . . . at least temporarily.

Because of all of this investors are not going to enjoy untroubled times in the short term ahead. It will be more important than ever for the coin investor to plan his investment program over the LONG term so that he can disregard the ups and downs that might come during the present inflation adjustment.

In the stock market the investor is in for some hazardous experiences. Trying to out-guess this market during the next year will be, indeed, quite a task! And so it will be in the Bond Market and the Mutual Funds market . . . and the Real Estate Market. Still . . . these people can refer to a history of records and to up-to-date records. Everything is out in the open. One can easily determine how many shares have been issued, the dividend performance for years back, the current earnings, the ratio between earnings and the stock's market price. In Real Estate all land is registered, a clear title is assured, a history of ownership is available. One can quickly ascertain, from a study of maps at the city hall, how many plots are still available, who owns them, any restrictions or easements, street improvement plans. One can judge future values by city limit boundaries . . . and future planned boundaries. There is no mystery in any of these investments. All one has to be concerned about is human emotions that could control the market and cause wide swings up and down. This is a factor present in ALL investments and we have to expect this as long as emotion plays a part in speculation. The stock market can go up or down for no good reason at all . . . simply upon reacting to a silly rumor or impossible fear . . . and then reacting just the opposite the following week based on favorable rumors, equally silly and unfounded!

And so it can also happen in the coin investment. Here too emotions play a big part in bringing about booms and slumps. However, in the coin industry we do not have the mentioned records. Everything is a big mystery in this coin hobby! None of us even know what the size of the market is. We don't even know how many people own a piece of the investment and how many "shares" (or coins) they are holding. We don't really know for sure what is blue chip or common. There is no information or records on file that can possibly tell us at this time whether a coin is rare or not. Millions of dollars, perhaps a billion, has been tied up in many collections and portfolios. The amount invested in coins is astounding . . . and we are just realizing this . . . as I am in the midst of a gigantic survey or numismatic poll. Questionnaires have been mailed out by the mail sack . . . they are going to everyone. Questionnaires have been reproduced in Coin World . . . all four pages . . . and these filled-out questionnaires are pouring in! We are past the point where we have a representative "sampling" that can tell us ALL of the hidden secrets of the coin world!! But we are still going on, making certain that everyone has a chance to become a part of this survey. In the fall months we should be able to reveal to our CIC subscribers information that will be worth a minimum of a thousand dollars . . . per subscriber! And that is a conservative estimate! Finally . . . after decades of mystery . . . all of this mystery is being dispelled by this poll! It is an exciting revelation! We already know many of the surprising secrets . . . and all of this will be programmed later on for the computer. I believe that the investment will be a BETTER investment because of this survey! It is something that should have been attempted many, many years ago!

The coin investor, no longer will have to grope in the dark . . . wondering how many uncirculated rolls have been put aside for certain dates, neither will he have to wonder which single coins, among the older groups, are really scarce. He will know which coins the collector wants and hasn't procured as yet . . . he'll know which coins interest the collector, which do not, and which coins the collector expects to turn to in the future. He'll know if there are too many rolls of a certain date being held in relation to the collector demand now and in the future. This survey is finding out all of these important facts . . . actually getting the true answers! Think of this! Soon we should be able to attract investors into the coin world . . . new investors . . . by being able to give them an inside picture of the hobby and the investment. Everything will be out in the open as it now is in other investment markets!

MERCURY DIMES COME ALIVE

Golds, Commemoratives, Early Washingtons Strong

The Market in Depth

ELDON M. YOUNG

Guest Columnist

Mercury dimes have suddenly come alive. Now in very heavy demand, BU rolls of any date bring at least $43, up $5 and more from last week's bids. Demand originating from dealers in the Southern California area has now spread to other areas. How far this movement will carry is hard to say. At previous levels Mercuries were, I would say, underpriced and bound to eventually move up. At this moment, the movement shows signs of taking hold.

Golds as a whole remain strong. The $2-1/2 Indian in XF or better is bid at $35, up $1, and the $2-1/2 Liberty is bid at $44, also up a dollar with sales being made at $45. The $5 and $10 Liberty in XF or better both slip a dollar but the bid at $38 is an active one. Also in XF or better but not shown in the chart, the $1 is bid at $44 up $1, and the $3 at $200, up $5. For those who might be interested, a BU $20-CC is bid at $140, and a BU $20 high relief is bid at $690 with a choice one offered at $800.

Commemoratives seem to be sparking some life. Particularly in demand is the 1921 Pilgrim. Bids of around $17.00 and requests for quotes bring no response. Apparently dealers are either sold out or are waiting to see what happens. Also noticeably in demand, the 1936 Bridgeport sold at $23, up from the previous asks of $21.50. Of the more expensive pieces a BU Hudson traded at $225 and a nice BU Hawaiian at $410. For the investor who wishes to make a study of this series, there are probably some very good investment possibilities.

Standing out in the early Washingtons, bids at $50 for choice BU 1934-D's, up $3, prove futile. Bids at $47 for the 1935-D's, up $2, are only a bit more successful. Also higher, the 1936-S bid is up $1.50 to $21.50. The importance of buying choice pieces must again be stressed. To give you an idea of price, a BU 1932-D traded at $195; a nice slider traded at $125; and an XF-AU was offered at $80. Make sure you don't buy a slider for a BU or worst yet an XF or AU that might be polished.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Activity basically quiet. A gem BU 1955 double die offered at $250 is sold within seconds. In contrast, a BU bag of 1957-P offered at $105 plus freight, attracts little attention.

NICKELS: Several prices marked down—small to moderate offerings at lower prices attract little demand.

1969D - Now on the market; supplies adequate to demand; ask settling around $250.00 per bag plus freight DIMES: Mercuries in very strong demand. Any date is now eagerly sought at $43, up around $5 for the week. Demand still generally lacking, however, for the Roosevelts.

QUARTERS: Demand/supply situation very similar to nickels; several price changes are downward.

HALVES: Except for a few minor gains, small to moderate offerings at lower prices fail to attract demand.

1952D - Bid, on light demand, moves again to $34

1965 - Bucking the trend, bid edges up

DOLLARS: Demand of a couple weeks back now lacking. Some rolls not seen for a while now appear.

1885CC - Now available in BU at $950

1892CC - Also available in BU at $950

1898S - Finally offered; a choice BU roll may be had for $500

PROOF SETS: Supplies around but demand lacking. Almost all changes down slightly.

1950 - A few sales made at $110

1954 - Demand lacking; down slightly

1957 - Slips a bit—hundred are offered at $590 plus freight; another similar lot is offered at $600, also plus freight

1960 - The only plus, back up to $6.00

1958, 1961 thru 1964 - All down slightly, hundred set lots at previous bid plus freight fail to encourage sales

1969S - Bid slips a bit. To give an idea of demand, however, there is a buyer for a thousand sets at $7,200

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" (unless otherwise indicated) common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE RING OF CANADIAN SILVER

(PART THREE)

By Maurice M. Gould

One of the great investment and speculative mediums in the past in Canadian numismatics has become dormant for a long time and there are still no signs that it will come to life. If the proper publicity to promote these items was forthcoming, there would again be a revival of interest and a resurgent market in Canadian prooflike sets. Also, it would only take a few large investors and dealers to again concentrate on this field to start the ball rolling as these sets are issued in very small quantities as compared to U. S. proof sets or other numismatic issues. All issues before 1962 are less than 100,000 in number, with some mintages actually being almost minute.

A chart for comparison will follow: Canadian Prooflike Sets

Year	Mintage	March, 1964	March, 1967	Current March, 1969
1954	7,426	$240.00	$85.00	$100.00
1955	6,301	225.00	85.00	100.00
1956	9,018	197.50	40.00	50.00
1957	11,862	80.00	30.00	35.00
1958	18,000	80.00	35.00	35.00
1959	31,577	46.00	18.00	20.00
1960	64,097	32.50	13.00	12.50
1961	98,373	28.00	10.00	12.50
1962	200,950	20.00	7.00	6.00
1963	673,006	14.00	4.10	4.50
1964	1,653,162			4.00
1965	2,904,352			3.25
1966	672,514			5.25
1967	961,887			9.00
1968	500,000			6.00

One can see after checking the figures that a sleeping giant could come to life in such dates as 1960 and 1961, with the fairly low mintages issued, as against today's market price and those of March, 1964. The very early sets are not obtainable in large quantities and are usually handled by dealers in singles or small numbers.

Most of the sets must be in fairly strong hands as no one sees large numbers of them being offered at today's tragically low prices. I remember when the 1960 sets were considered a good buy at $32.50 and I still feel that the two best items at the prices are the 1960 and 1961 sets.

Be sure the sets you buy do not have carbon spots or finger prints on the 1¢ pieces as this lowers the value of the material. Usually a dealer will sell you these inferior sets at a lower price.

The Canadian prooflike dollars follow the same pattern as the sets and of course these are now available individually from the Canadian Mint each year.

If you wish to order the sets and dollars yourselves, you may do so by ordering directly from the Canadian Mint, as follows: Write to Coins Uncirculated, P.O. Box 470, Ottawa 2, Canada. Your money order should be made payable to the Receiver General of Canada. The price of the sets is $4 per set and the dollars $1.25 each. It is necessary that the exact amount be received in Canadian funds; otherwise your money order will be returned to you. No personal checks are accepted unless certified.

In the past, most of these sets and dollars have proven a good investment when purchased at the original issue price and orders are now being taken for the 1969 issues.

Orders will be accepted for these until September 30, 1969, six-coin sets, sealed in transparent film, and orders should be submitted for one, three, or five sets or multiples of five sets. No order for fewer than five dollars will be accepted.

The small cents of Canada are extremely popular and highly sought after. The key dates are—1922, 23, 24 25, and 26 and all of these pieces have a mintage of from one to two million.

In the used grade, most collectors buy the Very Good condition. For years, the Good grade was not listed in the Standard Catalog of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money, but at the present they do have this grading.

The 1922 catalogs in Very Good condition at $7; the 1923 in same condition at $10; the 1924 at $3; the 1925 at $8; and the 1926 at $1.75. The actual retail price at this time is actually 90% of these prices. In Brilliant Uncirculated condition, these coins are quite scarce and difficult to obtain, cataloging from $115 to $260. All of these key pieces should make an excellent investment, as many thousands of sets are being made up all the time and once these key coins go into collections, they are no longer available.

THE 1923 CANADIAN CENT HAS BEEN ONE OF MY FAVORITES FOR MANY YEARS, AND I HIGHLY RECOMMEND THIS COIN IN VERY GOOD CONDITION. Normally, the better grade coins are more desirable, but I have found in my many years of dealing in Canadian, the average collector is content with a Very Good condition piece and the top collector will be looking for Uncirculated and the in-between grades are not as popular.

One of the rarest of Canadian coins is the 1936 cent with the raised dot on the reverse. This dot appears underneath the date, between the 9 and the 3. There are only four known pieces and they are all pedigreed. For years collectors have been looking for this piece in circulation. I consider it a waste of time as the only pieces known, after many years of hunting, are in strictly Uncirculated condition. This coin catalogs at $4,000.

The dates from 1937 to date may be easily obtained in used condition. There are a number of varieties such as the 1953 with and without shoulder strap and four different in 1965—small beads pointed 5; small beads blunt 5; large beads blunt 5; large beads pointed 5. There is also a 1947 with an without maple leaf. These are all in the Canadian small cent series.

I do not recommend investing in varieties. There are nowhere near the number of collectors who want them as for the regular dates and many of them jump up in value out of proportion their true worth.

Occasionally rolls of Canadian cents from 1937 through 1950 are offered for sale in Brilliant Uncirculated condition. Many of these pieces are still a dollar or less by the roll, but there are a few like the 1941 and 1942 which run high and are almost unobtainable by the roll. In fact, choice pieces are difficult to get as singles.

Mintages of Canadian small cents are extremely small when compared to that of the United States. Before the year 1957 the highest mintage was during the war year of 1943 with approximately 90 million. The demand for cents, of course, has increased today and they are being turned out in large quantities at present.

PLEASE REMEMBER! I DO NOT RECOMMEND PURCHASING THE VARIETIES, SUCH AS THE "WITH" OR "WITHOUT ISLAND" PROOFLIKE SETS OR THE MINOR VARIETIES OF CANADIAN CENTS OR OTHER DECIMAL SERIES. IF YOU ARE A COLLECTOR, THERE IS NO HARM IN PURCHASING ONE OF EACH OF THESE PIECES FOR YOUR COLLECTION.

At today's prices, the 1960 and 1961 prooflike sets are the best buy, with considerable potential.

The 1922 through 1926 small cents are also good key material, with the 1923 the King of this lot.

In the fourth of this series, the final installment on Canadian investment, the unusual material, such as tokens, medals, paper and other media will be covered.

SELECTIVE MARKET CONTINUES Mercuries Prove Elusive; Bulk Bags Activity Moderate

The Market in Depth

ELDON M. YOUNG

Guest Columnist

Mercuries, any date, are now bid at $45. 50. While the initial bidding had many participants, the bidding has since become very sparse. This would, at first glance, indicate a lack of real support. With offerings, however, being almost nil, one has to give the matter more thought. Probably no appreciable supplies are around. Any additional bidding on tape is likely to make supplies even tighter. And it might just be that some dealers are trying to build up a better position without fan fare. I would say indications are for higher prices.

Common silver bulk bags activity is now probably at best moderate. Apparently most investors who were impatient or being eaten up by holding costs have already sold and supplies are drying up. The premium still paid for bags over their silver value is, most likely, to facilitate resales to new investors or investors increasing holdings. The price, up to about 16% to 18% from last week's 15%, reflects this week's higher silver price.

Among a market of otherwise general slowness a few stars ascend.

Choice BU 1934-D and 1935-D Washingtons are both up again. Running tandem the bid is $55 for the 34-D, with some purchases having been made, and $50 for the 35-D. This is a rise of $10 and $5 respectively from five weeks ago.

In the commemoratives, the 1921 Pilgrim and the 1936 Bridgeport continue in strong demand. A 1921 Pilgrim offered earlier in the week at $22 found a lucky buyer within seconds. Bids now of $26 and $23 respectively prove futile. These are rises of $10. 50 and $3 from just three weeks ago.

Gold, as the chart shows, also continues strong. This week there are four pluses and no minuses. Also up, in XF or better the $3 piece is bid at $205. To better fill you in, the type I $1. 00 in XF or better is bid at $44 and the type III at $45. BU $20's are bid at $70.

Investors feeling somewhat left out for not having a position in Mercuries or some of the other specialties, and finding it hard to get in, should now realize the importance of being there before the awakening. Other segments of the market can also suddenly come alive and availability practically dry up overnight. In choosing such an item or area, try to choose one where prices cannot foreseeably go much lower, and where supplies are available, but that with any promotion or noticeable attention availability will fail to meet demand, except at higher prices.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

Postal rates probably will not be raised by the Congress. Too many other things are going up and the Legislators simply refuse to go along with any more increases in this area. I am afraid that is not the case in OTHER areas. Inflation for the entire twelve month period is averaging out to slightly over 5%. I am speaking of the increase in price for most of the things that we all must buy. However, at the moment the rate is actually closer to 7% and has been for the last month or two. Unless we can break this boost off quickly the average living cost increase for the next twelve months will not be 5%. We have got to get this average gain back to 5% for the coming year . . . at the very LEAST! We can get by, perhaps with a 5% inflation but even this figure is a doubtful one. It would certainly wipe out the 5% interest one now receives on his savings, provided he has his money in certificates or with a Savings & Loan organization. Even then he is falling behind because the tax people still want a portion of that bank interest as taxes. They consider interest money as straight income and tax at the full rate. So that 5% can be reduced to 3-1/2% to 4%, depending on the tax bracket. Therefore, we have to bring the inflation rate back down to the former 3% per year rate we have experienced in the past. History tells us that we can get along with a 2% to 3% inflation hike . . . per year . . . with not too much damage. At least our savings can remain fairly intact with such a discount. Inflation probably is to continue on through the roaring seventies. The stock market, at the moment, is no help in the struggle to protect one's savings. The present yield from stocks may be even lower than the rate one can get with certificates at the banks. Stocks are going down so there is no capital gain at the moment. Dividends can be lower than bank interest. And of course the government has told the Savings and Loan associations that they can only pay out 5-1/4% . . . that is the ceiling they have placed on the yield from your savings. Yet the banks are allowed to continually increase the interest rates that they charge to business people who are borrowing money . . . or to the public who may be financing some purchase! So . . . the investor and saver is locked-in at the moment. Prices are going up but he is unable to make his investment or his savings yield MORE . . . in other words keep up with the price rises.

Certainly bonds are offering higher and higher interest rates . . . even going above the 7% high. But . . . these are long term bonds . . . and I mean LONG term. If you have to sell these bonds in the meantime you'll have to sell them for far less than their future maturity value!! That is something to think about. And another thing to think about if you are considering bonds in your AGE. Will the maturity date of the bonds arrive before your retirement age . . . or your demise? This is something to consider because bonds just MIGHT have depressed values for a long time and the only way you will ever get back their worth will be to hold them to their maturity dates!

Rare coins, particularly the older single issues, have had a record of price gains over the years and even through the current coin slump period. These will always be good investments, particularly for the long term of ten years or so. The supply is not going to get any larger. The population is growing, the interest in hobbies is expanding, the citizen is becoming more affluent. Such quality material is going to be in great demand ten years from now! Perhaps rare coins and land will be the only certain ways to defeat the inflation rate. Investment in stocks is most uncertain. As long as the war drags on and the inflation and monetary problems stay with us . . . the stock market is going to be a very uncertain area to be in, in my opinion. Perhaps over the long, long term . . . a portfolio of good stocks could advance in value faster than the inflation rate . . . but there are so many doubts in this market at this time . . . from all the material that I have studied . . . that it is impossible to arrive at a conclusion. Yes, the "locked-in" investor has a real problem confronting him at this time.

WISE INVESTORS SPOT GOOD BUYS Common Silver Bags Register Sales Around 19%

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

At first glance the market appears to be unchanged from the doldrums of recent weeks—a typical mid-summer week in the coin market. However, closer scrutiny will bring out several interesting areas of subtle dealer and investor buying. It is during "sluggish" trading periods that the wisest buyers quietly pick up their favorite material. Waiting until certain rolls are offered and then purchasing by telephone (rather than on the tapes) is one way to avoid higher ask prices by the next dealer—and to accumulate a bargaining position in a particular area at reasonable prices.

One area of current interest is circulated Jefferson nickel rolls. The occasional "bargain offering" (usually a few rolls each of several dates) does not remain available for long. Larger lots (up to a bag or so of a single date) often disappear without a trace—presumably as a "telephone sale". This type of transaction usually involves such dates as 42-D, 46-S, 48-S, etc.—dates with the most potential in a "Jefferson boomlet" but currently open to counter offers in large lots. The better circulated dates (38-D & S, 39-D & S, 43-D, 51-S and 55-P) are not generally available except for scattered offerings at or near top dollar. Most dealers do not have enough of these dates to supply others and still maintain an adequate store stock.

In the area of single coins there are numerous "hot items"—these include several commemoratives which have recently been touted by one investment advisory publication (the 1921 Pilgrim is really skyrocketing with bids in the $38-$40 range and no offerings). See the Commemorative chart on Page Two for other gains. The 1934-D and 1935-D Washingtons are in continued demand at last week's considerably higher bids. Choice specimens of both dates are really quite difficult to locate and both can conceivably register further substantial gains.

Bulk silver has traded during the week as high as 19-1/2%—with buyers allowing the sellers several weeks to deliver. The supply—even as the bid nears 20%—is still far from adequate to meet current investor demand. Now is certainly the time to consider circ roll sets of Roosevelts and Washingtons ('41-'64) at just over the bulk silver price!

This Week's Market

CENTS: An occasional bidder asks for "choice rolls for single sales"; otherwise, interest remains at a virtual standstill.

NICKELS: Prices are mixed this week—with a couple of dates in mild demand.

- 1943D - Several rolls are available at $125
- 1950P - Up slightly and elusive at $56 bid
- 1955P - Scattered transactions noted at $40
- 1958P - Bid moves up to $11—buyers want 25 to 50 roll lots DIMES: Mercury rolls level off with a few sales noted around $45; Roosevelts are lightly mixed.

- 1949P - A roll or two has traded this week at a lower $265
- 1953S - This one has moved up to $20.50 bid
- 1954S - Also on "wanted" lists—at $24.50

QUARTERS: Most dates remain firm at current levels—with scattered issues registering small gains.

- 1941D - up $5—with bids now at $150
- 1941S - Also up $5—bid at $180
- 1955D - Sales noted at a higher $117.50
- 1958P - Mild interest is apparent; bid moves up to $41

HALVES: The "clad" halves are still on the investors minds (with the 1965 roll now bid at $18); the silver Franklins, on the other hand, record numerous lower ask prices.

1953P - Choice rolls are offered at $167.50

1959P & 1960P - Both are offered at $26.50

DOLLARS: Minor adjustments cover both series; sales have remained light.

1885S - Offered now at a lower $215

1896O - Bid moves up to $850

1898O - Transactions at a lower $62.50

PROOF SETS: Sets in the 1957-1963 group are offered in large lots at "bid plus postage" (which is "ask"); buyers remain few and far between.

GOLD: The following prices are for "XF or better" (unless otherwise indicated) common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE RING OF CANADIAN SILVER

(PART FOUR)

By Maurice M. Gould

One of the great assets to Canadian collectors has been the release of many new reference books and reprints of important old ones. The Canadian Numismatic Research Society, a fine group of devoted collectors and researchers, published their findings and made them available to numismatic publications.

The standard catalog of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money by J. E. Charlton and published by Whitman, is now in its 17th edition and is probably the largest selling Canadian catalog in the world. The Regency Coin Company of Winnipeg publishes a yearly catalog, The Guide Book to Canadian Coins, which is excellent, and this year published a Guide Book and Catalog of British Commonwealth Coins which includes the Canadian series. This is excellently done and of great value to collectors in the field.

There are several books available to the collectors of Canadian paper money and the error collector has the fine work done by Hans Zoell. Regency also reprinted some famous old works, including the Breton Token Book (which was considered the bible of Canadian numismatics for many years), as well as four or five other Canadian token series, all under one volume.

The Canadian Numismatic Association, the world's second largest coin group, issues monthly Journals, with up-to-the-minute information and references. There is also the Canadian Coin, Stamp & Antique News, which is a bi-monthly coin paper.

The excellent references available has made it possible for many to collect the Canadian token series, which is one of the best documented in numismatics. There are some who collect these by type and varieties and they have been collected in this manner for more than 100 years.

Almost all Canadian coin books deal in some respect with their tokens, as they are an important part of the history and economics of Canada.

One must be fully cognizant of the situation in Canadian tokens for investment. The rare and genuine pieces have gone up constantly and have made an excellent investment. An example is the Northwest Company Token. Do not hesitate to purchase this, with a hole if necessary, as there is only one piece known which is not holed. The Indians used these holed pieces to make a necklace. The exciting part of this token is that this company operated in both the U.S. and Canada, making this of interest to collectors in both countries. The company operated in Oregon territory, as well as the Canadian Northwest.

In recent years this piece has appeared in the Red Book (Whitman Guide Book) and it now catalogs $300 in Very Good condition, but one must remember that there are probably not more than a dozen pieces known and material of this type is like buying a rare painting and it can only increase in value with age. I speak from personal experience with items of this type and my ventures with these rare tokens have proven financially successful.

Interestingly enough, many of the common Canadian tokens which sell for 50¢ and $1 today and are considered common, have had very little increase in value, as the quantities available have been more than can be absorbed by the collecting fraternity. This in spite of the fact that many of the pieces are over 100 years old.

Another piece which I personally have checked out is Breton #717—the 2-pence of Lesslie & Son. Many years ago this piece was called "the 1799 large cent of Canada" denoting its scarcity and rarity. This catalogs, in Very Good condition at $25; Very Fine, $50; Extra Fine, $70 and Uncirculated at $125. I consider it reasonably priced at full catalog. The 1/2 penny of the same company is a fairly common item and not to be considered with the 2-pence denomination.

A series which will some day come into its own is the Blacksmith Tokens. These pieces are actually counterfeits and are supposed to have been made by a Montreal blacksmith who would mint some of these pieces whenever he needed some change to quench his insatiable thirst. These pieces are quite crude, as they were made to look like money which had been in circulation. They are not common and there are a number of varieties.

Another token of interest to the U.S. collectors is Breton No. 1013. It is the 1781 No. American Token, which is also listed in the U. S. Colonial section of the Red Book. All U.S. Colonials are becoming more and more in demand and this piece fits into both the Canadian and U. S. series.

Breton No. 985 is also a good item—the Cossack penny, which catalogs $7 in Very Good condition and $22 in Uncirculated condition.

There are very few tokens for Newfoundland and any of these have a bright future among collectors.

Another recommendation is the importance of condition when purchasing tokens. The rarities are one thing, but in the regular tokens listed in Breton or Leroux, the Uncirculated pieces are worth owning. They show up much less frequently than the catalog value would indicate and if there was an influx of a few thousand collectors into the token field, prices would rise considerably.

In recent times, there has been a great deal of interest shown in tokens of all tokens throughout the world, but the fine documentation of the Canadian material will keep this series in the forefront. Canadian tokens do require a little bit of study, as some pieces come crudely struck and are not known in Fine or Uncirculated condition. There are a number of collectors who go in for the many varieties, found in the Canadian token series. These are for the advanced collector and are not for one who wants to put his money into a good investment item.

I sincerely believe that coin investors should have some of their holdings in individual rare pieces; as more and more go into museums and collections, there will be fewer and fewer available, so eventually they will be like a Van Gogh or Rembrandt and at the same time it will diversify your holdings.

At the lowest ebb of coin prices a few years ago, good "type" coins, rare tokens and unusual material moved up in value at a steady pace, while the other material was stagnant. This type of material does not have the sensational rise of the regular investment material, but is an excellent hedge against inflation and should bring a steady increase in value over the years.

BARGAIN PRICES FOR LATE DATE ROLLS

Gold is Active; Price Coverage is Expanded with This Issue

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

For some strange reason, large lots and bag quantities of late date dimes and quarters—currently offered at real bargain levels—have failed to spark the imagination of investors. With the common circulated silver bags trading around 19% (and up to 21% in large lots by telephone), it is difficult to understand why a BU bag of 1959-P dimes shouldn't have numerous "takers" at $670—or a BU bag of 1960-P's at $650. And, at $12.50 per BU roll, why should a dealer have to offer a "lot" of 58-D and 59-D quarters more than once? This is only 25% over face for BU rolls which are ten years old!

After all, what is the "downside risk" on BU quarter rolls at $12.50 per roll? In a few weeks or months, investors (and dealers, too) will look back and wonder why they hesitated. This, of course, is typical. But waiting for "lower prices" or whatever when dimes are selling for $6.50 and quarters for $12.50 seems a bit ridiculous. And, in most cases, these prices include delivery!

In the better material "summer buying" remains in force—that is, there is really very little action. The few "hot" items of recent weeks are still on want lists—but these particular coins just aren't available in any quantity (1921 Pilgrim halves, BU 34-D and 35-D quarters, etc.) gold, of course, is still a busy area. Prices edge forward—and then slip back a dollar or so. Large lots are wanted and counteroffers usually are unsuccessful. The Newsletter coverage of gold coins, you will note, has been expanded this week to include all denominations in bot "XF or better" and BU condition.

This Week's Market

CENTS:

A few minor adjustments—both up and down; virtually any date remains easily located.

1960D (sm) - Bid for in bag lots at $3.10

NICKELS:

Slightly lower ask prices for numerous dates fail to entice buyers. Single BU sets are available at $97.50.

1943P (t2) - Offered now at $190

1943D - Several choice rolls are for sale around $122.50

1946S - This one is up slightly—with bids at $22

1953D & 1954P - These two edge forward

1959P - Available in lots of 25-50 rolls at $4.50

DIMES:

The Mercuries are now steady (holding on to recent gains); for the Roosevelt its "bargain prices" all the way.

1946D - Offered in quantity at $16

1946S & 1947S - Both register sales at $36

1948P - Often quite elusive; available now at $80

1953S & 1954S - These two "settle down" after last week's interest

QUARTERS:

Relatively few changes; early dates are mostly firm—with most later dates offered at "discounts" in large lots.

1941D - Still hard to locate; bid up to $155

1941S - Same story here; bid now at $185

1948D - Remember this one?—available now at $62.50

1959P - Scattered sales around $17.50

HALVES:

Walking Liberty rolls register very few changes and very little activity; many of the "tough" Franklin rolls slip lower.

1949PDS - These three are each off $5-$10

1950P - A "gem" roll or two is offered at $225

1951D - Available at $285—often not available at all

1953P - A sale or two noted around $160

1955P - Offered in quantity at $137.50

DOLLARS:

Circulated bags continue to receive bids around $1900; BU bags (offered at or near $2400) create little interest.

1878 (8tf) - Available at a lower $215

1879P & S - These two move up to $60 bid

1934P - A choice roll was offered at $325

PROOF SETS:

All of the "adjustments" are on the minus side; sales remain very scattered. Large lots are open for "negotiation".

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

Like the disappearing Indianhead cents, the wooden "Cigar Store Indians" are also disappearing. These cigar store figures first appeared in New York City in 1840. Soon there were 75,000 "Indians" in front of tobacco stores across the nation. Of those, only about 3,000 remain today. One collector, recently, finding a particularly handsome and warlike chief, had to make his offer as high as $6,000 before obtaining possession of the carving.

This points out how severe the rate of depletion can be for items that are no longer being manufactured. 72,000 of the 75,000 figures have been destroyed, worn themselves out or just disappeared for many reasons. And it is the same for the Indianhead cents. We can believe the mintage figures. We have to go by SOMETHING . . . but these figures do not represent the true amounts that are still available today! The number of coins that can be lost . . . never to be found again . . . that have been worn out and returned to the mint . . . that have been mutilated and destroyed . . . that have suffered damage in fires and floods . . . must be huge! How many were secreted away . . . perhaps too well . . . never to be found again. How many have been thrown away accidentally after being stored in the attic for years. And of course when we stop to ponder on the amounts of uncirculated Indianheads (or any other issue) that were put away we can be certain that the amounts were not huge, by any means. Even uncirculated coins can have a depletion rate. Perhaps it won't be as severe as that experienced by the coins in circulation . . . but it is substantial. The recent survey that my organization is working on now seems to be coming up with some interesting percentages.

Even uncirculated coins get lost, are destroyed in floods and fires, become damaged in accidents and are put into circulation accidentally . . . every year . . . and over the years this can total up to a fair size percentage of the whole amount being held for the future collectors.

An interesting thing about coin collecting (another thing being revealed by the survey) is the concentration on the CIRCULATED coins over the UNCIRCULATED! Most coin series seem to be collected in CIRCULATED . . . not UNCIRCULATED. If the collector ever turns from the circulated to the uncirculated . . . the small uncirculated supply being held . . . will be wiped out quickly!!

And the time will come, I believe, when an extremely affluent collector will stop and consider that he is no longer a penny-pinching collector . . . looking ONLY for coins FOR FREE . . . in his pocket change. His thinking will change to the extent that he will be satisfied ONLY with complete sets of Brilliant Uncirculated!! And that is the way it should be now . . . but sad to say . . . it is not the case! Any hobby that is worth its salt is worth GOING THE WHOLE WAY! And collecting a series in circulated or mostly circulated is not the way an ADULT collector in the future will act!! He'll have the money to buy everything in BU . . . even the keys . . . and he'll buy them all because he and his family will realize that it is profitable to do so. He will come to realize more and more that here is a hobby that can be made to be PROFITABLE! Probably the only hobby in the world that is profitable! Look around at any of the popular hobbies today and you will find that they are indeed a luxury and very, very expensive to handle. And when the hobby is ready to be dropped . . . as all hobbies sooner or later are . . . a tremendous loss in dollars is sure to be experienced! Not so in the coin collecting hobby! It is an investment . . . a retirement fund . . . and a pleasurable hobby . . . in one! What could be better? You eat your cake and still have it in your possession . . . to eat or sell again . . . which is a different way of putting it . . . I know . . . but nevertheless a very true point to consider!

COMMEMORATIVES TAKE THE SPOTLIGHT

Several Issues Become Elusive; Numerous Price Hikes are Noted

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

It is really no surprise that dealer and investor interest has finally started to zero in on commemoratives. This most beautiful series of U.S. coins has a lot going for it—the strange thing is that for so long now only the "serious collector" and scattered dealer has shown any real interest.

There are fifty coins in a complete "type set" of commemoratives—this includes forty-eight half dollars, the Isabella quarter and the Lafayette dollar. The current teletype bid is just over $2300 for the fifty individual coins (when there is more than one date or mintmark, the least expensive issue is used). Complete type sets are occasionally offered at around $2100—but unless all of the coins are choice there would be no saving. A couple of sliders (almost invariably the scarcest issues) nullifies the "saving" immediately.

Buying commemoratives for investment is liable to make a "collector" out of the investor—especially for the person who decides to invest in a "type set"—or even in a date and mintmark set (around $4000). Soon this "investor" is checking around to find the choicest possible specimen of this or that issue and the day of "profit taking" may fade further and further into the future. There is nothing wrong, however, with enjoying an investment. Let's face it—a BU bag of 4,000 nickels or 5,000 dimes isn't exactly exciting! On the other hand, a choice set of commemoratives is something to be proud of, will increase substantially in value and is always easy to resell.

For the smaller investor—or for the roll investor who might have a mild interest in commemoratives—there are numerous single issues which warrant attention for their investment potential only. This week's price chart (see page two) registers fourteen gains for this week alone—with no losses. A little study of commemoratives could easily reveal another "1921 Pilgrim"—which has moved from $15 to $37.50 bid since June.

This Week's Market

CENTS: The usual—small price changes and a minimum of trading. Current low ask levels seem to have brought out numerous inferior rolls (many of which are being returned to sellers).

NICKELS: The Wartime nickels slip lower—with a BU roll set available at $845. Complete BU single sets have traded during the week in the $90-$95 range.

1943D - Still offered in quantity; now at $120

1950P - This one moves up with bids at $57.50

1950D - Ask level slips below the $400 mark

DIMES: Common date Mercury rolls are again offered at $45; several dates move lower in the Roosevelt series.

1950D - Offered this week at $57.50

1952S - Off $2.50; ask now $70

1954S - Now available at a lower $23

1955D - Transactions noted at $31.50

QUARTERS: More gains than losses for the Washingtons; early dates prove elusive in choice condition.

1934D (BU singles) - Bid reaches $57.50

1935D (BU singles) - Right behind—with bids of $52.50

1946S - Now offered at $114

1947S - Up slightly—bid now $97.50

1954S - Up $2.50; hard to buy at $27 bid

HALVES: Very little action for either the Walking Liberties or the Franklins; several prices edge lower.

1942D & 1943D - Usually quite scarce; now available at lower levels.

1950D - Offered at $145

1955P - A sale or two registered at $135

DOLLARS: "Bargain prices" remain in force for a number of the lower priced rolls; sales are light and scattered—with common date BU bags offered at $2350 XC.

1878CC - Sales recorded at $225

1888O - Choice rolls are available at $58.50

1904O - More choice rolls are offered—at $62.50

PROOF SETS: Prices edge even lower; most of the large lots remain on the market and sales have been infrequent.

1956 - Transactions in the vicinity of $9.50

1957 & 1960 - Both are easily located at $6

1961, 62 & 63 - Now at or near the $4 level

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE RING OF CANADIAN SILVER

(CONCLUSION)

By Maurice M. Gould

A Canadian field which has been attracting a great deal of attention in numismatic circles is the paper money. This area was long neglected and it is only in the past few years that activity has been great. For those interested in this phase of collecting, there is a very fine group called The Paper Money Society, founded in 1964. Information may be obtained by writing to the General Secretary, Cyril R. G. Ware, P. O. Box 7, Station S, Toronto, Ontario, Canada. They have an excellent publication which features a column called, "In the Market Place." This column lists actual transactions and sales of Canadian paper money, with condition, making the information invaluable to the investor or collector.

Paper money is now widely collected throughout the world, is a strong part of U. S. numismatics, and Canadian has followed in line. With the surge of interest in foreign paper money collecting, many outside of Canada collect the Canadian series.

Most of the notes collected are from the time of the 1870's, in which period there were Shiplasters of the 25¢ denomination as well as the other large denominations.

An example of the way these are collected by some paper money specialists is the $1 issue of July 2, 1923, with a portrait of King George V. This comes with four separate sets of signatures and black seal, blue, green, red, purple-brown, lilac, —so there are ten different varieties of this King George V alone. The scarcest is the lilac seal with the combination signatures of Campbell and Sellar, which catalogs $100 in Very Good condition and $300 when New.

All of the large size Canadian notes, even the most common ones, are in demand for "type" pieces and are comparable to the large blanket U. S. notes, but of course they are much scarcer.

There is a $4 note, issued in 1882, 1900 and 1902, and this piece is scarce in any condition and is highly sought after by collectors. Any of the large Canadian notes in decent condition which can be purchased at reasonable prices should appreciate steadily in the years to come.

The 25¢ fractional notes or Shiplasters are very popular and there are some who even collect these by letters. The most common is the July 2, 1923, which catalogs $2 in Very Good condition and $15 in New condition. This is the one desirable for a "type" piece as it is the least expensive of the issues, as the earlier notes from 1870 to 1900 are scarcer and more difficult to find.

If you should put away some of this paper money for investment, please remember to stay with the low denomination bills. Even the average paper money collector finds it difficult to buy any of the bills over the $5 and $10 denomination, as the face value of $20 and up stops him cold in his tracks. The $1 bill is the most popular and more collectors try to build around this one than any other; in fact, many of the high value notes are just marked "very rare" in the book without any prices, as collectors could not afford to keep them, especially in the depression times of the past.

It is easy to assemble a collection of the small size bills and in most cases, they are obtainable.

The 1967 centennial issue, with Queen Elizabeth II, was very popular and was the only denomination of the centennial notes issues.

RECOMMENDATIONS: If you are going into the fields mentioned in Part 3 of Canadian investments, it is wise to have a good reference books for your library.

In the tokens, in the common pieces, get the top condition only. In the rarer pieces condition is not as important and there are no quantities of the scarce pieces available, so pieces of this sort which you might purchase or own, will always be needed by the collector, dealer and museums.

In the field of paper money, "type" pieces in nice condition of the more common large bills, will always be in demand and the 25¢ denomination shinplasters will always be popular.

Stay away from the large denomination face value notes and I recommend the $1 denomination as the best one for those interested in obtaining some of this material.

For those of you who collect as well as invest, I highly recommend your exhibiting your material whenever possible. I have found from experience, the collections which are known through exhibiting and are as complete as possible, will always bring more than miscellaneous material and may bring an overall premium above the normal value because of its being well known and a prize winner at Shows and Conventions.

At the moment, paper money, without a doubt, is the fastest growing area of Canadian numismatics and more and more ads are seen asking to buy the old pieces. Actually very little of this was put away into private collections due to the face value alone being so high and a considerable amount during depressions and recessions in the business world, so much of the material which does come to light would be the lower grade and worn.

It is extremely difficult to put together top condition material, especially in the higher values and if this is so today, it will be more apparent in the years to come and probably to start investing and collecting in this phase of Canadian numismatics in the future will be well-nigh impossible.

SLOW SUMMER TRADING CONTINUES Further Bargains Appear in Late Date Proof Sets

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

A number of proof sets have slipped even lower—a fact which seemed hardly possible in view of the "rock bottom" prices recorded in recent weeks. And yet dealers persist in offering one hundred set lots (and often larger quantities) at still lower levels. In talking with several investors I get the opinion that many of them are now becoming extremely interested in proof sets. Most of them, however, want to buy as quietly as possible.

Some of this week's proof set bargains were snapped up immediately (one hundred 1956 sets at $950 delivered, for example)—but others remain on the tapes. It would be difficult at this point to pick out the best buys—but the 1957, 1958, 1959 and 1960 sets look particularly attractive. Be careful when buying, however, for quite a number of inferior sets are finding their way into these "lots". The phrase "spot-free" is noticeably lacking from most of the recent teletype messages.

Bu rolls aren't faring much better through the summer doldrums—in fact, except for a date here and there, "bargain" ask levels go by virtually unnoticed. Again several investors (and a few dealers, too) have indicated that they are seizing this opportunity to fill in roll sets or to pick up a few more rolls of their favorite issues. Much of this buying is being done quietly by phone—which also affords a better opportunity for "bargaining". Several Jefferson rolls and most of the Washingtons in the 40's fit particularly well into this category.

The more active areas of the market remain—well, —more active. Choice early Washingtons (and cire 32-D & S, 34-D), commemoratives, key cire and choice BU Mercuries (pre-1935), etc. are in constant demand. Obviously collector interest for really scarce material is not at a standstill. A reasonably priced 1877 Indian, 1885 nickel or 21-D half, for instance, doesn't remain on the tapes for long.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Again dealers has discounted numerous rolls in order to encourage sales—however, except for scattered buying for "stock" the Lincoln market remains extremely quiet. (The 1960-D small date is bid for by the bag at $3.15.)

NICKELS: "Choice" BU single sets are easily located at $95—with only mild interest being shown. All roll "want lists" are quickly filled.

1943D - Still slipping—with rolls offered at $116
1950D - Regains $5; bid again at $385
1955P - A sale or two noted at $38

DIMES: The early Mercury rolls register a few gains—while the Roosevelts record a few small losses.

1947S - Offered this week at $36
1949P - Transactions noted at $260
1957D - Sales at a lower $9.50

QUARTERS: A couple of gains for the pre-'41 issues—a few losses for the later dates. Sales remain very light.

1939P - Up $2.50—with interest at $117.50
1941D - Also up; bid this week at $187.50
1946S & 1947S - Both edge slightly lower 1954S - Still elusive at $27 bid

HALVES: Walking Liberties are basically unchanged—with single BU sets (1941-47) offered around $165. A choice BU roll set of Franklins can be purchased for $2950.

1944S - Up $4—with bids at $112
1948P & D - Both register lower ask levels
1953P - Offered at $162.50
1955P - Offered at $135
1961D - Quantity sales noted around $21-22

DOLLARS: Only very minor adjustments have been registered—sales remain infrequent.

PROOF SETS: All sets in the 1952-60 group slip lower—and most are offered in quantity.

1955 - Available by the hundred at $24
1957 & 1960 - Both are offered at $5.75
1964 - Sales noted at $6.75
1968S - Easily available at $9.50
1969S - Steady—with sales around $7.75

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

The avalanche of questionnaires continues. The CIC poll is producing a very large sampling of the numismatic world. I have just returned from a two weeks sojourn at Big Bear Lake, where I prepared part of this sampling so that it can be programmed for the computer. All of this time was necessary for just one important section of the survey . . . or the number of collectors, investors and dealers that are supposed to be a part of the numismatic scene today.

The amount of work that is going to have to be poured into this effort is beginning to appear to be staggering!!

The BASE . . . or the actual number of collectors and investors we have today in the coin collecting hobby . . . has been exposed . . . these past two weeks . . . by my solitary editing. Programming for the computer will come later. We now have a fairly good idea what the final result will be . . . in other words . . . just how many active investors, dealers and collectors are engaged in the pursuit of collecting coins. This is the most important break-through that has ever occurred in the coin world!! Until this revelation was made it was virtually impossible to compute the number of uncirculated rolls being held by investors and collectors . . . or the number of single, older coins being held by collectors and investors. We must have the BASE or MARKET QUANTITY before we can make heads or tails about ANYTHING in the coin industry!! And in order to know what the market is we have to know how many people are engaged in our hobby and investment. As I have said before . . . it is simply amazing just how much mystery we find in the coin industry. Here we find a billion dollars tied up in collections and investment portfolios . . . yet there isn't a person who knows how many collectors there are . . . collecting coins . . . or how many investors there are . . . storing coins . . . or how many dealers there are . . . selling coins . . . !! With such important money involved it is about time that some effort was started so that we can dispel the mystery that is a part of the hobby . . . and has been for the last hundred years!!

Millions more will come into the coin industry in the years ahead . . . as coin prices advance . . . and more collectors and investors scramble for the available key issues. However, this new money will not be poured into the hobby . . . blindly . . . as it has been in the past!! The CIC Survey will have revealed the answers by then . . . facts that have been hidden far too long!!

Those of you are waiting for these important—first-time—revelations . . . please be patient. The job is a large one . . . far more substantial than I had expected. It is going to take time . . . much time . . . as we edit each question and then cross-check with other questions. More time will be needed to program EACH SEPARATE question . . . and further involvement will be necessary with the computer problem.

Figures that have been roughly revealed so far are surprises. Not what we expected . . . so I have an idea that more surprises lie ahead as we learn how many uncirculated rolls are being held by collectors and investors . . . and how many of the older singles are being held by these same people!!

With much of the mystery wiped away . . . in just a matter of months . . . mystery that has been with us for decades . . . there could be some sharp shocks felt in the coin world! Changes lie ahead, to be sure, and they could affect the collecting plans and investment plans for some time to come!

CONVENTION WEEK TRADING IS SLOW Trend Toward Lower Ask Levels Seems About to End

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

The price cutting of recent weeks has slowed to a walk. As a matter of fact, gains have outnumbered losses (by about two to one) for the first time in quite a while. This "trend toward stability" may just be due to the fact that so many dealers are attending the A. N. A. Convention in Philadelphia—they may continue to lower ask levels on rolls and proof sets when they return home next week.

On the otherhand, current price levels could easily reflect the "bottom" of this particular cycle—with dealers beginning to realize that replacing much of the material sold at "give-away" prices can often be quite a problem. Proof sets must certainly fall into this category—at least, choice ones must. Restocking, for instance, spot-free 1958 proof sets at under $11 could prove to be rather difficult.

Next week will tell the story. Dealers will again be at their teletype stations and will be offering some of the material picked up in Philadelphia. Whether roll and proof set prices will hold at current levels and begin the inevitable advance will be determined by them at that time. Investors will, of course, have to begin getting into the act a little more. As has previously been mentioned, numerous investors are already quietly buying—having been enticed by bargain price levels on their favorite material. When investor buying becomes more apparent a feeling of more urgency results. That is, when the "bottom" is reached, it often can be a matter of just a day or two before the bargains disappear from the tapes.

Bidders, by the way, have already begun to appear in some areas. Offering to pay slightly less than bid for "one hundred" of this or that proof set has become considerably more frequent. In most cases, however, these bids are ignored. Scattered BU rolls are also showing up on these buy lists—particularly Washingtons and some of the scarcer low priced Morgan rolls.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Very slight changes—with sales still widely scattered. Mild interest is noted at current levels for late date bags (1965-1969).

NICKELS: Virtually unchanged—bidders remain few and far between in spite of the "bargain prices" which are presently in effect. The circulated roll set (from 1938 to date) is offered at a lower $725.

1942S - Available now at $100—off $5

1953P & D - Both continue to interest investors

DIMES: The "common date" P-mint Mercury rolls are again available at $43; a couple of minor gains have been registered by the otherwise quiet Roosevelts.

1939D & 1940D - Both advance slightly

1953S - Bid now at $20

1954S - Bid now at $22

1958P - Bid now at $18

QUARTERS: Here too a few small increases have been noted; all other dates remain steady.

1947S - Up slightly—with bids now at $96

1954S - Still on "want lists"; bid $27.50

1955D - Up $5—ask now $120

1958P - An occasional sale around $43

HALVES: Still not much activity for either the Walking Liberties or the Franklins. The circulated roll set (1948-63) is available at a lower $630.

1944D & 45D - These two edge slightly higher

1950D - Still slipping—with "choice" rolls offered at $140

1953S - Bid moves back up to $57.50—with a sale or two at this level

DOLLARS: Only small changes dot the charts; sales are light. BU Morgan bags are still offered at $2325-$2350 XC.

1878 (7/8 tf) - Available now at $250

1888O - Bid moves up to $57.50

1898O & 1904O - Both record a few sales around $60

1925P - Bid moves up to $52.50

1935P - One or two rolls trade at $210

PROOF SETS: Bidders are beginning to enter the market—evidently attracted by today's low prices. A few minor gains are noted: "selling lists" have become shorter.

1953 & 1955 - Spot-free sets enjoy slightly higher bids

1961, 62 & 63 - These three also edge upward

1969S - The lone dissenter—offered now at $7.75

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

THE DENVER ISSUES OF 1934

Considerable attention has been focused in recent months on the issues of the Denver mint for 1934. The quarter in particular, both BU and circulated, has been appearing for some time now on various dealer and investor "want lists"—and price advances have been substantial. This week's Investment Section will cover all six of the 1934-D issues—cent thru dollar.

CENTS (mintage 28,446,000)

Of the "short set" rolls (1934 to date) the 1934-D roll is by far the scarcest. As a matter of fact, dealers often attempt to sell "short sets" beginning with 1935 because their stock of choice 34-D cents is low. The lack of interest in Lincolns in the last couple of years has seen this roll slip from a high of approximately $500 to a recent teletype offering at $250. If and when Lincolns "move" again, this will be the "key" of the "short set" and prices could again easily reach previous highs. Choice BU singles still fetch $6-$7 at auction; the 1970 Redbook listing is $8.75.

NICKELS: (mintage 7,480,000)

At this point, there is no recognizable "short set" for the Buffalo nickels. In future years, it seems almost inevitable that the last twelve issues in the series (1934-38) will be collected as a set. The 34-D is again the "key"—rolls are seldom offered. The last recorded teletype ask price was $375—but bid levels so far have been considerably lower. A reasonably well-struck roll would prove to be an excellent long-term investment at $300 or so. Choice BU singles are in some demand and will currently bring almost the full Guidebook listing of $13.50 at a larger auction.

DIMES: (mintage 6,772,000)

Here we have a particularly interesting long-term investment. Rolls are of about the same scarcity as the 34-D nickel rolls—but interest in Mercury dimes (particularly 1934-45) is considerably higher. The 1970 Guidebook listing is $18; the teletype bid for choice BU singles is $12—with little or no discount for quantities (which are seldom available anyway). The 34-D dime is just as scarce as the higher priced 35-D and a price tag of $25-$30 per gem specimen is a definite possibility. Don't wait for a roll—pick up whatever bargains are available in single choice pieces. Circulated rolls, by the way, have recently moved from $8 to $15 bid on the tapes—with very few offered.

QUARTERS: (mintage 3,527,200)

Sales of choice singles have recently been recorded at or near the $60 level—the bid having advanced from $42.50. This $60 price seems to have brought out a few pieces (half a roll was offered this week). Still, buying pressure could still see further advances—to $75 perhaps.

(This coin was highly recommended in the Newsletter of February 14th at $42.50-$45.00.) Circulated rolls are now steady at $37.50 bid—virtually double the price of one year ago. These circ rolls usually consist of badly worn coins and certainly nothing better than G-VG. Higher grades—Fine and better—are quite scarce and also have a definite investment potential. However, accumulating any quantity of higher grade circs at anything less than retail is something of a problem.

HALVES: (mintage 2,361,400)

It has been quite a while since a roll of 34-D halves was offered on the tapes. As a matter of fact, it has been a long time since more than one or two singles were for sale. The current teletype ask price for a choice BU specimen is around $25—and dealers seldom have to offer their 34-D halves more than once. (The 1970 Redbook listing is $35.) Mild buying pressure—which seems almost inevitable at some point—will see the bid quickly advance to the $45-$50 level. This is another highly recommended long term investment. By the way, hold on to those higher grade (VF and better) circulated 34-D halves also.

DOLLARS: (mintage 1,569,500)

A choice roll of 34-D dollars was recently offered on the tapes at $475—the first roll offering recorded in recent months. The current bid of $440 is generally ignored—choice BU singles trade at or near the $25 level. A new cycle of buying in the Peace Dollar series could easily witness at least a return to the $650 (or about $35 per choice single) price tag registered during the peak trading period of 1964. This low mintage dollar is yet another recommended long-term investment. Dealers already ask the full 1970 Redbook price of $35 in over the counter sales.

As you can see, it is felt that all six of the 1934-D issues have a far better than average investment potential. In order of preference (a rather difficult determination) the best buys at current prices are perhaps the half dollar and dime, followed by the silver dollar, quarter, nickel and cent—more or less in that order. As price advances come about, the order of preference is, of course, to be altered.

PRICES EDGE HIGHER IN SEVERAL AREAS MUCH MATERIAL PROVES ELUSIVE TO BUYERS

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Last week's "stability" seems to have taken hold—at least partially. Plus signs dot the charts for both the Washingtons and silver dollars and scattered dime and half dollar rolls are getting into the act. Only the Lincolns—and to a lesser extent the Jeffersons—continue to edge lower. (As a matter of fact, only an occasional small loss was noted this week for the Jeffersons, although bidding is still at a virtual standstill.) No date in the Lincoln series, however, is difficult to locate—and current low prices are often open for negotiation.

Proof sets continue to receive quantity bids—perhaps at an increased rate over last week's stirrings. At this point, price advances have been minimal and sales have been light. Still, the buying interest is evident and the occasional "bargain offering" at bid or below now finds a buyer—sometimes immediately. The 1957 thru 1960 sets seem to enjoy the most demand with bids for one hundred set lots being regularly monitored. For some reason, the 1956 set edged lower in the face of this renewed interest—with bids now at $8.75 and sales around $9-$9.25 in lots of twenty to one hundred sets. This is a good buy (as indeed all spot-free sets in the 1956-60 group will prove to be within the next few months.)

All in all, availability of much of the desirable material has tightened. One dealer complained this week that none of his "buying" messages on the teletype had been answered. The usual complaint of recent months is that it is difficult to sell—but the real problem is that nearly all dealers are trying to sell the same material to each other. The above mentioned dealer wanted to buy 35-D quarters and 34-D halves (BU), Alabama 2 x 2 Commemoratives, a choice BU 1931-S cent, a proof 1903 dime, BU rolls of 54-S dimes and quarters—and several other items. He wasn't successful in buying any of these coins. Certainly this isn't rare material. Yet no dealers saw fit to answer the buying orders—and, in most cases, the buyer asked for "quotes" rather than stating the price at which he was willing to buy.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Selling lists continue to include nearly all dates—several prices edge lower. Late date bags (1965-69) register further small gains.

NICKELS: Prices remain steady across the series—sales are still at a minimum. The 1950-D roll has recorded an occasional transaction in the $385-$490 range.

DIMES: Several small advances (and a couple of losses) have been noted for the Roosevelts; trading volume remains small.

1943P, 44P & 45P - These "common" Mercury rolls are offered at $42

1947D & 1949D - These two edge slightly higher

1954S - Hard to buy at $23 bid

1955D - Now available in quantity at $32

QUARTERS: Numerous changes—all on the "up" side—are noted. Several dates prove elusive to bidders.

1946S - Bid now at $110

1947S - Also up—with bids at $97.50

1954S - On "want lists" yet another week—now at $28

1955D - A few sales recorded—at around $118

HALVES: Prices are mixed—only scattered transactions are recorded. A BU roll set of Franklins is now available at $2900.

1946D - A choice roll or two is offered at $180

1954S - Up slightly—with bids at $33

1955P - Sales noted at a higher $132.50

DOLLARS: Several gains are registered—mostly among the scarce Morgan rolls and choice single Peace dollars.

1878 (8tf) - Up a substantial $25—with bids at $215

1878CC - Up $5—bid now $220

1892P - Extremely elusive; bid now $290

1896O - Bid now at $900

1897O - Bid now at $600

1925P - Interest continues in the $53-$55 range

PROOF SETS: Bidders still show interest (particularly in the 1957-1963 sets); sales become more frequent.

1956 - This one is lower; transactions as low as $9.25

1958 - Up slightly—with bids at $11.40

1961, 62 & 63 - Still edging upward from recent lows.

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

Sales may lag as 1969 closes out and this trend continue on into the first half of 1970. Experts seem to believe that this is to happen and it is a necessary happening if we are to cool the economy down slightly. The slowdown is going to hurt some individuals but for the long term there is agreement that a real boom is to shape up during the seventies. Many investors will ride back up to the top when this comes about. The trick, of course, is to buy coins, land or stocks . . . not too soon . . . but just at the start, or slightly before, this big climb! One of the reasons why the bankers and experts believe the tremendous climb is to come about (almost a doubling of stock values is predicted) is that there will be an end to the war by that time.

Before this happens it is likely that the coin industry is to be stimulated by the Dwight D. Eisenhower Dollar. The fight as to whether or not it will be a silverless or 40% silver dollar is to continue. It is hard to believe, however, that the government would mint another 40% silver coin when they are already talking about discontinuing production on the 40% silver half dollar and substituting in lieu of a silverless clad half dollar. At any rate the proposals for this Ike Dollar are stipulating that one million dollars be struck for three successive years. Actually the stipulation states "no fewer than one million coins." They will take no chances of turning out a short issue. The coin will be scarce enough even if they turn out two million pieces! I hardly have to mention to you readers what the issuance of such a dollar piece will do to the coin industry!! And what it will do to the proof set series if a set is brought out with this dollar piece!

Another important happening in the coin industry will be the CIC poll figures that will gradually be released to CIC subscribers in the months ahead! For the first time in the history of numismatics such a poll has been taken. Knowing how many rolls and rare singles have been put aside, knowing what coins the collector has . . . and does not have . . . will tend to make this hobby and investment safer and more dependable than it has ever been!! For the first time the investor will really know where he stands in this unusual investment!!

The seventies may turn out to be the "roaring seventies" before the decade is past. I can see a most affluent society turning to hobbies and investments that they couldn't afford in the past. One of the reasons why the coin hobby slumped (not counting the government regulations that brought about some coin recession) was the adjustment that the coin collector just could not make when he found that key coins were no longer available from the pocket change and that he would be obliged to secure such coins from dealers. Too long the hobby had been a "collecting" hobby . . . and I mean collecting in the strictest sense of the word! No investment was necessary as coins were generally quite easily found in the pocket change of the nation. Collectors found it easier to pick up circulated keys for free so why bother to pick up BU copies from the dealers. Not all of them acted in this manner but a substantial number did. Our poll tells us that today. A good many built up sets of circulated coins . . . not BU coins. Today the poll tells us that many now intend to make their collections 100% BU, depending, of course, on their incomes in the future. The poll has also revealed to us that collectors show an inclination NOW to pay quite high prices for rare coins that they really want. This is most interesting. All in all . . . it seems that the "adjustment" is being made . . . slowly. Collectors are coming to accept the fact that their collections are INVESTMENTS and that they will have to buy expensive pieces as they add to their collections . . . just like an art collector or antique collector. They are realizing that this is a profitable hobby where the coins can be enjoyed while they are being collected and that later said coins can be turned into an annuity or retirement fund . . . and a most sizeable one at that . . . even a fortune!

GAINS OUTNUMBER LOSSES; VOLUME LIGHT Commemoratives, Scarce Morgans and Scattered Rolls Pace Market

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Again this week plus signs have outnumbered losses—and, except for the Lincolns, "bargain" selling lists have grown still shorter. This isn't to say that the market is in a general upswing—not yet—but bidding in several areas has increased and the availability of most of the wanted material is really quite limited. As was mentioned last week, there are many "popular" items which virtually all dealers have in stock and which they have quite a bit of difficulty selling to each other. On the other hand, the "wanted" material (which relatively few dealers have in stock) is hard to locate and difficult to pry loose without substantially advancing the bid level.

Commemorative halves continue to fall into the "wanted" category—with buying lists exceeding the "selling" ones by a considerable margin. Bargain prices for "lots" or quantities are non-existent and bid levels have again registered several small gains. A choice BU fifty-piece type set (which includes the Isabella quarter and Lafayette dollar) was offered this week at $2350—and the complete set (144 pieces) is now for sale at $4650. Just a few months back, by the way, the fifty-piece set was offered for around $2000. In singles the Alabama 2 x 2, in the opinion of many dealers, is going to be the next "hot" item (it is already lukewarm)—and the bid could easily advance to $75 or so for this low mintage issue. The 2 x 2, of course, is not necessary to complete a type set—but with such a low mintage (6,006) the demand will still be sufficient to witness substantial gains.

And—while on the subject—why not consider the Missouri 2 x 4 rather than the "plain" version. The 2 x 4 has a mintage of 5,000; the "plain" has a mintage of 15,428. At present there is only a $5 difference in the bid level. Future advances should see the 2 x 4 priced more realistically at $50-$75 over the "plain" Missouri. So, when assembling your type set, add the 2 x 4 for only $5 or $10 more and the extra profit will be built-in. Most collectors now wish they had spent an extra two or three dollars for the 1921 Pilgrim rather than the 1920!

The 1934-D quarter seems to have "topped"—at least temporarily—at around $62.50 ask. The 35-D has moved up again this week with numerous bids in the $53-$55 range. An "original gem roll" was enticed out of hiding by recent bidding—and the price tag is a healthy $2400!

This Week's Market

CENTS: The late dates have stabilized at last week's levels; 68-S and 69-S bags are plentiful at slightly lower prices—with numerous sales recorded.

NICKELS: A few small gains are scattered across the series; transactions remain few and far between. A circulated roll set traded this week at $700.

1943S & 1945S - Both are up slightly; bid now $33

1946S - Wanted in quantity by a couple of dealers—bid $22.50

1950D (circ) - Bid moves back up to $350

DIMES: A minimum of activity has been recorded by the Mercuries and Roosevelts; ask prices now remain firm.

1950P & 1955P - Both are available at $52.50

1956D - Starting to appear on "buying" lists—quantities wanted at $10

1957D - Also wanted—with bids of $10

QUARTERS: Several more rolls register slight gains; "bargain" selling lists grow shorter.

1941D - Still elusive; bid now at $157.50

1947S - Bid moves up to $98.50

1955D - One or two sales around $120

1958P - Buying continues—with bids of $42.50

HALVES: The BU roll set of Franklins remains on the market at $2900; individual rolls show only minor adjustments.

1947D - Offered now at $125

1955P & 1956P - Both edge higher—with an occasional transaction noted

DOLLARS: Gains continue for several of the elusive dates. Common date BU Morgan bags are offered at $2365 and Peace dollar bags are available at $2275.

1878 (8tf) - Back down to $210 ask after last week's jump

1888D - Bid moves up to $62.50

1896O & 1897O - Both register substantial gains; none are available

1924S & 1935S - Both are now bid at $625

PROOF SETS: Most dates after '55 continue to receive quantity bids at current levels; "bargains" now sell quickly (watch out for spotted sets).

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTING IN CIRCULATED MERCURIES

For some months now several dealers have been attempting to build on operating stock on a number of the more elusive circulated Mercury Dime rolls. Other than the four keys (16-D, 21-P & D, 42/41) and a few semi-keys (26-S, 30-S, 31-D & S), most dealers—and investors—have more or less ignored the investment possibilities in this area. Now several other dates are beginning to appear on "want lists" and, as a matter of fact, at present prices rolls of these issues are more difficult to locate than are the semi-keys. They are not necessarily more scarce—but it is going to take considerably higher bids to get results. Also, in the condition that most collectors of circulated Mercuries want (VG-F) several of these overlooked dates are more scarce than the semi-keys.

The dates will currently seem to be the most difficult to locate are: 1916-S, 1917-D, 1925-D, 1927-D, 1928-D and 1929-D. Bidders ask for "Good and better" rolls and seldom can locate anything except rolls which turn out to be "Fair and About Good". These rolls should be avoided as future resale will be very difficult. Current bid prices range from $10 for the 29-D to $40 or so for the 25-D. It is difficult to place an actual value on rolls of these coins because the condition can vary so greatly. The investor who is on his toes can often pick up "lots" of this material and still keep his cost to a reasonable level. These "lots" are becoming more scarce and should be purchased whenever available if they contain a generous number of the tough dates.

Other dates to be considered in addition to the six just mentioned are: 1919-D & S, 1923-S, 1924-D, 1931-P, 1934-D and 1938-D. These are occasionally available by the roll at auction and can sometimes be picked up very reasonably. This availability will diminish rather quickly in the next year or two.

Scattered Rolls Appear on Buying Lists; Prices are Mixed

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Although the "common date" Morgan dollar rolls are easily located within the bid-ask range, numerous scarce issue have again received substantially higher bids this week. These increases also apply to several of the late date Peace dollar rolls. And so far bidders have been almost entirely unsuccessful. In several cases the potential buyer is offering to pay a premium over the single coin price for a roll ($35, for instance, for a single BU 27-D—or $725 for a roll). None of the later date mintmarked Peace dollars seem to be for sale in quantity—and the choice singles which are offered generally carry price tags with a premium. Also it seems that "slidders" are a problem and that "choice BU" singles often fall far short of that description.

The "common date" BU bags are still around in quantity—with the Morgans offered now at $2350 and the Peace dollars at $2275. Only scattered buyer interest has been noted although an occasional transaction is registered. Bids still generally fall about $25 below these ask levels.

At current bid levels several miscellaneous rolls are receiving a mild amount of attention. Quantity bids have been noted for such varied dates as 47-S cents, 46-S nickels, 47-S and 54-S quarters and 47-D halves. Buyers are attempting, of course, to pick up these rolls at bid—or in some cases, under bid. So far success in this area has also been limited. It looks as if sellers have lowered their ask levels about as far as they intend to—at least for those dates which are beginning to appear on "want lists".

Commemoratives are still strong—with buying lists getting longer each week. Several more small price hikes have been recorded—with bids as high as $45 noted for the 1921 Pilgrim and $55 for the Alabama 2 x 2.

This Week's Market

CENTS:

Scattered bidding—all at current levels—has been noted this week. Most prices are unchanged and volume remains extremely light.

1947S - Available in quantity at $14

1960P sm - A sale or two around $150

NICKELS:

Slightly increased interest in Buffalo rolls is noted—at bid or less, however. The Jeffersons register only minor adjustments.

1943D & 1944S - These two edge a bid higher

1950D - Transactions recorded at $390

DIMES:

Mercury rolls remain steady—with common date "P" mints still offered in the $40-$42 range. Trading has been very light for the nearly unchanged Roosevelts.

1947S - Offered at a slightly lower $35

1948D - Also lower; available now at $36

1949P - Bidders at $250 are unsuccessful

QUARTERS:

Small gains again are scattered across the charts; several dates remain elusive.

1942S - This key roll is up $10; bid now $560

1943D & S - Both are on the plus side

1947S - Bid reaches $100; none offered

HALVES:

Several Franklin rolls edge still lower—with little buying interest being shown. Walking Liberties record only an occasional change.

1942D - Available at a lower $255

1944D - Still difficult to locate; bid now $105

1948P - Now offered at $142.50

1950P - Also lower; offered at $215

1959P & D - Both are now available at $25

DOLLARS:

Scarce dates in both series receive higher bids; the common date rolls remain on the market at current levels.

1882CC & 1884CC - Both record substantial gains

1892P - Still none offered to bidders at $425

1927D - Up $125; bid now $725

1927S - Up $100; bid now $700

1935S - Up $125; bid now $750

PROOF SETS:

Quantity bidding continues—with small gains noted for the 1957 thru 1960 sets. The "S" mint sets are unchanged and very lightly traded.

it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

Over 2,000 years ago the Romans were using metal coins like the ones we use today. Many of these early coins were made in the temple of the goddess Moneta, which is probably how the word "money" was derived. From time to time we are told that it will be a coinless future and that this does not lie too far ahead! We read about this coinless society and it isn't too difficult to believe that it actually may come about. When we stop to consider how popular credit cards are becoming . . . every week new firms are issuing them . . . it is easy to see how checks and credit cards just might replace currency and coins someday.

But I don't believe it is going to come about as quickly as we might have believed. Even though more and more purchases are being made without the use of coins or currency, nevertheless currency in circulation has jumped from $163 to $222 per capita, while coins jumped from $10 to $19 per capita. In other words the average individual is now handling almost twice the amount of coins he carried some eight years ago!

Latest Federal Reserve figures indicate the 85% of our currency and coins today is being held by households and only 15% controlled by business. There has been an increase of approximately 7% per year in circulating coin and paper currency since 1961. The Federal Reserve expects the annual growth in the coming 1970's to be slightly less per year . . . or about 4% to 6%. So . . . while the shift toward a coinless society may be making its first move in the seventies, the change-over will take many, many years!

It is an interesting thought, nevertheless. Just how valuable would a coin collection be in a future that was coinless? Would the coins be regarded as museum pieces, antiques or novelties??

Labor costs continue to advance. Union demands for the coming year are expected to be up to 15% or more, plus fringes. If we want to be realistic about inflation it is going to be hard to actually believe that any progress will be made against its inroads as long as this trend continues. Still . . . many reports are coming in that price resistance is starting to be felt. In some parts of the country women have formed groups to fight the increases in the price of meat. Retailers are going to be caught in between higher wage costs and this price resistance. Union demands that equal as much as 15% per year will be trimmed down in the bargaining sessions but it is interesting to note that union leaders are in agreement that future price rises will be in the neighborhood of 5% to 6% yearly for some time. This doesn't sound like the 3% the government is talking about!

My own opinion is that the coming shrinking profits of business people, plus the price resistance on the part of the buying public, will hold down the excessive demands somewhat and in the long run will keep the national inflation rate under the 5% rate. At the moment it is running closer to 6-1/2% or more.

An investment today must pay the investor this 6-1/2% PLUS the state and Federal income taxes he must pay on the 6-1/2% yield! In other words the gain per year would have to be about 8% to 9% if one is to ride the inflation wave or just barely keep ahead of it!!

And of course there are investment expenses. Almost every investment has buying and selling commissions and each particular investment has its own individual operating expenses. These all have to be taken into account before one can definitely be certain of what his actual yearly yield has been!

It is said that there is a time when investors . . . the smart ones . . . go about quietly buying. And there is a time when these smart investors reach the "unloading" stage . . . the point where the market is great and the investment advancing. This is that time when these people pass their investments on to the speculators . . . or in other words the time when the investment is transferred from the experienced to the inexperienced, from the strong to the weak. Not too long ago it appeared that this was happening in the stock market. The smart operators unloaded before the stock market break. Now these people are waiting for the next move in the cycle . . . which will be the mark-up or upward movement in the market. I guess the secret of being a poor investor or a good one lies in the ability to be able to judge the position of an investment in the cycle. One can tell, of course, from a perusal of history charts just what particular part of the cycle the investment is in. If it has been at the bottom for a long period of time, or if it has been at the top for a long period of time, action is probably going to be taken by the smart investor . . . and usually such action will be taken before either period is too lengthy. That is the trick . . . not to wait too long at the top or too long at the bottom. Historical charts will tell the investor how far along the way the peak movement or bottom movement has been . . . when compared to similar movements in the past. This is something for the coin investor to consider as he views today's low prices for key coins.

COMMON SILVER BID MOVES UP Entire Market Outlook Improves as Want Lists Grow Longer

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

The bid for common silver had reached $22-$23 by the end of the week—and sellers were seizing this opportunity to place price tags in the 25%-27% range on their available bags. Warnickels reached $340 or so per bag. Much teletype time is being spent by dealers who are discussing the current rise in bid levels for this common junk—and on the various problems involved in shipping, etc. These prices, it should be noted, are quite volatile—and Monday morning's price could be very different—in either direction.

All of this activity in common silver hasn't detracted to any great extent from the rest of the market. Actually plus signs have again outnumbered losses and extensive "want lists" are becoming more numerous. Washington quarters in particular look good—with circulated rolls and singles in demand along with BU rolls and the earlier BU singles. Such dates as 34-D and 35-D are not only wanted in choice BU condition but are proving to be very elusive in the XF area also.

The circulated roll set of Washington quarters (1941-64) is—at this point—drastically overlooked. The current bid price (which is up this week at $825) is basically figured at the common silver price for all but four or five rolls. A single circ "short set" has a potential of at least double face value—which would be $30.50. This would place a price tag of around $1200 on a circ "short roll set" and would, of course, include the 55-D roll at an approximate value of $100. The point is that very few of these circ roll sets are being saved from the melting pot. Even the occasional bidder who needs a few common date circ rolls (such as this week's attempts to buy 50-S, 52-S, 55-P, 56-P, 59-P, etc.) has a hard time buying.

In the future the circulated roll set of Franklins is going to prove more easily obtained than the Washington quarter "short set". Very few halves—other than the most plentiful dates—are being melted in comparison with the almost indiscriminate melting of quarters. Dealers almost invariably look through the halves as they come in—but time hardly allows for looking through quarters or saving rolls by date.

This Week's Market

CENTS: A few gains—for a change; most prices, however, are at recent levels and sales remain widely scattered.

NICKELS: Several low mintage dates register slightly higher bids; the remainder of the Jefferson series and the Buffalos are unchanged.

1938S - Up $5—with bids at $162.50

1943D - Also edging higher again; bid $115

1946S - Quantities are still wanted—now at $23

1951S - One or two bidders are interested at $95

DIMES: The common "P" mint Mercuries slip another dollar lower. Roosevelts are steady—with the '56 thru '58 Denver rolls perking up a bid.

QUARTERS: Again all the changes are on the "plus" side—last week's sought after issues continue to appear on "want lists".

1941D - Bid now at $160—quite elusive

1947S - Catching up with the 46-S; bid $105

1953S & 1954S - Both show further gains

1955D - An occasional sale around $120

HALVES: Very little change for either the Walking Liberties or the Franklins. "Bargain lots" of late date rolls are appearing rather regularly—and a Franklin BU roll set is frequently offered at $2900.

1946D - Up only slightly—but of considerable interest to some buyers

1949P - This "key" date is available at $370

DOLLARS: Again "buy orders" for several scarce dates dominate the silver dollar scene.

1882CC - Bid now at $540; few available

1892P - Up another $25—bid now $450

1927P - This one is lower; offered at $450

1927D - Still advancing; bid reaches $740

1927S - Bid at $700; singles at $36

PROOF SETS: Prices are mixed this week—with the '57-'60 group still of the most interest of quantity buyers.

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as
it closed Friday afternoon. Under the
present system, it is impossible to
monitor all transactions or offers to
buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make
it a very accurate reflection of the
market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer
transactions. As an investor, you
may place your buy and sell orders
through a dealer for a fee, as you
would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER
NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price
at which dealers are offering to
buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price
at which dealers are offering to
sell.

Where an item has no price entered,
there was no offer to buy or sell
outstanding as of the close of
business, even though transac-
tions may have occurred earlier in
the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually
stood at the close of business on
Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are
in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

INVESTOR'S REPORT

A NEW APPROACH TO TODAY'S INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

CURRENT INVESTMENT STATUS OF THE BARBER COINAGE

Although the collecting of Barber coins by date has yet to have a renaissance, the interest in "type" specimens is still gaining momentum. Virtually all collectors who are assembling type sets want nice pieces—usually BU and often proof—for their collections. The tendency, of course, has always been to obtain the most common dates in the best condition that the individual collector could afford. Through the years this concentrated buying in the common date area has created quite a scarcity in those dates which were once the most plentiful—and prices have advanced accordingly. On the other hand, the lack of interest in the more elusive dates (especially in the better grades) created a situation in which the tough dates would fetch far less than the Guidebook listings. The "common" dates, on the other hand, would often bring more than the listings of a particular "Redbook".

The dimes, of course, are the most easily obtained of the three Barber issues. However, probably 75% of those dimes listed for sale as "BU" are slidders or AU coins. A really choice frosty BU Barber dime is the exception and at today's $18-$20 is a good buy. Those coins listed in retail ads at $14 in BU—or as "UNC" at $12—are almost certainly not uncirculated. No dealer has to offer a truly unc Barber dime at these prices as he could easily sell it to another dealer for more. Proof Barber dimes currently sell at an already adequate $72.50-$77.50—and a proof of a particular date is often easier to locate than a gem BU specimen.

Barber quarters in choice BU condition are snapped up on the tapes when offered at $30 or so—yet current retail ads list numerous pieces (described as BU or UNC) for sale at $25. Again it is a waste of time to order these coins unless you will settle for a slider—or polished XF. The common date quarter is also a good buy at $30-$32 when truly choice—and gains in the next few years for both the dimes and quarters will be steadily upward. Here, too, proofs often outnumber the BU's for all but the late dates—and today's price for a choice proof ($82.50-$87.50) should remain steady—at least until the BU price closes the gap a little more. Barber quarters in strong XF condition by the way, are quite hard to find (possibly because most of them have been scrubbed already and are being offered as UNC) and price advances should be substantial in this area in the next couple of years.

In Barber halves, the proofs are far more plentiful than the "common" date BU's. It is not unusual for a dealer to obtain a complete set of proofs and to break it up for single sales as "type coins". Of course, that always leaves him with the 1913, 1914 and 1915 proofs—which are not easy to resell unless at a substantial discount from the Guidebook listings. On the other hand, try to locate a truly gem BU 1913, 1914 or 1915 half! A gem BU "common" date currently brings around $90 and a proof about $135-$140. (If priced in actual relationship to scarcity, for most years the prices would be reversed.) Any advance in the price of either the proof or BU specimens will directly affect the price of the other. The best buy in Barber halves at the current time is in true XF pieces. These are quite scarce (when not mishandled in various ways) and as the price edges higher for BU's and proofs the XF's will move ahead even more rapidly. The smaller collector will have to content himself with these high grade circs as the price advances for the BU's.

For those true collectors among us, a gem BU set of any of the three Barber issues is a real challenge—and something that will take many years of searching to complete. For anyone who becomes interested now, the prices for the scarcer mintmarked issues are actually quite reasonable in view of scarcity. Often at auction these pieces can be picked up for half of "Redbook". It is the challenge, of course, that makes true collecting interesting and fun.

BID PRICES EDGE HIGHER Most Areas of the Market Experience Some Buyer Interest

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Various dealer and investor "want lists" continue to grow longer—with nearly all segments of the market getting into the act (even some Lincolns have received bids this week). The variety of material being asked for is encouraging—BU rolls, proof sets, circulated rolls, and singles of all sorts. Although plus signs outnumber losses again this week, bidders so far have basically contented themselves with offering to pay "CDN bid" for most of the material they need. Success has been noted for scattered buyers, but it is obviously going to take higher bids to corner needed material in many areas. This is particularly true for the scarce dollar rolls, quantity orders on proof sets and many of the Washington quarter rolls.

Of the items appearing on "selling lists", probably eighty or ninety percent is the "same old material" that nearly all dealers are trying to sell to each other—and have been for months now. On these "popular" items there is no need for the buyer to raise his bid; bargain sell offerings are frequent and he can wait a day or so and pick up whatever he needs at current levels. However, it is the infrequently offered material that is of real interest to both dealers and investors—and bargain prices seldom need to be attached to this type of merchandise.

One dealer complained this week that he had been attempting to buy Alabama 2 x 2 commemoratives for several weeks and that so far he had purchased none. This truly numismatic material is the stuff investments are made of—take a look at last week's commemorative chart and the number of plus signs included. The well-rounded coin investment portfolio should certainly contain a goodly share of really scarce material—coins that are of low mintage, in choice condition, and that will steadily increase in value through the years regardless of "promotions" and the like. A type set of commemoratives fits this description exactly.

Common silver, by the way, continues to take up a large share of teletype trading time. Bids during the week fluctuated from 21% to 25%—ending up in the 25% range.

This Week's Market

CENTS: The later "S" mint rolls (1947 thru 1951) have edged higher—and "choice" rolls seem difficult to locate at current price levels.

NICKELS: BU Jefferson sets remain on the market at around $95; numerous dates (including several Wartime issues) dip slightly lower.

1938S - Bucks the trend—with higher bids of $167.50
1944D - Offered now at $72.50
1949S - Offered now at $58.50
1950P - One or two transactions at $56

DIMES: Several of the late date rolls have appeared on "want lists" again—with bids slightly increased. The earlier Roosevelt and Mercury rolls are easily located at bid.

1949D - An exception—this one is up to $92 bid
1949S - Offered now at $550
1955D - Sales at $30; 1955-S—sales at $20

QUARTERS: Price changes have been minimal this week; the clad rolls experience mild demand.

1947S - Still wanted—now at $106
1950S - Choice rolls are available at $72.50
1954S - Finally a few rolls are offered at $30
1958P - Still advancing—with an occasional sale around $45

HALVES: A few minor fluctuations are noted for the Franklins—with BU sets still listed for sale at $155. Walking Liberty rolls are unchanged.

1947D - Considerable interest—at $120 bid
1949P - Up $5; bid now at $355
1955P - Sales at a higher $135
1959D - Tops the "P" mint rolls—bid $24

DOLLARS: Very few price changes for either the Morgans or Peace dollars; interest, however, for a number of the scarce issues is still quite evident.

1878 (8tf) - Offered at a still lower $185
1904O - Transactions around $60
1921 Peace - None offered to bidders at $600
1927P - Tough roll available at $450

PROOF SETS: A couple of small gains; quantity bidding continues for the lower priced sets.

1954 - A few sales noted at $16
1958 - Up slightly—and bid for in quantity at $11.75
1964 - Also edging higher—with bids at $6.75
1968S - An occasional sale around $8.50
1969S - Steady at $7 bid; $7.50 ask

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

It just might be that the owners of rare coins, silver coins and gold coins would be the ONLY winners in a runaway inflation here in the U.S.A. History tells us that only those people in Germany that owned rare coins and rare stamps during the terrible inflation period that unfortunate country went through were able to get their hands on money that had value. This was done by selling their rare pieces to dealers just across the border in adjoining countries and accepting payment in the currency of the country in which the transaction was taking place!

While inflation is marching ahead at this time at a 6-3/4% rate we are far from a runaway form of inflation such as that experienced in Germany and many of our Latin America neighbor countries. Nevertheless we must consider that during the fourteen months since the income tax surcharge has been in effect . . . consumer prices have still risen on the average about 6.9 per cent. Nothing so far has had much luck in holding down prices. The government plans just aren't working. It is true that the government has many other weapons that they are holding ready in case they really have to get TOUGH! These could be: a cut in the spending for big weapons . . . a cut in the spending for government employment, more cuts in the public works project spending and of course more credit rationing through the banks. On top of all this the government can also carry on a verbal attack on any wage or price hikes. As a last resort there could be controls applied on wages and prices. However, we must remember that the Republican Administration has always been associated with the Depression or Recession in this country. It is something that has never been lived down. Using measures to cure inflation that are REALLY TOUGH could bring about a recession . . . even a depression. We certainly haven't had a depression for a long, long time. Depression cycles would indicate that we are long overdue for one. However, perhaps the economy is so changed . . . so different now . . . that the cycles of the past just do not apply any longer. Still . . . you can be certain that The Republican Administration is not about to bring about such a condition while it happens to be in office. They would be more apt to accept inflation over a depression! If we think about this for a moment we can see that we have one more reason why it is going to be so difficult to restrain inflation . . . to keep it within reasonable bounds. Add the vast number of wage increases that have been granted or will be during the coming year . . . larger than ever before . . . and it builds up to a puzzle that is confusing many of us. How can inflation be stopped if wages continue to go up? No longer are the wage hikes to be 5% . . . as they have been in the past . . . now the gains are to be 10% and 15%!

Washington is now preparing a tax reform that will give tax relief to all of us . . . quite substantial relief during the next two years. This move hardly seems to be anti-inflationary! The business rise is naturally going to lose steam as the year ends and the new one starts. Many pressures are being applied to bring about this slow-down. While it is hoped that this will slow down inflation there is still some experts who believe that we could very well have a recession and inflation at the same time!

What I am trying to tell the coin investor is that inflation is always something to be concerned about. We are living in a world of inflation. All over the world we find people that are concerned with inflation. The stock market is certainly not very happy with inflation and how it would react to runaway inflation is open to a lot of debate. Perhaps . . . not too well! History does prove that paintings, antiques, rare stamps and rare coins have weathered many an inflationary storm. Today, considering the unusual monetary condition, silver coins and gold coins are especially good inflation investments!

Perhaps the coming Eisenhower Dollar will attract many investors to the silver coins again. It seems that the present plans call for a 1970 dollar that is to contain 40% silver! The CIC Survey that we are now working on is telling us that Syndicates, Unions and Investment groups are holding hundreds of thousands of our late issue proof sets. They evidently consider them a good inflation or deflation investment. Can you imagine how much MORE popular proof sets will become next year IF the Eisenhower silver dollar joins the coinage in the 1970 proof set? I would say that the issuance of this dollar coin will change the hobby and investment immensely! Even more so than the Kennedy half dollar!! Even more so than the 1960 small date!!

MARKET RELATIVELY STRONG; SALES INCREASE

Common Silver Bags Trade As High As 32% During The Week

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

A rather interesting and unusual situation developed during the week due to the further rise in the bid price for common silver bags. As the bid began to reach the 30% level, dealer selling lists were still carrying single rolls—both BU and circ—at, or even slightly below, the price being offered for common silver. Those who are “specializing” at the moment in common silver are interested in large lots—ten bags to one hundred bags—and are not buying by the roll. This situation often leaves late date BU quarter and half dollar rolls unsold when offered in the $12.75-$13.50 range. And at least one dealer was offering this week to sell such circ rolls of Franklins as 50-P & D, 51-D & S, etc. at $12.75—at the same time common silver bags were trading at 30%. Of course, the silver bid price is for delivered bags and the single rolls offered usually call for “shipping extra” perhaps this is the difference.

The Newsletter bid price for circulated rolls of dimes, quarters and halves will be brought into line with the common silver price each week. When a dealer or investor needs particular dates—even the most common—by the roll, he will have to pay something over the going rate for silver unless he happens to find the date he needs offered by some dealer who is willing to go to the trouble to sell solid date circ rolls for the silver price. Few dealers will want to bother separating coins by date, pulling out the culls and then packaging a few rolls all for common silver price. As one dealer put it, he would rather dump all these rolls in a bag for his 30% and forget about individual shipments for 35%. This is the reason, of course, that future scarcities will develop for unlikely dates. The bags, by the way, which are coming “out of the woodwork” at today’s prices often contain many better dates—such as 48-D & 49-S halves—all of which are on their way to the melting pot.

Bidders, too, have often appeared rather optimistic this week by offering to pay $12.75 to $13.25 for late date BU quarter and half dollar rolls. Needless to say, these buy orders went through virtually unanswered. A surprising number of better date rolls (mostly dimes) however were still being offered in the $7-$8 range. Sales were noted for such dates as 59-P and 60-P dimes at $7 rather a buy when considering a circ roll of 64-D’s is worth $6.50.

NOTE: The bid price for common silver reached a high of 32% in Tuesday-Wednesday trading and had leveled off to 25%-27% by the end of the week.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Several “S” mint rolls continue to appear on dealer buying lists; most prices are unchanged and trading volume remains light.

1943S - Bid moves up to $24; few offered

1947S - Bid at $15 on one tape; available at $14 on the other!

1950S & 51S - These two again edge higher

NICKELS: Prices slip still lower for several of the “semi-key” Jeffersons; a few of the late Buffalo rolls are stirring “at current levels”.

1938S - This one date is up again bid $175

1944D - Offered now at $70

1950P - Offered now at $56.50

1950D - Several sales noted around $385

DIMES: The later rolls have responded to the “call of silver”; earlier Roosevelts are lightly mixed.

1946S & 47S - Each slip a dollar lower

1949D - Still fairly difficult to locate at $92.50 bid

1954S - Again up slightly—with bids noted at $24

QUARTERS: The bid on common silver has pushed any BU roll up to $13.25; several gains are scattered among the earlier issues.

1944S & 47S - Both register small increases

1955D - Choice rolls are wanted at $120

1959P - Bid moves back up to $18

HALVES: Only minor adjustments are recorded for the W.L. rolls (singles in the ‘41-‘47 group are actively traded at pro-rated roll prices); a few gains are noted in the Franklin line-up—mostly for later dates.

1948D - Transactions around $71-$72

1954S - Few available to bidders at $34

1959D - Still on want lists; bid now $25

DOLLARS: Prices are mixed for both Morgan and Peace dollar rolls; several choice single “S” mint Morgans are offered at slightly lower levels.

1878 (8tf) - Bid at $180—available at $190

1887S - Offered at a lower $250

1892P - Still none on the market at $450 bid

1927D - A “choice” roll was offered at $765

PROOF SETS: Very little change; most late dates can still be located in one hundred set lots at “bid”—smaller quantity buyers must pay “ask”.

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

BIDDING STRONG IN SEVERAL AREAS

Volume Light As Wanted Material Remains Elusive

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Bidding in several areas has continued along at a brisk pace throughout the week—and most of the material on “buying lists” is not being offered for sale. On the other hand, much of the material which is being offered is not what dealers and investors want—at least, not at the present time. This situation leads to long “buying” lists as well as long “selling” lists—and relatively few transactions.

Although BU rolls in general are not “hot”, there are many specific dates which are in demand—mostly quarters, halves and dollars. In addition, several Roosevelt rolls have edged slightly higher this week due to current low bid levels. The usual Morgan and Peace dollar rolls remain virtually impossible to locate (92-P, 27-S, 35-S, etc.) and the now attractively priced “key” Franklins are also getting into the act “at bid” (49-PDS, 50-P, 50-D etc.) Earlier (pre-1941) Washingtons are seldom offered and reasonably priced rolls quickly find a new home.

BU singles in the 30's are of particular interest to dealers and investors. Those who have watched the charts in recent weeks have already seen the 34-D and 35-D quarters register substantial gains—both are firm at $60 bid. Now it seems that the 34-D, 35-D and 36-D dimes are going to have a share of the action—along with the 35-S and 36-S quarters and the 34-D, 35-D & S and 36-D & S halves. Two nickels, by the way, are also rather difficult to locate—1934-D and 1935-D—especially in well-struck condition.

Proof sets, believe it or not, have slipped even a little lower this week—led by the many 68-S and 69-S sets which are currently on the market. Buyers are still in evidence, but bids are not generous and sales are not frequent. At today's price levels, spotted sets are even more of a problem than usual. Those investors who are quietly putting away choice proof sets at current prices will certainly be ahead of the game when the next cycle rolls around. This “next cycle” cannot be predicted with any accuracy—but it is already overdue.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Prices are lightly mixed—with gains and losses evenly balanced. Choice rolls are elusive and numerous inferior shipments are being returned to sellers.

NICKELS: Only minor changes have been registered this week; single BU sets are now available around $92.50. Mild bidding continues for several Buffalo rolls.

1938S - Still hard to locate at $175 bid
1942S - Up slightly—with bids at $97.50
1946S - Bid now at $23.50; few offered
1955P - Little interest noted at $36 ask

DIMES: Many of the Mercuries after '40 are available at slightly lower levels; the Roosevelts pick up several small gains.

1946S & 47S - Bid on both rolls edges higher 1954S - Still advancing; bid $25 with very few available
1955S - A few sales around $20

QUARTERS: Several of the earlier “S” mint rolls have been offered at lower prices; numerous late date issues obviously interest investors at today's levels.

1943S - Offered now at $142.50
1947S - Offered now at $110
1951S - Offered now at $192.50
1952S - Offered now at $67.50

HALVES: Several of the more scarce Franklins are appearing frequently on “want lists” at current bid levels; Walking Liberty rolls are basically steady.

1944D - Still elusive; bid reaches $110
1948P - Offered this week at a lower $137.50
1959D - Bid now at $25.50; scarcer than the 59-P

DOLLARS: Only a few changes—although both BU rolls and singles remain relatively active; several of the tougher singles are available at lower levels.

1878 (8 tf) - Still slipping—with rolls offered now at $185
1892P - Bid at a higher $455; none on the market

PROOF SETS: Again many sets have edged lower; investors show interest—but “bargain hunting” is the rule of the day.

1953 - Sales as low as $24
1955 - Also trading lower? around $22.50
1958 - Choice sets are offered at $12
1968S & 69S - Both are plentiful—at lower prices

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

EXTRA FINE or better

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

In the current issue of the popular newsstand magazine "Coinage" there is an article therein that your writer did. Titled "You CAN take it with You". . . the story is really a numismatic fantasy . . . combining the science of Cryonics with the Numismatic hobby and investment. You might find it to be interesting and I am certain that the illustrating of the article will cause many of you to chuckle. Look it over. This brings to mind the moon landing. Now a recommendation has been made that we issue a coin, possibly a 25 or 50-cent piece to be struck in silver, depicting the Apollo 11 lunar landing!

As this landing has been called "the greatest event in the history of the world since the Creation" it is natural to expect many such recommendations in the months to come. If we finally end up with a Moon Commemorative half dollar who is to say that this won't start a brand new series of Commemorative coins . . . all honoring the landing on the various planets . . . the next one . . . for instance . . . being a Mars Commemorative!!

Can you imagine what the coin collector some 500 years hence will be like? If we are going out to the stars by that time and making contact with other forms of life can you picture our exchanging "bartering" tokens . . . or whatever these strange, or not-so-strange life forms might be using in lieu of money!! Coins could take the shape of living objects, growing objects, rare, priceless metals. Robots, slaves, humanoids could even be used as an exchange for bartering purposes. Life forms on other planets could be going out into space for millions of light year distances, simply to discover unknown rarities as a base for their own particular coins. Coins could be formed out of gases, liquids, heated forms, extremely cold forms, they could be made partly out of computer material and flesh material . . . perhaps even "self-voiding" or "self-changing" by the computer built-in intelligence . . . this to be done if the economy is a fast-moving one and values are constantly changing (even while you are holding the money in your pocket). The strangeness of the bartering items that could be found in use on other worlds is limited only by the breadth of one's imagination! Whatever you can imagine . . . can visualize . . . is very likely in existence somewhere out there among a trillion suns and planets . . . assuming of course that you have an open mind on the possibility (mathematic-wise) of life on some of these worlds.

What would the coin collector be like in the year 2469?? He would certainly be a busy one . . . traveling from one galaxy to another, visiting coin conventions. Perhaps such conventions would include visitors and their coins from many, many other planets!! One would get dizzy just thinking about the size of a coin collection if it tried to include coins or bartering objects from a score of planets!!

Scientists are now working on systems that involve genetics and the cell. Some biologists claim to be on the verge of finding a way to extend the life span to 200 years! Experiments with rats have already doubled the life span of a test group! The latest prediction in 1966 by a Dr. Jean Pichat in France is that within 50 years there may be some people born then that could live essentially forever! This prediction is based on the allowing of the treatment to begin at birth . . . at that particular time. So . . . really what he is saying is that in slightly over one hundred years we are going to have some of these "test-case" people who will be reaching the senior citizen span of life . . . and that from there on they will "hold their own" and live forever, providing that they do not get killed in a space ship accident while going to a coin convention or fall off the top of their coin collection accidentally!! Sounds funny . . . I know . . . but after the moon landing one has to re-program his reasoning . . . all over again. From here on almost anything you can imagine will come true . . . given enough years of research . . . and given enough money and effort by the people and the governments of this world! We can have just about anything . . . if we put forth the same effort that was given to the space program!!

If a coin collector is going to live for hundreds of years . . . in that far-away future . . . his collecting aims will certainly change and he will have the time to build up collections that will come from hundreds of other planets!! Special sets of "bartering" objects will naturally be turned out by other life-forms and these will be offered to neighboring star systems! No longer will the collector have to be satisfied with copper, nickel, silver and gold coins on this world. He will go on to exotic metals and weird substances unheard-of today!! It's enough to make a present-day collector cry . . . when he exercises his imagination and begins to realize what he is going to miss. Sad to say . . . we have all been born too soon! The age of wonders is just about to get started and will go on from here for hundreds and thousands of years . . . providing, of course, that we don't blow up the world in the meantime!

But don't be too sad, fellow numismatists. Read my article in Coinage and you will find out how some of you collector-investors will actually take your investments and collections with you when you expire . . . but only to awaken hundreds of years hence . . . with a form of immortality and a million dollar collection of antique coins! The age of Cryonics (freezing the body at death) is now upon us. Interment centers are being built, capsules are being manufactured, morticians and doctors are part of Cryonics Society of America teams that are freezing people. Fourteen have already been frozen and are in suspended animation, so to speak. Readers may laugh now but in the years ahead Cryonics methods will improve and will be a respected part of the life scheme.

Common Silver Trading Dominates Much Teletype Time

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

A number of interesting and seldom offered BU rolls have been appearing on the tapes in recent weeks. In cents, 1932-P, 1933-P, 1933-D and 1934-D are offered; in dimes, dealers are offering 1929-P, 1929-D, 1935-S, 1938-D; and in halves, 1936-S, 1938-P and 1939-S are available by the roll. Generally the ask prices fall slightly lower than the pro-rated single price—but sales are necessarily scattered. Few dealers want to tie up cash in early rolls at the moment—they are far too busy wheeling and dealing in common silver. It will have to be left up to the investor to put these rolls away and probably only those investors who have an "in" with a teletype dealer are even aware of the scarce rolls which are now being offered. By the way, for the investor "who has everything" there is an AU roll of 1955/55 Lincolns on the tape—priced at $10,000.

Proof sets have finally perked up a bit. Not that this week's bids are impressive—but they are on the "plus" side for a change. Sales have been recorded for all dates after 1955 at these slightly higher bid levels—and in many instances the transactions were made in substantial quantities. A few "bargain" lots are still being offered—but the absence of the "spot-free" description often makes the buyer stay away. At this point sets are too easy to buy to ask for the problem of returning inferior sets. Far too often a dealer has one or two each of several dates that he will offer "as a lot" at 5% off bid—this is often the first clue to the fact that these are bad sets. Any dealer with a shop should certainly be able to fit half a dozen low priced proof sets into his stock—that is, unless there is a reason why over-the-counter sales would be difficult. Even at current prices, it is very important that the investor put away only choice sets—resale is always a problem with anything other than nice material.

Bidding continues for BU singles in the 30's—with nickels, dimes and quarters receiving most of the action. Both the 34-D and 35-D quarters have traded at $62.50 and now both 34-D and 35-D halves have begun to edge higher. Denver dimes of 1934, 1935 and 1936 are tough at current levels and the few choice pieces offered find a buyer right away. Another roll to watch is the 1937-D dime—far scarcer than the 37-S and currently priced very reasonably.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Prices have remained steady throughout another week of very slow trading; nearly all dates are still easily located.

NICKELS: Trading has been light for the Jeffersons also—with only an occasional investor showing interest in the bargains currently offered.

1938S - Transactions noted at $175

1946S - This one is still on the upswing—with bids at $25

1950P - Offered now at a lower $52.50

1950D - Now trading in the $370-$385 range

DIMES: Mercury rolls are now firm after last week's "adjustment"; the Roosevelts are lightly mixed—and only scattered sales have been noted.

1946D - Higher again this week; bid now $17

1950P - Sales registered around $48.50

1952S - A fairly tough roll; offered at $67.50

1954S - Now available at a lower $25.50

QUARTERS: Several small gains have been registered; numerous quarter rolls often fail to appear on "selling lists"—and locating these more elusive dates can be a problem (at today's prices, anyway).

1944D & 1945D - Both edge slightly higher

1948S - Bid for in quantity—at $39.50

1951S - Bid moves back up to $182.50

1955P - Now offered at a lower $32

HALVES: Walking Liberties are unchanged—with demand centered around the 46-D and 47-D rolls; the Franklins are mixed—with increased interest noted for several issues.

1948P & 1949P - Both have edged slightly higher.

1950P - This is often a very scarce roll; now offered at $205

1951S - Available at a lower $135

1954S - Bid up another notch—now $35

DOLLARS: Bidding seems to have tapered off for both the Morgans and the Peace dollars; prices are virtually unchanged.

1878 (8tf) - Lower again—with rolls available at $180

1892P - Up another $5; none offered to bidders at $460

PROOF SETS: Finally it's a week for "plus" signs as dealers and investors begin to show interest in the current price schedule.

1956 thru 1964 - All sets show slight increases

1968S & 1969S - Also up slightly—with sales at $8 and $7 respectively

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

PRICES REMAIN MIXED; TRADING IS MODERATE Commemoratives Continue to Advance in Active Bidding

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

The market has continued along at pretty much the same pace for still another week. There is quite a lot of material for sale—but as has been noted previously, it is not—for the most part—the material which is currently in demand. Cent and nickel rolls, especially, fail to create a stir even when offered in “bargain lots” or “new lower prices”. In fact, nearly all buying in BU rolls seems to be to fill specific customer orders—perhaps filling in roll sets or obtaining store-stock for dealers without teletype. Very few dates are currently on “want lists” strictly because the buyer considers them under-priced and a good short-term investment.

There are areas of particular interest to bidders, however—and these are the areas in which few selling offers are being made. That is, few selling offers which are not already priced considerably ahead of the bid-ask levels. Commemoratives continue to fall into this category—with several more gains recorded this week. The New Rochelle piece is now bid at $60 (up from $53.50) and the 1921 Pilgrim has now moved from $50 to $56 bid. Among others, demand is strong for the Bay Bridge, Bridgeport, Maryland, Robinson and York—all at higher levels. Commemorative prices are in last week's Newsletter and recent gains will be reflected in next week's issue. Complete 144 piece commemorative sets are now priced at $4650—and the 50 piece type set (which includes the Isabella and Lafayette) were offered this week at $2325. Be very careful when buying complete sets or type sets—a few “slidders” will quickly nullify any savings over the coin-by-coin assembling of a strictly choice set. Slidders are particularly prevalent for the following issues: Isabella quarter, Lafayette dollar, Grant with star, Hawaiian, Hudson, Missouri (both types), Panama-Pacific and Vancouver.

Proof sets continue to interest some investors at today's prices—yet last week's gains failed to follow through again this week. Buyers are still convinced (and rightly so, in most cases) that they will be able to build their investment inventory at current price levels.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Very little to report—the occasional bidder still has no trouble in filling his needs. The 1960-P small date roll is now at $142.50-$147.50.

NICKELS: Warnickels register a few minor adjustments—with a BU roll set having traded this week at $750. The remainder of the Jefferson line-up is unchanged and very lightly traded.

1942S - Up $2.50; bid again at $100

1943D - Offered at $115

1944D & 1945S - Both register small gains

DIMES: Prices are evenly mixed; transactions remain scattered.

1946P & D - Both edge higher

1948P - Offered this week at a lower $77.50

1951S - Choice bank-wrapped rolls are available at $192.50

Circulated Roosevelt rolls seem of more interest than the BU versions with bids of $355 for circ roll sets proving fruitless

QUARTERS: For the Washingtons too, prices are evenly mixed—with several dates remaining on the “elusive” list.

1945D, 48D & S - All are wanted at slightly higher levels

1947S - Offered this week—at $110

1955D - Mild bidding continues—but at a lower $117.50

HALVES: The common “P” mint Walking Liberty rolls are again available around $85; minus signs outnumber the gains in the Franklin series.

1953P - Offered at a lower $157.50

1955P - Sales noted around $132.00

1956P - Constantly on want lists—now at a slightly higher $48.50

DOLLARS: Quiet reigns over both the Morgans and Peace dollars; changes are minor at the scattered sales are mostly at bid levels.

1878S & 79S - Both slip a little lower

1927P - Choice rolls are available at $430

PROOF SETS: Bidding remains fairly active; price changes, however, are small as most buyers continue to try their luck at current levels.

1955 - Now offered in flat packs at $23

1956 - Transactions registered around $8.75

1969S - Again offered in quantity at $7

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

The coming Dwight Eisenhower clad dollar piece and the coming 50c clad piece are going to stir things up in the numismatic world . . . probably much more than the average collector and coin investor realizes!

I would say that there are exciting times ahead of us. And the talking that is now going on about a possible coin honoring the Apollo 11 astronauts is not going to calm things down . . . either!! This latter coin sounds like it will be even more impressive than the Eisenhower coin. The suggested 50c piece or quarter would have the astronauts appearing on the front, and the lunar module appearing on the back. This would fit into the Commemorative category. Who knows . . . this time next year there may be a boom going on among the silver dollars, half dollars, commemoratives and proof sets . . . all because of these unusual coins!!

It is interesting to dwell on the fact that the only identifiable Republican currently on a coin is Abraham Lincoln, who appears on the penny. The time is ripe, evidently, for a coin for Ike.

The astronaut coin would be very unpolitical and if we can believe the wild receptions that are being accorded the astronauts (now on their world tour) such a coin would be bound to be very, very popular in every country in the world!! If we think the Kennedy half dollar was popular abroad wait and see what happens when we bring out this Apollo coin!!

I would believe that the demand from the rest of the world would far exceed that realized from the Kennedy mintage! Probably we would find that the market for this coin from the rest of the world would even exceed our own demand and consumption for this unusual coin!

The coin investor has to look ahead. If one waits for a coin series to advance after a special event is announced he might be disappointed. Usually a coin series will advance over a period of months in anticipation of favorable news (such as the Apollo coin and the Eisenhower coin) . . . but the actual release of the coin itself often marks the end of the important rises! Yes, the coin investor has to look ahead and in the end this amounts to some educated guessing.

The time between the advance news on these two coins and the actual mintage can be one year or two years, depending on Congress. The advance knowledge has already been given the coin investor. Now is the time to plan for the future . . . to figure out when you are going to act . . . when you are going to get into the proof set market, the half dollar market, the Commemorative market, the silver dollar market.

Now is the time to judge what effect these new coins will have on these markets in the months ahead . . . not what is going to happen AFTER they are minted and released to the world. Make no mistake the whole series will be effected by what happens to these unusual coins! Of course most of you will want to speculate a bit with the new coins themselves . . . and this is only natural . . . but don't concentrate entirely on these newsworthy issues . . . alone. Issues as unusual as these will be may never occur again in your lifetime. They can shake up the silver dollar series or the half dollar series as they have never been aroused before! For certain you can bet that the silver dollar series is going to come to life because the series itself is being reborn, so to speak . . . and that doesn't happen very often in this coin world of ours!!

COMMEMS, GOLD & COMMON SILVER HEAD BUY LIST

It's a Buyers Market on Most BU Rolls

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Gold has been fairly active throughout the week - with all denominations getting into the act. Only the double-eagles seem relatively plentiful at current levels and the "ask" for the one-dollar thru ten-dollar pieces usually manages to keep somewhat ahead of the bid. Buying for Christmas store stock evidently accounts for part of this activity - and, of course, gem type set material is always in demand. Those collectors who are assembling type sets often want choice pieces - without rubbing, bag marks, etc. and strictly choice coins bring more than the prices in our "common date gold" chart. These gem pieces, however, do not regularly find their way on to teletype selling lists simply because most dealers have over-the-counter buyers waiting for them.

And speaking of choice material, it seems that quite a number of "slider" Washington quarters are being offered as BU on the tapes. This is particularly true of late for the 34-D and 35-D - two dates which have shown substantial increases in recent weeks. The $60 bid recorded for both dates is for choice coins - and the teletype "bargains" at $50 to $55 are not bargains at all - many have been returned to the seller two or three times. By the way, we have a new term to add to our glossary - the "super slider" has now come upon the scene! In the old days, if a coin wasn't BU it was XF. Now we have XF-AU, AU, AU-UNC, slider BU, super-slider, UNC, BU and probably several more. And, for a really nice uncirculated coin one must be able to distinguish between choice, gem, choice gem, superb, superb choice gem, etc. The only problem is that in most cases when the buyer receives the coin he can't tell from looking at it which category it is supposed to fit - XF-AU or choice gem!

Buying, in general, has been rather light again this week. Several quarter and later date half dollar rolls are in mild demand - but cent, nickel and dime rolls create little activity even when offered in "bargain lots". Proof sets are in demand at current price levels but, as was mentioned last week, most buyers are still able to pick up the sets they want without offering to pay higher prices. There are few if any "hot" rolls at the moment (particularly for the after 1940 dates) and the scattered buying is random and without any discernible pattern. Each investor has his own ideas about what material is currently underpriced and each one apparently is pursuing his own way.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Very minor changes - volume remains extremely light. The 1955-S is offered by the bag at $1250.

NICKELS: A couple of rolls are bucking the trend toward lower ask levels otherwise, bargain prices abound.

1942D - Available at $250; usually a tough date to locate 1945D & S - These two edge slightly higher
1946S, 48S & 49S - All are offered at lower levels

DIMES: A few of the later Mercuries slip a dollar or so lower; Roosevelts, too, are mostly on the down side with only widely scattered sales registered.

1946D & 47D - The only two plus signs this week
1947S - Offered in quantity at $34
1953S & 54S - No longer "hot"; both slip a little lower 1955PDS - Now available at $50, $30 and $20 respectively

QUARTERS: Bid levels continue to inch forward for numerous issues; only those dates which are not in current demand are regularly offered.

1943D & 45D - Both are still on want lists
1946S & 47S - These two are now even at $107.50 ask

1949P - A real "toughie"; bid now $247.50
1951S - Also up - with bids at $185

HALVES: It's mostly plus signs for the W.L. and Franklins - with late date rolls receiving most of the action.

1943D & 44D - These two edge higher 1949D - Up $5 - with bidding noted at $285
1954S - Still higher - bid now at $36
1956P - On many want lists at a higher $49

DOLLARS: Prices are basically firm - with only an occasional small change. Circulated "cull free" bags are now bid in the $1975-$1995 range; BU common date bags are still offered at around $2350.

1878S & 79S - Both are available at lower levels
1890O - Bid moves up to $95
1898O thru 02O - Mild interest is noted.

PROOF SETS: Quantity bidding increases for most dates in the 1954-64 group - with a few very small gains recorded.

1968S - Scattered sales as high as $8.50
1969S - Still offered in quantity around $7

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

COMMON SILVER BID UP SHARPLY Proof Sets are Strong as Bids Edge Higher

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

As the price of common silver soars higher, many of the late date dimes, quarters and halves are looking mighty attractive at current prices. With dealers offering to pay as high as 37% for silver during the week, the bid was still only $7 for many BU dime rolls and $14 for many quarters and halves. This is only 40%—and pre-1963 BU rolls which can now be put away at virtually the same price as common silver certainly seem to be fairly priced! Also, it might be added that dealers are currently offering to pay 40%-41% on silver for March delivery!

There are a number of BU rolls which are particularly attractive in the 1953-60 range—dimes, quarters and halves. These are the dates which scarcity has already priced a little ahead of the 40% level but are still below double face. A quick check in your back-issue Newsletters will show which of these dates showed the best performances in mid-1968—during the last late date buying rush. The Denver dimes, for instance, of 1953, 1954, 1956, 1957 and 1958 could easily rebound to former price levels—and perhaps advance from there as the silver price advances.

In the face of all the week's action in common silver, most BU rolls have remained in the background. Some bidding, of course, has been registered—but prices for the most part have been steady or have shown only minor adjustments. One exception has been the tendency of sellers to lower ask levels even further for numerous Jefferson rolls. Buying in all areas has remained selective.

Proof sets continue to look strong—with several bids edging slightly higher again this week. Numerous buyers now want 50 to 100 each of several dates and for a change many "want lists" are going by unanswered. The 1956, 1958 and 1959 sets seem especially sought after and at current bid levels most dealers aren't selling. By the way, buying "mint sealed" sets isn't necessarily a good idea. If a dealer has a batch of mint sealed sets and finds upon opening the first half dozen that they are nearly all spotted, the tendency might be to offer the rest of them as a "mint sealed lot". Returning sets after you have opened and examined them could easily become a problem.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Trading remains extremely light and prices are nearly unchanged. Long selling lists continue to appear on a daily basis.

NICKELS: Attractive ask levels remain in effect—especially for the war-nickels and semi-key dates; buying is scattered and selective.

- 1942D - One of the scarcest Jeffersons; offered at a lower $240
- 1943D - Still fluctuating; ask is again $110
- 1948S - Now priced at $26
- 1949S - Now priced at $55
- 1951S - Now priced at $90

DIMES: Very minor changes—sales are light. The late dates are now virtually priced at the "common silver" price and wise investors should soon begin to notice these bargains.

QUARTERS: Here the late dates have already begun to respond to the higher price of "common silver" with $14 (40%) offered for almost any BU roll. Several earlier rolls remain in mild demand at current levels.

- 1949P - Bid now at a higher $250
- 1955P - Offered this week at $120
- 1958P - Sales at a slightly lower $44

HALVES: Buying has picked up—mostly for the 1956-63 dates; ten to twenty-five roll lots are wanted by some bidders.

- 1948D - Transactions noted at $72.50
- 1956P - Bid now at a higher $50
- 1957D thru 1960D - All edge slightly higher

DOLLARS: Common date circ bags are strongly bid at $2000 and the more plentiful BU rolls have started to edge forward; the tough dates are steady at current price levels.

PROOF SETS: Bidding is becoming more active—and more buyers seem to be entering the market. Several sets have moved slightly ahead and sellers are now more reluctant to list "bargain offerings".

- 1956 - Bid now at $8.75
- 1958 - Bid now at $11.75
- 1960 (sm) - Up $2.50; numerous bids at $21
- 1961, 62 & 63 - All are bid over $4
- 1969S - Sales recorded around $6.85

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

The bid for common silver has been extremely volatile—reaching as much as 37% at mid-week. Monday mornings price could be quite different—in either direction. War-nickels were bid as high as $380 per bag delivered.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

Recently the Harmer, Rooke organization (Harmer, Rooke Numismatists, Ltd., 604 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y.) announced the creation of a $75,000 electronic laboratory for the purpose of coin authentication. This is the only one of its kind with such unique scientific facilities. At present the service is not quite ready for general public use. It is a giant step in the right direction and something that we have needed for a long, long time!

On the heels of this new service is the announcement, just made by the Hi-Rel Industries, Inc., (2116 Huntington Dr.) of San Marino, California, that they too are offering a similar service to the numismatic industry! Their service is now available to all numismatists. This firm has been working on special equipment designed purposely for the making of detailed studies of coins.

The service being offered will not actually authenticate a coin, so there is a difference between this laboratory and the Harmer, Rooke laboratory. The Hi-Rel people supply answers to specific questions about coins and can determine if Mint marks or dates have been added or removed; if a coin is cast, clad, plated or otherwise tampered with. Fees for this work will probably be based on the amount of time involved for each particular case. I don't know what the Harmer, Rooke fees will be, when they open their service to the numismatic public, but the Hi-Rel schedule of fees will be relatively expensive. In other words the coin in question would have to be worth possibly several hundred dollars before it would be worth while to engage the services of these people.

Science has offered remarkable scientific techniques to the coin world for some time. I am glad to learn that such services are finally available to numismatists and coin investors. We are living in a sophisticated world and it is about time that we availed ourselves of the remarkable sophisticated equipment on hand.

Add these two services to the service now being offered by the American Numismatic Association (photo-registration of valuable coins) and we have come a long way toward making the coin collecting hobby more secure and less worrisome! Eventually ALL valuable coins will then be authenticated, registered and officially graded. Such coins will have "papers" just like a thoroughbred dog or a fine painting. These "papers" will travel WITH the coin as it passes from one owner to another over the years. And all of this data will be on file, possibly on photo-tape at some central headquarters. One will never have to worry again about a coin being improperly graded, altered, counterfeited or "hot". It will be impossible to sell a valuable coin without these papers and anyone attempting to sell stolen coins to a dealer will be in real trouble! By the same token duplicates or altered versions of rare coins will also be extremely difficult to pass on to wise dealers, investors and collectors! Of course the cheaper coins and the common coins, possibly all coins under $100, will still be sold in the same way that they are handled nowadays. The buyer will have to be wary but at least he will be protected against substantial losses when he enters into transactions that involve the rarer, expensive coins. Eventually, of course, as we start to use the computer in the coin world, there will come a time when practically all coins that are being sold (say $25 or more) will be automatically listed, registered and checked by more advanced equipment than we now have. All coins with some value will be authenticated, registered and graded properly when that time comes! Such wonderful scientific advances can only make the coin collecting hobby and investment a more beautiful place to operate in! Yes, I believe we are going to see some marvelous things happening in our hobby in the years ahead. Fabulous coin stores, new ways of displaying coins, more credit card purchases, fool-proof grading and guarantees, larger inventories, more collector-investors who will form collections for fun and profit. We will find the issuance of many new coins with new designs, all of which will startle and fascinate the collector from time to time. More of this is ahead than perhaps many of us realize!

SILVER CONTINUES TO DOMINATE TRADING

Late Date Rolls and Some Proof Sets are in Demand

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Numismatics continued to take a back-seat to common silver trading throughout another teletype week. At week's end the bid had leveled in the 38% area and the tapes were full of various arrangements concerning the sale and shipments of "junk" bags of silver. Buying and selling lists for coins—rolls or otherwise—were often ignored in favor of the current jockeying for position in common silver market.

The strongest areas (other than common silver) continue much the same as last week—late date BU rolls and some dates in the proof set line-up. As was previously pointed out, the Franklin and Washington rolls in the $15-$20 range are currently good buys and the $7-$10 Roosevelts should definitely be of interest to investors with an eye to the future. This week's plus signs are an indication that at least a few buyers have the same idea. Common date Morgan and Peace dollar rolls are also receiving some attention. The San Francisco issues (1880, 1881, 1882) seem to interest investors more than the earlier New Orleans and Philly issues. The later common date "O" mint rolls (1898 thru 1904) are keeping up with the "S" mints in popularity.

Want lists for circulated rolls are beginning to appear more frequently. Some Jeffersons are needed; dimes and quarters are the most sought after. The problem here is that bidders only offer to pay about 40% over face for the common date circ rolls they need and few dealers want to bother with such shipments when they can get 38% by dumping the rolls into common silver bags (or by not looking through the common silver in the first place). These "common date junk" rolls are going to be tough to locate a year from now. We have said before that, for instance, "S" mint dime and quarter rolls will be easy to find—but that the high mintage "P" and "D" issues will nearly all be in the melting pot.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Numerous dates have slipped another half-notch lower; sales are still difficult to make and long selling lists remain the rule.

NICKELS: A few more rolls edge lower; the "buyers market" is still in effect—most reasonable bids will get results.

1943P & S - Both are offered now at $32

1946S, 48S & 49S - All slip a dollar or so lower

DIMES: Common date "P" mint Mercuries break below $40; the Roosevelts are very lightly bid and again a few dates are offered at lower levels.

1954S - Now available at $23.50

1955S - Bid now $18; ask is $19

QUARTERS: Late date BU rolls continue to interest investors—several prices advance; circulated rolls in the 40's enjoy increased bidding. The circ roll set (1941-64) is impossible to locate at $900 bid.

1946D - Up slightly; bid $76—often quite scarce

1948S - Offered now at a lower $41

1954S - Also a little lower at $29 ask

HALVES: Most of the activity is centered around the dates after '55; bidders continue to ask for quantities of the lower priced issues.

1949S - Sales recorded at $300

1952S - Offered now at $147.50

1956P - Sales noted as high as $51

1959P - Bid moves back up to $24

DOLLARS: Very few changes—bidders still hope to pick up common date rolls at current levels (they are occasionally successful). Circ bags are still strongly bid at $2000.

1880S & 81S - Bid edges up to $49

1885S - Actively bid at current levels

1898O - Transactions noted at $62

1924P - Up $2; bid now at $62

PROOF SETS: The late dates (1961-69) slip back very slightly; the '56, '58 & '59 sets are strong at current levels.

1956 - Bid moves up to $9

1968S - Sales registered at $8.25

1969S - Sales registered at $6.75

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER
reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

PROOF SETS MOVE UP SHARPLY Roll Market More Active—but Still at Current Level

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

With the popular and currently underpriced 1958 set leading the way, proof sets are looking even stronger this week. Quantity bidding—and quantity sales—have been regularly monitored throughout the week and nearly all dates in the 1954-63 are receiving at least some of the action. The "big three" still remain 1956, 1958 and 1959—but bidders now want from one hundred to one thousand sets each of the other dates in addition. Even the special mint sets of 1965-67 are in some demand—although in the case of these "step-children" only minimum bids are being registered. The "S-mint" sets are still rather weak at current levels.

Strangely enough, the earlier sets—1941 thru 1951 are not faring as well. Lower ask levels have been noted for several issues in this group and buyers do not seem particularly interested. One problem is that experience has taught many dealers and investors that "bargain prices" in this area often mean inferior sets. Returning set after set can be time consuming and costly and by the time a dealer finds a few sets he wants to keep the whole process has cost him more than the original "ask" level anyway.

A recent "buy recommendation" (released by a leading advisory publication) on the 1936-PDS Columbia, S.C. Commemorative has led to fantastic activity this week—mostly futile attempts to buy this underpriced set. Last week's bid level was $30 per single type coin and $87.50 for the PDS set. By the end of this week bidders were offering $45 per single and up to $150 per set. Needless to say, the ask levels were keeping well ahead of the bids and sales were few and scattered. The Columbia has already proven itself to be another '21 Pilgrim. How many others—as yet undiscovered—fall into this category?

This Week's Market

CENTS: Sales, as usual, are few and far between; no date after 1934 is really elusive at this point. The 1960-P small date roll traded this week as low as $140.

NICKELS: An occasional BU Jefferson set is traded around $90; a few more small losses are scattered across the roll chart. Sales are light but several dates now seem to interest investors at current low levels.

1939S - A toughie—offered this week at $350
1955P - Still slipping; available at $32

DIMES: A BU roll set of Mercs (1940-45) is currently offered at $800 (bid is $863 by individual rolls); in the Roosevelt series the 1955's continue to slip lower—along with a few others.

1947D - Available again at $42
1951S - Offered now at a lower $182.50
1953S - Also lower; available at $19.50
1954S - Transactions noted around $22.50

QUARTERS: Interest remains high for a number of low-priced rolls (although only a few bid levels have advanced); otherwise the Washington rolls are rather quiet. BU singles pre-1941 are in considerable demand at current price levels.

1946D - Interest noted at $76.50
1954S - Sales registered at $28

1955D - Offered at a lightly lower $117.50

HALVES: A few small changes (all on the minus side) are registered for both the Walking Liberty and Franklin rolls. Buying interest still centers around the late dates at last week's prices.

1947P - Now $5 lower; offered at $205
1953P - Offered now at $155
1955P - Still edging lower—with sales at $130

DOLLARS: Prices are mixed and trading has been only moderate throughout the week. Lower priced issues still are of the most interest to investors.

1878CC - Available now at $230
1892P - Up $40; none offered to bidders at $500
1898O - Sales noted at a higher $65

PROOF SETS: Several dates are strong—with price advances to prove it.

1956 - Bid now at $9.75
1958 - Quantity sales noted as high as $13.50
1959 - Suddenly elusive at $7.25 bid
1960 (sd) - Bid moves up to $22.00

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

If you take the total paper currency in circulation this week and compare it with the amount in circulation for the same week last year you will discover something very interesting . . . providing you subtract one total from the other, get the difference, and then find out what the percentage difference is over last year. In other words how much more paper money is now in circulation . . . percentagewise . . . from last year.

You will find that your percentage figure will be close to 6¼%. Private economists are estimating that the inflation rate for the year of 1969 will run around 6½% or higher. Government surveys are claiming only 5%. I believe the amount of paper currency in circulation today is telling you the real truth! The inflation rate IS over 6% and not 5%!

All the more reason for the investor to seek out an inflation-proof investment. Inflation it seems is going to become a way of life, we may be entering a decade of inflation. The "roaring seventies" just might be roaring and soaring . . . but inflation will be roaring and soaring right along with the other developments in the economy!

We have been living with inflation since 1940. The government, the people, labor, management . . . all have learned to rely on it . . . to accept it without too much complaining as an alternative to deflation. Most people are reluctant to join in any fight against inflation. The growing inflation-dominated psychology is very deep-seated. There seems to be a paralyzing fatalism about it all. People seem to accept the idea that higher prices are inevitable . . . and of course labor has never seemed to be concerned about the dangers of inflation. Strikes and demands are to be more numerous in 1970 than in any other year for some time! Demands are being made for 15% wage hikes instead of the usual 5% and 8% increases of the past! Naturally, when labor costs go up we always find, almost immediately, that prices for the products being turned out by this same labor, are increased. Usually the price increases are larger than the wage increases granted to labor. The reason for this is that there are so many "middlemen" between the producing factory and the final retail store. Each in turn adds in their price boost . . . and this is passed along from one wholesaler and supplier and fabricator to another until the retail store finally gets the final wholesale list price. And when labor gets a raise in the producing factory it isn't long before all of the smaller firms that supply this producing factory with parts, chemicals, oils, fuel, material have to satisfy labor demands for higher wages . . . and their labor costs go up too. Then this has to be passed along to the main producing factory in this particular example. And so it goes . . . on and on . . . multiplying the original cost hike by many times what should be expected . . . but that is the way it is finally resolved!

Actually there is no mystery about inflation. Inflation is an increase in the quantity of money and credit, and the government is partly responsible for this increase. By fiscal and monetary policy, and I mean strict adherence to strong measures, plus controls over management and labor, the government could stop inflation at any time it so desired!

Giving away much of our money in foreign aid would have to be stopped . . . completely . . . not just partly. Sad to say, our policy of foreign aid, our generosity, has helped to subsidize Communism and Socialism. Exploding wages and then exploding prices would have to be controlled for periods until there was a cool-off. This would be wage and price controls . . . strong measures . . . but strangely enough many people today are asking that these controls be applied.

Because it does not appear that any of these measures will be taken . . . inflation will continue. Therefore there is a grave need for the average man to have a form of investment that is inflation-proof . . . one that will allow his savings to multiply faster than inflation! This, I believe, can be accomplished today by becoming a collector-investor and investing in a collection of the finer, older mature coins. Or several collections! One can have the enjoyment of the hobby itself while holding this material for eventual appreciation!

Proof Sets & Commems are Still in Considerable Demand

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Proof sets have registered even further advances this week and numerous bidders are still in the market for substantial quantities of most dates from 1956 up. Sales of one hundred set lots of various dates have been frequent and the "floating supply" of a number of issues seems to have already been cornered. As predicted, those sets which were offered only a few short weeks ago at real bargain levels are no longer on the market. In early October a bid of $12 for 1958 sets would have been considered "reasonable" and would have gotten fairly quick results. This week bidders were having a difficult time filling their needs at $14. A month ago, "over the phone" transactions around $7.50 were negotiated for the 1956 set—this week $10 bids went by unanswered.

Some later dates in the proof set line-up have yet to come in to favor—but the buyers will get around to them! Sets to watch at current levels are 1953, 1954, 1955, 1957 and 1960. Pre-1953 sets are also currently priced at attractive levels—but investors in the past have concentrated on the sets which are more easily available in quantity and chances are that this trend will continue. True, a "push" could develop (as they have in previous years) for the 1950 or 1951 or 1952—but quality as well as quantity is a problem in this area.

The 1969-S set has received more bids this week than in any week in the past several months. Apparently dealers and investors feel that the current price is the "bottom". Bids (and sales) as high as $7 were recorded during the week—with the "ask" moving up to $7.25. Buyers are in the market for fifty to two hundred or more sets and although most orders were filled rather quickly around the $7 level it is again possible that the "floating supply" could be removed from the market place and that the next plateau could be in the $8-$9 range. The 1968-S set, strangely enough, has failed to get in on the action as yet. At this rate, the two "S" mint sets will soon be priced at the same level—which is reasonable when you think about it!

This Week's Market

CENTS: Lincolns, as usual, are basically unchanged; numerous "bargain lots" are available at "bid plus postage". The 1960-P small date roll is still weak at the new lower ask level of $142.50.

NICKELS: There is an occasional "plus" scattered among the minus signs this week; selective (and rather quiet) buying is noted for several issues.

- 1938P & D (J) - These two edge lower
- 1946S - Mild demand continues—bid $24
- 1951D - Sales registered at $21
- 1955P - Still lower—with choice rolls offered at $31

DIMES: Mercury rolls are unchanged—and virtually untraded; a few more dips are recorded in the Roosevelt series (BU sets are now available at around $43).

- 1950P & D - Both slip slightly lower
- 1953P & D - Both are now offered at $18.50
- 1957D - Seldom available to bidders at $12.50

QUARTERS: Though the late dates are now quiet at current levels, several of the more elusive early dates register small gains.

- 1939D - Up $5; bid now $205
- 1941S - Also up—with bids noted at $190
- 1942D, 46D & 48D - All three edge higher

HALVES: Several rolls in the Franklin series continue to lose ground—led by the high-powered 49's. Buying remains quite scattered.

- 1949P - Offered now at $350
- 1949D - Offered now at $290

1949S - Offered now at $295

1955P - Transactions noted at a lower $127.50

DOLLARS: Circ bags continue to elude buyers at $2000 bid; BU rolls are relatively quiet and only a few price changes have been noted.

- 1878CC - Now available at $225
- 1892O - A sharp drop; several rolls are offered now at $325
- 1924P - Considerable interest at $67 bid

PROOF SETS: Buying continues—with bid prices again on the up side.

- 1956 - Bid as high as $10.25
- 1957 & 1960 - Both register sales at $6
- 1958 - Bid as high as $14
- 1969S - Considerably more interest; sales at $7

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

Numerous Morgan & Peace Issues Elude Bidders; Proof Sets Active

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Silver dollars have moved into the spotlight this week. Several strong bidders have been attempting to fill investors' orders and replenish their depleted retail stock—and, in the case of numerous scarce issues, higher bids have failed to produce much in the way of results. Any BU Morgan roll is now bid at $48 (Peace dollar common dates are bid at $47)—few sellers have come forward to these bid levels. The relatively common rolls in the $50-$80 range (79-P, 80-O, 82-P, 90-P, 97-P, etc.) are suddenly priced somewhat ahead of the current "ask"; the real toughies, for the most part, aren't offered at all. In recent weeks, for instance, the 1892-P BU single has moved from about $17 bid to this week's $30—virtually none are offered for sale.

An interesting sidelight is that current retail ads still list the 1892-P dollar in BU condition for $15-$17 (and occasionally even less). If the dealers actually can supply such coins, why don't they sell them to the numerous other dealers who are willing to pay $30! Obviously the collector who orders the 1892-P at this price (or any of the numerous other dates which are offered for 50% to 75% of current "bid") is going to get a "slider" at best—probably an XF-AU polished coin. Often the collector will not realize what has taken place until he attempts to sell his coins. Then numismatics may well have lost another enthusiast! This process, in the long run, certainly cannot be of any benefit—even to the dealers who have passed off the "slider" as BU.

Proof sets have continued along on their pre-holiday fling—with further small advances recorded and large quantities still appearing on a number of "want lists". A few dealers are even adding the 1964 set to their buying lists—with sales noted this week as high as $7.10 in lots of one hundred sets. The 69-S set is still in some demand although it still doesn't take much effort to locate virtually any quantity. Quantity bidding has begun to include 1955, 1954 and 1953—all, however, still at current bid levels. Picking up one hundred or more of these three issues is not nearly so easy as locating that many of any date after 1955. (The 1953 is particularly attractive at today's price.)

This Week's Market

CENTS: Lincolns remain in the doldrums; an occasional bidder needs "store stock" but very few investors are in the buying mood (some interest is noted for the 47-S).

NICKELS: A few more minor losses—most dates are fairly steady at today's levels.

1942P (t 2) - Offered at a lower $180
1950D - Transactions at a higher $375

DIMES: A couple of small gains have been registered by the Roosevelts; Mercuries are quiet except for mild interest in some of the pre-1941 rolls.
1937S & 1939D - Both are bid slightly higher 1950S & 1951S - These two are also up a little 1955D - Still slipping—with rolls now available at $28

QUARTERS: Prices are lightly mixed; various issues are recording some dealer and investor attention—but no buying pattern is readily discernible.
1943P thru 45P - These three edge lower 1948D - Now elusive at $70 bid
1954S - Sales noted at $28.50

HALVES: Both the Walking Liberties and Franklins seem to have leveled at current prices—at least for the present; buying, however, remains quite scattered.

1941S - Very difficult to locate at $460 bid
1955P - Offered at a lower $127.50

DOLLARS: Here we have a rather substantial number of plus signs; both common date and elusive Morgan and Peace—are in demand.

1880O - Bid moves up to $82.50
1884CC - Transactions noted at $590
1885S - Bid moves up to $195
1890O - None offered to bidders at $100
1892P - Still practically impossible at $550 bid
1898O & 1904O - Both experience considerable demand
1922S & 23S - Both are now bid at $82.50

PROOF SETS: Buying continues—with large quantities of most of the later issues still appearing on "want lists"; several prices inch forward.

1958 - Sales as high as $14.75
1959 - Sales as high as $8.25
1964 - Getting on the band wagon at $7 bid

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

A 1794 silver dollar was sold at the Westchester County Center in White Plains, New York for $16,500. The valuable dollar piece went to a New Jersey coin dealer.

Only 1,794 of this date were minted and at present it is estimated that there are only about ten in mint condition. It would be interesting to learn just how many were kept in uncirculated condition way, way back in that year of 1794. Even more interesting would it be if we could follow such an issue down through the years . . . to find out how many of these uncirculated copies were to be swallowed up by collections . . . to find out how many were destroyed in fires and floods . . . to find out how many were lost . . . to find out how many accidentally went back into circulation. It would be fascinating to try to ascertain just how long a coin of this kind would stay within a collection and how many people would own this particular collection. Do some of the collections stay in a family . . . are they passed along from family to family, from generation to generation? How many collections are broken up and the coins sold or disposed of singly?

My present CIC Poll is attempting to find out how many uncirculated coins are put aside each year. As we are doing this NOW . . . many years after the issuance . . . we are finding out indirectly what the depletion rate is over the years . . . and of course the poll is telling us what percentage of the total mintage for a rare issue was actually put aside in uncirculated condition! The Poll digs into the buying habits of the collectors. We are finding out how many collectors want the particular issue we are studying . . . how many actually intend to buy one someday. Therefore, we know how many have been put aside in uncirculated . . . or rather . . . how many are still being held by individuals in uncirculated . . . today. And we know what the interest is . . . what the demand will be . . . for the coin . . . in the tomorrows to come. Putting two and two together we come up with a plain and simple answer. It isn't hard to take a rare coin and with such figures arrive at a date in the future when ALL copies for this particular mintage will be taken up by the collectors.

When a coin issue arrives at this stage of its maturity then the only coins that are going to be available . . . are going to appear on the market . . . will be those that are coming from estates or from collections that are being broken up and sold at auctions (for financial reasons . . . possibly). When this happens anyone with an investment in such a coin area is going to be in a fortunate position.

This is the reason why a 1794 silver dollar can be sold for $16,500. "Availability" is the reason. None are readily available on the numismatic market scene.

The 1968 Red book listed this coin at $12,500 in uncirculated. In the 1954-55 issue of the Red book the 1794 silver dollar is listed at $2000!

This is roughly an increase of 700% . . . in value . . . over a span of 14 years. Breaking this down into yearly units of gain we arrive at a figure of 50% for each year in this span of time! This is an interesting example because it concerns a very rare issue that had already reached the two thousand dollar mark in 1954 and one would have expected a "peaking" . . . or a leveling off to more conservative yields . . . at that stage of maturity.

It does show the potential in the very, very old coins . . . the rarities. For a certain type of coin investor, who is not afraid to put out $2,000 or more for a SINGLE coin, this is a most unusual area for coin investing . . . and probably the safest investment we can find in these troublesome times of inflation!

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Even though small losses continue to appear across the charts, buying interest seems to be on the upswing. As has been pointed before, when prices fall to certain levels there will suddenly be a new group of investors showing interest. At the present time many BU rolls are selling for less than they were in 1963—before the advent of teletype circuits and the big push. These low prices are now beginning to look very good to many of those investors who were buying for approximately the same prices in 1963.

Take the 1955-S dime roll as an example. Pre-teletype prices early in 1963 were $20 per roll—not a bad price for such a popular (even if plentiful) roll. A few months after the teletype was in action, sales of 55-S rolls were recorded as high as $60. Today buyers are none too anxious at $17-$18. However, scattered investors do see the possibilities here—and with many similar situations—and a considerable amount of quiet buying is going on. There is actually quite a list of rolls which are currently priced very attractively—semi-key, lower mintage issues which are or soon will be ripe for promotion. One should not forget that it is only the relatively plentiful roll which gets the promotion—there is little object in dealers promoting a roll which they can't deal with in at least a fair quantity.

Jeffersons, by the way, head the list of series which are ready for some real activity. There are several rather elusive dates in this series and several low mintage, semi-key issues which have been extremely popular in the past. The series is subject to a design change; it has been overlooked for two or three years now in favor of silver coins. Although it may not look likely now the present furor over silver coins, silver bars, etc. will subside and again nickels will take the spotlight. If a design change were to be announced in 1970, how many dealers would have even a moderate stock of the currently unwanted Jeffersons? The investors who are buying now would, for a change, be in the drivers seat!

This Week's Market

CENTS: Except for the 47-S—which seems to be on the move once again (bid now $15)—nothing much is new in the Lincoln line-up; a few more lower ask levels are again registered.

NICKELS: Prices are mixed this week—with a noticeable increase in investor interest for a few dates (still mostly at current bid levels).

1942P (t2) - Offered at a still lower $170
1942S & 1944D - Both edge a little higher 1951D - Now difficult to locate at $23 bid
1955P - Sales recorded around $29

DIMES: Very slight changes for the Mercuries and Roosevelts—and only lightly scattered transactions have been registered.

1954S - Sales noted at $21.50
1955D - Still lower—with rolls offered at $27
1955S - Sales noted at $17
1957D - This one moves back up to $14 bid

QUARTERS: Still only mild buying interest for scattered dates; several earlier "P" mint rolls are now available in quantity.

1939P - Offered at $115
1940P - Offered at $150
1941P - Offered at $41
1955D - Sales are registered at $115

HALVES: Action remains limited to an occasional transaction of "store stock" items; few bids are noted although most prices seem firm at current levels.

1946D & 1953S - These two advance slightly
1956P - Sales noted at $51
1959D - Offered now at a lower $26.50

DOLLARS: Many seldom offered rolls have appeared on the tapes this week—but most of the activity is still concentrated around the lower priced issues.

1878 (8 tf) - Available now at $175
1886S - Bid moves up to $560
1890P, CC & O - All three register gains
1892O - Available now at $325
1922S & 1923S - Still advancing; bid now $85

PROOF SETS: Although there are additional gains this week, activity seems to have lessened somewhat—except, perhaps, for the "big three":

1956 - Bid $10.50; sales as high as $11
1958 - Bid $14.75; a few sales at $15
1959 - Bid $8.25; a few sales at $8.50

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

CANADIANS: Prices are unchanged—and can be found this week on Page Five.

The bid for common silver reached 36¢ by mid-week, however, the silver spot price was very volatile on Thursday and Friday and bidders were reluctant to offer over 25¢ for silver bags. (Wartime nickels had reached as much as $3.95 by mid-week.)

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

Numerous Early Rolls Are Offered For Sale

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

Pre-Christmas selling seems to have been the rule this week—and a number of interesting and seldom offered early rolls have entered the marketplace. It is usually at this time of year—or at “tax time”—that investors and dealers dig into their vaults and come up with a number of better items with which to raise cash. The investor who is on his toes can often pick up some bargains—rolls or singles which are attractively priced for only a short while. Take the 1939-P quarter roll for instance. Currently this roll is available in the $100-$105 range and several rolls are for sale by one dealer. This is the same price as the 1946-S roll and no comparison of scarcity is really necessary. The same “good buy” status applies to the 1940-P roll at $125-$130—this is a roll which was once very difficult to find at $250 bid and which even now is only occasionally offered. Close watch of the tele-types will reveal several other similar attractive offerings. It should be remembered that it takes only mild buying pressure at a future date to push this relatively scarce material back up to former prices.

One or two dealers are currently offering to sell choice Buffalo nickel rolls in the late 30's—also at what can be considered rock-bottom levels. It seems that $80 is “bottom”—and has been for some time now—for any BU Buffalo roll. The most plentiful dates are the 1938-D, of course, and 1937-D. These two dates are most often used for “type”—with the 38-D being the most popular because of the many really gem rolls which were saved. As a matter of fact, circ rolls of 38-D's are considerably more scarce than any of the other late dates (except perhaps the 37-S) because a relatively small percentage of the mintage was circulated in the first place. The better buys in the Buffalo rolls would seem to be—at current prices—1937-S, 1936-D & S, and 1935-PDS. Pre-1935 rolls are tough to locate (and the Denver issues are often very poorly struck). This is not the type of material geared to a fast turnover—but rather the type which should be selectively put away by long term investors who are really interested in holding coins which will steadily increase in value through the years.

Activity, by the way, for later BU rolls, proof sets, etc. has been moderate at best throughout the week. More small losses have been registered than small gains and only selective buying is recorded. Obviously when selling better rolls to raise cash, dealers are not going to be buying much in the way of later material.

This Week's Market

CENTS: The 1947-S roll has been bid as high as $20 this week—on one tape (rolls are still available on the other at lower levels); prices for the remainder of the series are nearly unchanged. The '60-P small date roll was traded during the week at $135.

NICKELS: Only the elusive 1951-D roll is strong (sales as high as $26); most other dates are easily located at current prices.

1938D (J) - Offered now at $160

1938S - Offered now at $177.50

1942P (t2) - Also lower; available at $165

1950D - An occasional transaction in the current $360-$375 range

DIMES: Several earlier Mercury rolls have come upon the market (37-S, 38-PDS, 39-PDS); the Roosevelt series is extremely quiet—although BU sets have advanced slightly to $44 bid.

1938P - Available at a lower $110

1938S - Available at a lower $215

1957D - Very few are offered to bidders at $14

QUARTERS: Several long buying lists are appearing frequently—with all bid prices within current ranges; sales are light and scattered.

1939P, 40P & 41P - All are available in quantity at lower prices

1946D - Rather popular—and bid at a slightly higher $78

1955D - Further sales at $115

HALVES: Mild bidding is being registered for numerous dates in the Franklin line-up—but bidders feel confident that they can locate the rolls they need at or near “bid”. A BU roll set is offered at $2850.

1949D - Sales noted at $285

1951S - Lower; ask now $132.50

1955P - Still slipping—with choice rolls available at $125

1956P & 1957P - Both advance slightly

DOLLARS: Recent activity has subsided somewhat; prices are mixed and volume is light.

1878 (8tf) - Sales at a higher $170

1878 (7/8tf) - Also higher—with bids at $237.50

1889O - Offered at a lower $230

1899P - Low mintage date; available now at $390

PROOF SETS: Although several buyers are still in the market (particularly for '55 thru '60 sets)—prices seem stuck at last week's levels. The rise of the '64 set was shortlived.

1955 - Transactions at $22

1961, 62 & 63 - All are slightly lower

1964 - Offered again at $7.10

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Where an item has no price entered, there was no offer to buy or sell outstanding as of the close of business, even though transactions may have occurred earlier in the week. This leaves you with a picture of the market as it actually stood at the close of business on Friday afternoon.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.

GEORGE W. HAYLINGS

It is to be hoped that the current inflationary forces will be brought under control without generating a serious depression in 1970. However, it just might take at least a recession to stop the upward climb of all prices! The government doesn't want to use price and wage controls so it appears that there is only one measure left . . . the "recession" measure. Our last bout with inflation was cured when a recession was artificially brought about by a credit crunch. Perhaps the same thing will happen again.

1970 may be an uncertain year for the economy but the coming decade will eventually see big gains . . . and that goes for the coin world, particularly! There will be fatter paychecks in the coming ten years. Less of these pay checks will be used for food and clothing. There will be the greatest boom in home building that this country has ever seen. The war will be slowly brought to a conclusion in this new decade. There will be some troops there (Korean style) and our airforce will continue to help the Vietnam people to hold the line but for the most part the war will be over for us. Most experts predict that as all of this comes about we will see the economy exceed $2 trillion by 1982 and that the Dow Jones industrial average will triple its current level. As early as 1975 stock prices could double. A record demand for the older, rarer coins could be the hallmark of the 1970's! The boom that will come to the coin collecting hobby in this decade will be unbelievable to most newcomers but not too surprising to some of us who have been through coin boom before!

There will be fantastic increases in value for the very old material. The younger uncirculated rolls and proof sets will be attaining some maturity in these coming ten years. Watch many of the popular rolls scoot up the price ladder again, this time to climb much higher than the rungs they attained at top of the climb in 1964.

Yes, there will be some very good years in the 1970's. The 70's seem to be endowed with an above-average potential. Real growth in the coin collecting hobby and coin investment will be impressive, even after an allowance for the erosion of inflation. I believe that the outlook for the coin industry has never been brighter. As I have pointed out in previous articles, so many new coins are being talked about at this time. If the Mints turn out just HALF of those proposed this hobby can turn into the most exciting, profitable hobby in existence!

Yes, there is the potential for substantial growth. The quality of coin collecting and coin investing will improve as will the quality of our daily lives. The CIC Poll is revealing that the older, rarer single coins are in short supply. Increased demand from new collectors in this coming decade will produce great shortages and great price leaps. Those investing in coin collections will find this rarer, finer material to be the best investment in the country!

Of course there will be the speculators who will still dream of getting rich quick and this will not be the way to do it. Coin investing will produce well ONLY for the long term holder. Much will depend on the coin broker or coin dealer that the new collector-investor selects. If he is to build a collection or portfolio of really good material that WILL appreciate steadily year after year . . . he will HAVE to be extremely careful in his selecting. He will have to size up a half a dozen dealers or brokers. Avoid the hard-sell type and look for the genuine type who will teach at the same time he is selling. Any seller who promises large returns on material that is to be held for the short-term . . . should be avoided. The newcomer should carefully evaluate the past performance and to seek out reasons for the large gains of the past and reasons for this trend to continue. Investing in coins requires an absolute necessity for patience. The record in the past has been sensational for all types of coin investing . . . particularly for those who have faith in the growth of the country and all hobbies . . . and who have resisted the impulse to liquidate at the first sign of market declines. Coins, as with stocks, bonds and real estate, can drop sharply and come under unwarranted attack from many sources. This is what happened to the hobby when the government blamed the coin shortage on our coin industry! Performance has shown great extremes during the past ten years for all investments . . . and the coin investment has been no exception. Gains and drops have been spectacular but the investor who takes a long term view and ignores the short term swings should be well rewarded!

CHRISTMAS BUYING DOMINATES MARKET

This is The Last Issue For 1969—Happy Holidays!

The Market in Depth

ALLEN HARRIMAN

The BU roll market this week was practically at a standstill—and most price changes were merely the result of dealers trying to move a little material. Numerous ask levels were lowered by a dollar or so and many "special" and "lot prices" were noted. Buyers, however were unimpressed for the most part—probably having other things on their mind with the holidays fast approaching. Many of these buyers were in the numismatic market however. Dealer "want lists"—mostly requesting air mail delivery so as to arrive before Christmas—included type coins, complete Roosevelt dime sets in albums, various specific singles, etc. This type of buying is typical during these last two weeks before Christmas, of course—and in the last few years the teletype circuits have proven to be mighty helpful to those shoppers who tell their dealers what they want and can give him a few days in which to locate it.

Commemoratives have continued to be another area of buying and the usual number of small gains was recorded again this week. Many issues are quite difficult to locate at current prices—especially in choice condition. Most comms are "uncirculated" in the sense that they were never "spent". However, quite a percentage were improperly preserved and have been badly cleaned from time to time. Really choice pieces are often the exception for certain issues. Take the 1892 or 1893 Columbian, for example, which is the most common commemorative (except for the BTW and W-C issues of the 40's and 50's). A gem BU Columbian is a hard coin to find. At a recent convention a superb 1892 specimen was priced at $30 and the dealer seemed to have confidence that a "fussy customer" would eventually wander by.

Proof sets, by the way, were obviously included among the victims of "Christmas selling". True, single over-the-counter sales were probably up—but the larger lots which were offered this week were not generating very much enthusiasm. Some buyers, of course, are in the market. However, a reduction in ask levels most likely isn't an unhappy situation to an investor who wants a couple hundred sets.

As has been the custom of the Newsletter, there will be no issue next week. The next issue will be dated Friday, January 2, 1970.

This Week's Market

CENTS: Further sales on one teletype circuit of the 47-S roll at $20 (this roll is still occasionally offered on the other circuit as $14 or so); very little action, as usual, for other dates in the series—although one dealer is offering $1100 for a BU bag of 1955-S's.

NICKELS: The 1951-D roll, still moving up, recorded sales as high as $30 (up from the $20 level registered a couple of weeks back); other dates remain soft—with a BU roll set of Wartime nickels available around $730.

DIMES: Both common date Mercury and numerous Roosevelt rolls slip a little lower in continued "Christmas selling".

1946S, 47S, & 48S - All three edge lower

1953S - Offered now at $18

1954S - Offered now at $21.50

1955D - Offered now at $25

QUARTERS: Also a few minus signs here—although, with quarter rolls, dealers are a bit more firm with their asking prices.

1947S - A few rolls are available at $105

1948S - Ditto—at $39

1954S - Some interest noted at $27.50

HALVES: A couple of small gains are recorded—but, for the most part, both W.L. and Franklin rolls continue in their rather weak position.

1941D - Offered now at $177.50

1944D - This one is tough at $114.50 bid

1946D & 47P - Both edge lower

1950P - Offered now at $195

1953P - A transaction or two around $150

DOLLARS: Scattered singles—mostly in gem BU condition—appear on various "want lists", quiet prevails for most rolls.

1883S - This one is up; bid now $550

1892P - Finally a roll or two is available—at $600

1899P - Offered at a lower $375

PROOF SETS: Nearly a complete string of minus signs; recent buying has subsided and most sets now go unsold unless real bargains are offered. Mild interest is noted at current levels for the 1953, 1955, 1956, 1958 and 1959 sets.

GOLD: The following prices are for circulated (XF or better) and BU common date gold pieces. Better dates and gem uncirculated specimens bring proportionately more.

THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER reports the national coin market as it closed Friday afternoon. Under the present system, it is impossible to monitor all transactions or offers to buy and sell, but the broad information sources of the Newsletter make it a very accurate reflection of the market.

INVESTORS NOTE: the prices in the Newsletter are from dealer-to-dealer transactions. As an investor, you may place your buy and sell orders through a dealer for a fee, as you would buy stock through a broker.

HOW TO USE THE COIN DEALER NEWSLETTER

BID columns show the highest price at which dealers are offering to buy.

ASK columns show the lowest price at which dealers are offering to sell.

Most prices on lower priced rolls are in bag lots.

Mintages are shown in millions.
